ST. PATRICK'S DAX. "Whon Irish hills were fair and green, And Irish fields were white with daisles, And harvests golden and serenc, Slept in the lazy summer hazes;

When bards went singing through the land, Their grand old sough of knightly story; And hearts were found in every hand, And all was peace, and love, and glory.

Twas in the happy; happy days;

Whon every passant lived in clover,

When every peasant lived in clover, And in the pleasant woodland ways. met-the-begging-re "Near all was honest, large and true,

And naught was hollow or theatric; 'Twas in the days of golden hue, That Iroland know the great St. Patrick." "History" and "Common Fame" it is generally conceded, are, and have been, the great. est liars in the world; but notwithstanding this admitted, fact, we shall attempt giving an historical sketch (true as a matter of course) of the great, distinguished, beloved and departed saint, whose name captions the present article. St. Patrick was not a native of Ireland, nor was he born in Scotland as many suppose, but he first saw light in the neighborhood of Boulogne, in the year 687, he was taken prisoner by the Irish Monarch Nial, of the Nine Hostages, in 403, when only 16 years old; that powerful Hibernian, ravaging the maratime districts of Gaul, at that period; on arriving in Ireland, he was, with other prisoners, sold as a slave and carried into that section of the country, now known as Antrim. There, his duty was the humble one of tending sheep; and this quiet and solitary occupation, giving him a capital opportunity to think, he formed pians for future action. At last he succeeded in escaping to Gaul, and reached once more his boylood's home. His friends and relatives as a matter of course, were delighted to see "charming Patrick," and he was placed in the college of Tours, where he studied divinity and finally became a Priest. "Patricious, did not fancy the cloister however, but resolved to return to the country of his captivity, and preach to the heathen, who darkened that beautiful land. Ho-landed in Dublin, about 423 and started at once for the region where he had so long lived as a shepherd. He had followers with him, and his party were attacked by a chieftain named Dicho, as they were travelling to the interior, being mistaken for a band of pirates. But St. Patrick returned good for evil, and made Dicho one of his first converts, so that instead of being put to death by him, he became one of his warmest friends and most zealous co-operators in spreading Christianity abroad.

The Saint celebrated divine worship first, in a barn called Subbal Padruc,"or Patrick's Barn; and finally lighted fires on Tara Hill, in honor of Easter festival; and they blazed - too in the very eyes of the princes and chieftains among whom was King Lugaire. Great was the astonishment of the nobles on seeing this fire sporting up to the Heavens, in sight of the Halls of Tara, and the Saint was summoned to the presence of Lugaire but addressed him so eloquently and ably on the subject of true religion that although almost persuaded to yield to his delief, he did not quite surrender. He gave him permission to preach however, and the result was that he built a church, on the very spot which had before been devoted to the sacrifices of the Druidi v1 God, Crum Cruach. Success continued to t low the footsteps of St. Patrick, during the whole course of his exertions to spread Christianity in Ireland The Druids and other opponents, whose enmity he had to encounter, offering a less forcible resistance, than is usual with the supporters of a tottering system. His converts embraced meff of rank and learning, who became ornaments of true religion; churches were erected in considerable numbers throughout Ireland, and to give the new system the advantages of organization, the see of Armagh was founded, and it was filled by St. Patrick himself. Whether he drove the sunkes and other venemous reptiles out of Ireland, is an open question. We believe he did, but our readers will have to form their own conclusions in regard to it. 1

As to the Shamrock most of our readers are no doubt aware, that it was adopted as the Irish emblem, because St. Patrick, in explaining to the inhabitants, the doctrine of the Trinity, used the tre-foil, or clover, as a familiar illustration of "three in one."

To-morrow is the feast of St. Patrick, let us sing " more power to the Shamrock," and bid the "top o' the mornin" to Ireland's tutelar Saint, for sure. , " Saint Patrick was a gintleman and come of dacent people." Don't Want to be Hanged in Shrouds. The Sheriff of Baltimore has received a letter from Crop, Corrie, Gambrill and Cyphus, the unfortunate individuals, who are to be ex-ccuted on Friday, requesting that they may not be hung, with their shrouds on. The following is a copy. BALTIMORE CITY JAIL, March 6, 1859 Thomas Creamer, Esq., Sheriff of Baltimore City. Dear Sir.—We, the undersigned, take this opportunity of addressing you a few lines in regard to our execution. We ask a favor the only one we will ask again on earth. It is this: For the love of God not compel us to wear shrouds on the 18th of March. As you are a Christian do not do it. It would be death itself to put a shroud on us.

for God knows we have enough to bear up under. We want to die like Christians and men. Oh, you cannot refuse the only bool perhaps that it will ever be in our power t ask. We know it is your option to grant this request or no. We do not think you will refuse us. We now beg have to close, hoping we may receive a favorable answer.

