The proprietors and manufacturers of HOS-TETTER'S CELEBIATED STOMACH BIT TERTS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a repu-tation herefofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bit-ters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest stendy increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one-million bottles. White Specks in Butter.

In reading the November number of the Furmer, I see in your request for essays, one which will find a response from the ladies, namely: "What is the cause of, and best remedy for, white speeks in butter?" In answer, I will give my opinion, from an experience for many years in butter-making. I have found whenever a current of air has come directly upon the milk, that the cream would become hardened in small specks on the surface, which the process of churning would not break, and they would become incorporated in the butter. In windy weather, these particles are the most quickly formed. My remedy for this defect, is not to allow a draught of air direct upon the milk. nor to allow the milk to stand so long that the action of the atmosphere will harden the cream; but to skim it as soon as sour, and if possible, before the milk thickens. A tablespoonful of salt is thrown ly stirred, whenever cream is put in, with a stick kept in the jar for that use, till sufficient is accumulated for churning. The cream is put into the churn, after in has been well soaked in warm or cold water, as the weather admits ; adding to the cream a quart or two of new or sweet milk, which, in cold weather, is heated sufficiently to warm the cream. This obviates the necessity of standing the churn in a warm corner until the cream is at a proper temperature for churning, and the addition of the milk thins the cream, so that when the butter forms it will be perfeetly clear. Sometimes, when the buttermilk begins to separate, water is thrown in, a little at a time, but never when sufficient sweet milk has been added before churning. The churning is always done in a short time. Butter that is put down for market, should have as little water used about it as possible.

When I observe these rules I always have solid, golden-colored butter, free from white specks, which, when properly packed, with all the buttermilk worked out, will keep sweet as long as you may desire, and be fit for the dantiest pulate.

Food for horses, variety is an essential. Oats are not the only food that will fit a horse for labor on the road Roots are oftentimes much superior. Of these carrots are the best, and keep the horse sleek and in good health. Heavy horses while fed on out corn stalks, together with a little corn and cob meal, will not show any symptoms of disease. 25-10-2
