CARLISLE, PA. WEDNESDAY JAN. 19, 1859.

To Readers and Correspondents. On our first page will be found a series of "Sonnets," from the pen of a gentleman who has already won a place in American literature." Why the author calls them "imperfect" we cannot conceive; for, in our opinion, they are exceedingly beautiful Major Eas has just cause to be proud of his former successes in The molitical line but it strikes us that the present productions are equal, if not superior, to any of his earlier efforts.

. The "Eetter from an Iceberg," was intended for the Herald of last week, but was unfortunately "ruled out" by the Governor's Message.

Much as we value a communication from the graceful pen of luenenc, a visit would have heen doubly prized. In the first place she would come illumined with the genial smiles 'of "S," and in the second, we houldhave enjoyed the opportunity of seeing an Iceberg in propria persone, without the risk of a trip to the Arctic regions.

In "the Bereaved Husband," many of our readers will recognize an allusion to the recont death of an estimable lady of this place. "A new story of an old stile," is a delightful sketch, and the Ladies column is filled with a choice selection of useful and interesting matter.

On our fourth page will be found a very interesting letter on the cultivation of the Chinese sugar cane. This subject has awakened so much attention among Agriculturalists that we are anxious o place before them everything in regard to it, of a reliable nature

CONGRESSIONAL. Monday Jan. 10, In the U. S. Senale, Mr. Douglas took his seat for the first time this session, and there was a slight attempt at ap-plause in the galleries. The French Spoliation bill was taken up, and Mr. Philips resumed his speech against it. The Pacific Railroad bill passed finally.

In the House, Mr. Barksdale, of Miss, fered a resolution, which was adopted, calling for the correspondence with the English and French governments respecting the cession of Cuba to the United States, Mr. Harris, of Md., was refused leave to introduce a joint resolution requesting the President to interpose in the Mortara case. The House then went into committee on the Indian Appropriation bill, and Mr. Blair offered an amendment which was modified and adopted, to prevent the giving of arms and aniunition to the Indians under the government auspices. The bill was then laid aside, to be reported to the House, and the committee resumed the debate on the President's Message. Subsequently the Indian Appropriation bill passed committee, was reported to the House, and passed finally.

Tuesday Jan. 11. In the U. S. Senate the committee on Foreign Affairs reported a bill authorizing the President to-use the land and naval forces in certain cases. The Pacific Railr oad bill was then taken up, and Mr. Gwin expressed the hope that the final vote would be taken on Thursday. Mr. Wilson delivered a speech on the subject.

Mr. Davis offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling for information relative to the outrages committed on American citizens in the Isthmus of Panama.

In the House, Mr. Ilill, of Georgia, was refused leave to offer a joint resolution declaring that no new State ought to be admitted into the Union until it is ascertained, by a census, that it has sufficient population for a member of the House, according to the federal ratio. The House then took up the resolution reported at the last session from the Committee on Foreigh Affairs, disapproving of the act of Commodore Paulding in the seizure of General Walker and his followers, but recommending that no action should be taken. A motion to lay the resolution on the table was rejected.

An amendment declaring the Capture of General Walker, within the instructions of Commodore Paulding but without authority of law was rejected. A substitute for the report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, tendering thanks to Commodore Paulding and his officers, were adopted, after which the whole subject was laid on the table.

Mr. Sidell introduced into the U. S. Senate, on Monday, a bill appropriating thirty mitlions of dollars, to be used by the President in the negotiations for the purchase of Cuba.