Your unfortunate fellow mortals, Marion

Crop. Henry Gambrill, Peter Corrie, John Cyphus. We understand that Sheriff Creamer has consented to comply with the request con-tained in the above letter.—Baltimore Patriot.

We saw a letter a few days since, from Marion Crop, to a friend in Carlislg. He seems to be deeply impressed with a sense of his awful situation. The letter throughout breathes a spirit of deep penitence, and seeming resignation to his fate. He sends many kind remembrances to his acquaintances here. and closes with an earnest exhortation to his friends, to shun vice and drunkeness, to which, he attributes his present unhappy condition.

NEW HAMPSHIRE. - The general election in New Hampsbire took place on the 8th inst. and resulted in the success of the Republicans who have elected their candidates for Governormal for Congress, and secured besides a large majority of the members of both branches of the State Legislature.

Three State elections are yet to take place this spring, viz: In Connecticut on the 4th of April, in Rhode Island on the 6th of April and in Virginia on the 26th of May. In each of these Sintes a Governor is to be chosen, and also members in the next Congress.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE. We resume our abstract of the proceedings

f the Legislature. Monday March 7 .- In the Senate the session as mainly devoted to the consideration of private bills. The Governor sent in a message vetding the city Building Association of Philaelphia. In the House, the appropriation bill passed inally. Tuesday March 8 -The general banking law was called and after a brief discussio was postponed and made the order of the day for Wednesday.

A bill to divorce Wm. R. Priestly and Anna M. Priestly of Philadelphia was passed. -The bill to regulate Bank discounts was negatived yeas 11 mays 16.

Wednesday March 9 .- In the Senate the deneral Banking law came up. A motion to ubstitute the original bill failed, and the new bill was then rejected. The bill to abolish the oor and Health Boards of Philadelphia, as at present constituted, was referred to a Comnittee of Conference. The bill to suppress bank notes under twenty dollars was taken up. An amendment, forbidding the banks to issue any notes at all, was adopted, but on second reading a motion was made to restore the bill to its original form, and a motion to postpone indefinitely followed. In the House, the vote rejecting the Media Bank bill was reconsidered, and the bill was then postponed. The supplement to the Reading Railroad charter passed second reading with a provision to pay the tonnage tax from Dauphin to Rending. Bills pussed finally allowing the Reading Railroad Company to connect with other roads from Reading, and supplementary to the Philadelphia Consolidation ect. The bill incorporating the Mount Joy Saving Institution was reconsidered and post-

Thursday March 10,-In the Senate the bill o prevent the banks of the Commonwealth from issuing notes of a less denomination than wenty dollars, was postponed indefinitely by vote of yeas 18, mays 14. - The House passed the day almost exclusively in the considera tion of private bills, a large number of which were passed. Friday March 11. -In the Scuate, the supplement to the charter of the Western Transportation Company passed. The bill relative to costs passed a second reading.

In the House, the bill to authorize the Governor to commute the death penalty in certain cases, was reported negatively, and postponed indefinitely. An act relating to marriages was rejected, as was, also the resolution to coninue Samuel Hazard in office.

Mr. Stuart, presented a petition of numerus citizens of the borough of Newville, Cumberland county, to change their place of holdng borough and general election, to the east end of the public school house in said borough.

THE COMMON SCHOOLS.

The Committee on education have reported o the Senate, a supplement to the act, for the promotion of education by Common Schools. We make the following abstract, from a copy of the bill, which we received of Mr. Stuart of Section 1. Provides that when the Directors of the several school districts shall have made a selection of class books, the books so selected shall be used for three years, and that no change or alteration shall be made within that period

Sec. 2. Makes it unlawful to employ any female as a teacher, under the age of eighteen years, or of any male applicant under twenty.

Sec. 3. Requires every director hereafter elected to be qualified before a justice of the pence, faithfully to discharge the duties of his

Sec. 4 Determines the amount of tax levied for school purposes, not to exceed eight mills on the dollar.

