THE PEOPLE'S STATE CONVENTION This body meets to day in Harrisburg for the purpose of nominating a State ticket to be supported at the next general election. The State will no doubt be fully represented and much interest has been manifested in the final action of the Convention: In this country "Party savers," are about as numerous as "Union savers," and both are equaly troublesome and impracticable. We believe an effort will be made on the part of - ... some of the Delegates, to throw a firebrand into the Convention, by a series of resolution in regard to the Presidential question. In deed a Philadelphia Daily paper, that "did good service" for the Democrats, by assisting to elect Buchanan in 1856, has already uttered a threat, that unless the State Convention shall call a People's National Convention the "people will take this matter out of the hands of the demagogues, and they will immediately proceed to call a People's Nation al Convention, and e ect delegates to the same. and adds that if such an organization is not effected, it will follow the disorganizing course it pursued in 1856, regardless of consequences, intimating broadly that it will do its best in 1860, as it did in 1856, to give the State to the bogus democracy.

We hope that wiser counsels will govern the Convention, and that idle threats like these will be disregarded. The State Convention has been called for a special purpose -that of nominating a State ticket, and or · ganizing the party for the fall campaign. In doing so, they have, in the broad ground of opposition to the present National Administration, a platform, wide enough, and strong enough, for all' practical purposes; leaving the Presidential question to take care of it self, until the proper time arrives for action on that subject. Consolidate the party for a triumph in October, and we shall go into the Presidential campaign of 1860, with a degree of confidence that will ensure success.

What Democracy has Accomplished . The Constitution-the new organ of the Democratic party, at Washington, has been congratulating its political friends, upon the "entire success of President Buchanan's Administration. An exchange appends a few additional instances, not set down in the books, to which we willingly give circulation. If they balance the list, we think they will arrive at the conclusion that "honors are easy." THE ERIE CANAL .- In the suit of Penrose vs. the Eric Canal Company, the Supreme Court has affirmed the judgement of the Court below against the company for $50, 500, but from some informality in the proceedings, the matter has been ordered for re-argument. The suit was brought by Charles B. Penrose, for the amount of the bonds held by him, and involves not merely the $50,000 claimed, but virtually decides several other similar suits which are pending, and if the decision is adverse to the Company, will, we are informed, result in the closing of business on the canal at once.

THE STORM .- We learn from the Shippensburg News, that the storm of the 27th ult, was very destructive in the neighborhood of Roxbury and Newburg. Entire crops were destroyed by the hail, and the high wind, uprooted fruit trees, and injured several buildings. A new bank barn belonging to Mr. Joseph Heberly, situated four miles northeast of Newburg, was blown down and the very foundation shivered to atoms. Two carpenters, Messrs D. Shell and - Smith, engaged at the time in finishing the building, becoming alarmed at the intensity of the storm, got under a work-bench near the barn and a few minutes thereafter the barn was blown upon them. The former had his leg broken, and it was with the greatest difficulty that he was taken from the ruins. The latter escaped uninjured. Mr. John Stoffer and son at the time were out with a team, and narrowly escaped with their lives. After the storm had subsided, they found themselves team and all in a clover field, a short distance from the roadside, where they had been blown, but of which Mr. S. was unconscious. Besides these many other lives were imperilled. ANOTHER STORM .- The Gettysburg Star of the 80th inst: says:

On Monday afternoon we were visited by another violent storm of rain and hail, which continued for probably an hour. A considerable quantity of hail fell here, but not being larger than a pea, the damage to the grain fields and fruit was but trifling. In the neigh helds and fruit was but trifling. THE ASSASSINATION OF A WITNESS AT ST. Louis—Death of Mr. Charless—The Popular Excitement Subsiding.—St., Louis, June 4.—
The victim of the late destardly assault, Mr. Joseph Charless, who was shot on the street, yesterday, by G. W. Thornton, in revenge for having testified against him, died at half-past ven o'clock this morning. The mob, who d threatened to lynch the murderer, made no further demonstrations last night, and this morning the excitement had subsided. Judge Clark has been petitioned to hold a special session of the Criminal Court, in order to give the prisoner a speedy trial. -INPAMOUS .- The trial of John McLaughlin now going on at Chicago, for throwing a train of cars on the Galena and Chicago Railroad off the track; has disclosed a mo ost daring and diabolical gang of villians, both male, and female. The members of the gang are located at Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago, and it seems they are engaged in murders by all sorts of devices, such as poisoning, arson and railroad obstruction. Several confidential letters between two female friends in Buffalo and an accomplice in Chicago, reveal the whole matter, and the entire plan of operations.