Wednesday Jan. 12 In the U. S. Senate a message was received from the President, in reply to Seward's resolution, informing Congress that the yacht Wanderer had landed a cargo of Africans in Georgia, and that every effort is being made to bring the guilty parties to justice, but that it is not expedient now to disclose the correspondence on the subject The Naval Committee reported a resolution authorizing the President to appoint Commo dore Stewart sonior flag officer of the navy, on the active list. A bill to increase the pay of the Minister to France was rejected by ayes 9, noes 28. The Committee on Printing reported against printing numerous documents -a very wholesome indication. The Pacific Railroad bill was then taken up, and the Senate proceeded to vote on the amendments. The discussion was continued at great length on the motion to recommit, which was finally re-

In the House, Mr. Stephens vainly endeavored to report the Oregon bill at once. Mr. Morgan. of New York, objected, and would not be quieted. A debate arose on the question of referring the Naval appropriation bill to the Committee on Naval Affairs. Thursday Jan. 18. In the United States Senate, Mr. Seward introduced a bill to amend the existing acts on the slave trade, which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary. Mr. Simmons, of Rhode Island, introduced a resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury to prepare a plan for raising the revenue to a sum adequate to meet the ordinary expenses of the government, by the imposition of specific instead of ad valorem duties; also, to supply a schedule containing all needful information on the subject of specific duties. The joint resolution from the Committee on the Argentine Confederation, Costa Rica and Honduras, was taken up and passed. Mr. Houston, of Texas, then again made a valedic? tory speech; relating to his retirement from the Senate, his advocacy of the Union, etc., · Mr. Iverson, of Georgia, apologized for his own remarks concerning Mr. Houston. Mr. Ward endeavored to show that Texas was for disunion. A discursive gebate on the Pacific Railroad bill ensued, after which the Senate went into executive session, and then adjourn-

In the House, on motion of Mr. Curry, of Alabama, it was resolved that the Secretary of the Navy furnish the number of chaplains officiating in the navy, the religious denominations to which they belong, whether the ch mlains are required to wear gowns, whether any particular form of divine service is requir-

and the first the state of the ed, and whether the Episcopal Litany is the only one used. On motion of Mr. Houston, of Alabama, the Committee on the Judiciary were authorized to send for persons and papers, and examine witnesses under oath in reation to the charges against Judge Irvin, of he Western District of Pennsylvania. Mr. Underwood, of Kentucky, asked leave to inroduce a bill for the construction of a railroad from the Gulf of Mexico to the Pacific Ocean. Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, objected, insisting on the regular order of business; his design, being by this means to have an opportunity to report the Oregon bill. The controversy relative to the reference of the Naval . Appro priation bill, was ended by sending it to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Friday Jan. 14. In the U. S. Senate, a reso lution was adopted to pay $150 for funeral expenses, and one quarter's salary of Mr. lorton decensed, a furnace keeper. A resolution was also carried, giving Captain Hart stein $2,000 for expenses in the case of the British barque Resolute. The Pacific Railroad bill was taken up, and Mr. Bigler's amendment to limit the route between the 87th and 43d paraiells of latitude was lost. Mr. Wilson's substitute, authorizing the President and Schale to appoint engineers to locate the route was lost. The debate on the bill continued all day. An amendment was offered by Mr. Doolittle and adopted, providing that any contract made by the President shall be submitted to Congress, and take effect only by oint resolution. A motion to recommit the

FOR THE CARLISLE HERALD SUGGESTIONS BY A CORRESPONDENT. THE MILITIA .- The Legislature, for some years back, has operated unfavorably to the military spirit throughout the State. Everything depends on Organization and discipline in time of war; and this is not to be accommon in time of war; and this is not to be necom-plished in a day or a year. The mittin train-ing of former years was ridiculed and laughed at as a burlesque; but still it had the offect of sustaining the volunteer force and keeping up a military spirit; while the great number eurolled gave a confidence in our resources in any emergency. The objection was not to the organization and enrolling, but to the attempt organization and earolling, but to the attempt at military evolutions, which often ended in folly, and was generally accompanied by dis-

Omnibus bills, embracing matters and things totally dissimilar, and uncongened, are blended together, and hurried through both bodies to the great injury of the public. One of the best acts of a late Governor was reproving such Legislation, by declaring his determination to veto every bill of the kind.

The bills recently returned by Governor Packer were sustained by only half a dozen you's against the veto, showing how incomputes the veto, and we would be relieved for at least one year, from any affixiety about the danger of their altering well established principles and laws, which sometimes find Mr. McCurdy is on the Committee of lished principles and laws, which sometimes 2,400,000.