Sec. 6. Directs that the qualified electors shall determine at the next general election, whether the office of County Superintendent sum be aboussed or not, and:

Sec. 7. That in case the people shall decide in favor of the abolition of the office of County

erintendent, it shall be the duty of the cold Directors, in the several districts to appoint annually, three competent persons as a board of examiners, on the applications of teachers Ter employment, and no teacher shall be employed, except such as shall be passed by the said examiners.

THE FUCITIVE SLAVE LAW DECLARED CON-STITUTIONAL. - In the case of the United States vs Shorman H. Booth, an important decision was delivered by the Chief Justice. The case involved the right of a State Court, to release on habeas corpus, parties in custody under process from the United States Court, for offences against the laws of the United States. This was done by the court below in the instance of an arrest under judgment by the District Court of the United States for a violation of the fugitive slave law. The whole conduct of the court below was held to be totally illegal and virtually revolutionary; that the marshal had a right, and it was his duty, to resist by force any such interference on the part of the State powers; and that the fugiive slave act was clearly constitutional.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. - A fatal accident occured on the Northern Central Railroad, on Sunday last, at Halifax, Dr. John Wright with his two children, a son and daughter, were taking an afternoon walk on the Railroad and while resting at the bridge, a coal train came along and before they could get out of the Holly Paper Mill, alludes to IDA GREENWOOD, way ran them down. The Doctor was instant- as the author of a very benutiful description ly killed, and his daughter had her arm cut of Mount Holly Springs, in a late number of off, the boy escaped.

DEATH OF THE P. M. GENERAL. -The Hon. V. Brown, Post Master General, died at Washington on Tuesday the 8th inst. His funeral took place, from the Executive Mansion on Thursday attended by the President and Heads of Departments Diplomatic Corps, officers of the Army and Navy, citizens and strangers. And the second and the second APPOINTMENT OF P. M. GENERAL -- Hon. Joseph Holt, late Commissioner of Patents, has been nominated and confirmed to the vacant office of Post Master General. This is out arrangements, we may expect a senson of said to be a most excellent appointment.

FARREL, HERRING & CO.'S Patent Champion Safe.

Late Fire at Dubuque, Iowa. Dunuque, Jan. 7, 1859. Gents: I am requested by Mr. T. A. C. Cochrane, of this place, to say to you that on the morning of the ithinstant, about 3 o'clock, his store took fire, and the ntire stock of goods was destroyed. The heat became o suddenly intense that none of the goods could possi bly be saved; but fortunitely his books and papers, which were in one of your Champion Sales, were all preserved perfectly. And well they may be called Champion, for during the whole conflagration there we one incessant pouring of flame directly upon the sain which contained them. And still, upon opening to the side was found to be scarcely warm, while the outside vas most severely scorched. Yours truly,
N. A. McCLURE,

TO DYSPEPTICS and all who suffer the tertures which this disease in ficts in one form or another of its many phases, cure irselves permanently and speedily by using The Oxygenated Bitters. The " Weekly Novelette" of Sept. 18, says: Dyspepsia is one of the prevailing diseases of our ountry. This is owing both to climate and the almost miversal habit of eating our meals too rapidly, to ad nit of proper digestion. But ju spite of these adverse cumstances, this disease, even when it has become ronic, disappears rapidly by the use of the Oxygenz ed litters; which have been found to prove an infall

From the publisher of a widely circulated magazine Boston, July 1, 185s.

Means, S. W. Fowla & Co —I have taken three bottles of the Uxygenated Bitters, and have derived great henefit from their use. I have been much troubled with by spepsia for several years, and found nothing that afforded me any roller until I used the Bitters. I most chee fully recommend them to all who are afflicted with this troublesome and stubbern complaint.

JAMES ROBINSON, of the "Student and Schoolmate."

rom Gen A. C. Dodge, our minister to Spain. From Gen A. C. Bodge, our minister to Spain.

Dr. Geo. B Green.—Dear Sir: The Oxygenated Bitters with which you were so kind as to furnish me, have had a most salutary effect in my case. I was travible with Dyspepsia for four yaars, during which time I tried many remedies, but never met with any so good as your Bitters. Lagm now in the enjoyment of good health, and I hope, and bolleve, that all who use the Oxygenated Bitters, will find them as serviceable as I have found them.

With high respect,

Your Obt. servant,

To somi-it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact that the salve is a combination of ingrediments, each and every one applying a perfect anticlet to its opposite disorder. Balley's Magical Distance in its effects is magical, because the tific is short between disease and a permanent cure: and it is an extractor in its effects is magical, because the time is short between disease and a permanent cure: and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, having natures as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that to house, work shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.