w. On the 17th ult., the dwelling of A. W. Parker, in Giles county, Tenn., was destroyed by fire, and three of his daughters—one aged between 16 and sixteen years, and ther between 12 and 13 years, and the oungest aged about 7 years—perished in the lames. The oldest and the youngest were entirely consumed, and the other was rescued from the flames by the father, though so badly burned that she died in about 28 hours.

At Detroit, recently an ox was killed ecause he could not understand the French language. The team, consisting of one English and one French ox, drawing a neavy load and driven by a French driver, was crossing the track when the express train made its appearance. The driver, in great excitement, immediately ordered his oxen to "chuck," (the French word for haw.") The French ox understood him, and turning off the track, saved himself, but the English ox, never baying studied the language, pressed further on, and was instantly killed.

It is a subject that has been talked of time and again, and the project has failed avowedly, for want of a proper location; but as that obstacle is now removed, it. Making a total of only requires a few men of capital, with a little of Rheem's pluck, to erect a first class hotel, which will be an ornament to the town, and a great public convenience. More Incendiarism.-On Sunday rening last, shortly after 10 o'clock, flames were seen issuing from the barn of Mr. Granam, adjoining the public Graveyard. The fire companies were soon on the ground; but from the combustible nature of the building, t was impossible to save them. A barn, sta ble and shed were entirely destroyed, together with a rockaway carriage and a corn-sheller which were in the barn, several of the young trees along the avenue, and within the Graveyard were destroyed by the heat. The loss is about 500 dollars, and we learn the property was fully insured.

That this fire was the work of an incendiary there can be no doubt, Mr. Graham is absent from town, and there was no cause for any of the family to be about the barn or stable, specially after dark.

The property of our citizens seems to be at the mercy of a set of desperadoes, and it is unfortunate that no means can be devised to ferret them out. The reward offered by the council has had no effect; perhaps a nightly atrol, with authority to arrest all suspicious persons, might answer a better purpose It certainly time that the citizens, in connection with the borough authorities, should take ome action in the matter.

ANOTHER FIRE .- On Sunday morning ast, Zugis Paper Mill, on the creek, about a mile from Papertown, was totally destroyed by fire. The loss will fall heavy on the proance of about 4000 dollars.

In his early youth, at a camp meeting, while walking in the woods he met the eye of Dr. J. T. Peck, then President of P. Co lege, who was so impressed by his striking personal appearance, as indicating more than ordinary promise, though not a word hassed between them, that he inquired for his futher, and desired that David might be sent to college. In answer to parental misgivings, the doctor said. "He is destined to be a useful man. PETERSON'S CHEAP EDITION OF SIR WALTER Scorr's Works .-- We have received two more numbers of the cheap edition of the Waverly Novels, now in course of publication by T. B. Peterson and Brothers, of Philadelphia-"Waverly," and "The Autiquay." The story of Waverly, is woven in with one of the most interesting portions of Scottish history; the characters are admirably drawn, well sustained throughout and the work abounds with thrilling incidents.

"The Antiquary," more perhaps, than any of Scott's fictitious writings, makes us aware of the vast amount of labor and research he employed, inproducing these graphic pictures of human unture; but aside from this, the "Antiquary" carries with it additional interest from the fact, that many have supposed that the author drew the character of Old buck of Monkbarns, as a portrait of himself. .

These novels are published complete in weekly numbers at 25 cents a copy or five dollars, for the entire sett of twenty six volumes, post paid. We commend the determination of this enterprising Philadelphia firm, to furnish the works of an author like Walter Scott. at a price so reasonable, that all persons whatever may possess a full set; and direct the special attention of our readers to the fact, advising them to make a remittance of five dollars at once and thus secure an early copy of these standard works.

LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW FOR APRIL. This number is unusually interesting at this time, as the article on the "War in Italy," discusses the views and position of Austria There is also a review of Carlule's Frederic the Great, and an important paper on Bunsen's Egypt and the Chronology of the Bible, in which the conclusions of that eminent writer are submitted to the ordeal of the strictest canons of historical criticism, and he is conclusively shown to have admitted in many instances as historical facts, statements resting solely on traditionary sources. The remaining articles, The Minstrelsy of Scotland, National Gallery, Devonshire, George III, and Charles Jumes Fox, and Lord Brougham and Law Reform, though not marked by any peculiar attractions, afford a welcome variety to the number. The paper on Devonshire, in particular, alds a valuable chapter to those local histories which have formed so pleasing a feature in some of the recent quarterly publications. Republished by Leonard Scott & Co., 54 Gold Street, New York, who also reprint the North-British, Westminister, and Edinburgh Reviews, and Blackwood's Magazine: $3 s year singly, or $10 a year for the whole five Periodicals.

THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Nature, in her great laboratory, has stored some rem dy adapted to every disease which "flesh is beir to."-But it requires the investigation and research of the philosopher to discover this remedy. Such research and philosopher to discover this remedy. Such research and investigation has succeeded in discovering a remedy for that most afflictive dispensation, the DYSPEPSIA!

With all its lesser and numerous evils; and it may be safely asserted that until the appearance of the Oxygeniated Bitters, a case of Dyspepsic cured, was a rare experience in medical practice. Now under the influence of them. of these Bitters the rule is to curr, the rare exception, failure to cure. Read the following, which the subscriber requests us to publish for the benefit of the afflicto An Obdurate Case of Dyspensia Cured by the Oxygenated Bitters.

The following from a gentleman well known in the region in which he lives ought to satisfy all those of little faith:

WATERTOWN, N. J., July 28, 1858.

S. W., Fowle & Co., Boston—Sirs: Nine years since I yas attacked by the curse of all diseases, Dyspepals,—which so shilted me as to cause great oppression, full-ness, and bloating of the bowels inmediately after-cating, accompanied with terrible pains in the stomach, occasioning rausea, vomiting, acidity, and head-together with general debility and suffering, altogether baving tried every known remedy without of fect, and desparing of ever regalning my lost, health, I was induced to make use of the Oxygenated Bitters, the good effects of which were immediately visible on my health and system. Before using a whole bottlef was ditirely cured; and I feet a pleasure in inducing all like sufferers as myself to make use of this remarkable remedy.

COMMUNICATED.

On the 31st ult.. at the residence of William Mels, in Shepherdstown, ANNA PHIFER, aged months and twelve days. "Our Anna is gone." These words were uttered with deep and heartfelt sorrow, by solving annt as she bent in listless silence over the death hed of a cherished it. fant. The dying third caught the expression and as if it would tarry a moment longer, re opened her eyes and turning them full upon the speaker, took a last fond look. A beautiful orphan babe was about to die, and throwing up its tiny hands, with a laugh which left it smiling ever in death, its spirit winged its flight back to the God who gave it. Yes, our Appa is dead, Would that I had not said dead, but she has gone to meet her mother in heaven. Born in a foreign State, when but a few weeks old she was deprived of a mother's Although she came to reside with kind friends who took delight in her playful pratlings and the clapping of her little hands; who loved to administer to all her wants; who watched her every movement with anxious care and loved her with a love second only to a mother's yet her stay was short. Now that she has gono at seems as though she had made her friends a gonopus seems as abough she had made her friends a brief visit and then returned home. She has gone home, but it is to a home in the skies. Four little girls robed in pure white; emblems of purity, bore her body away and with their own hands laid it in the dark-cold grave; but our Anna is not there, through the atone, ment of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, we know she is in heaven. Yes, "our dear Anna is gone," and although her body other and child have again been united.
