From the Hagerstown Herald and Torch. THE INFLUENCE OF A SMILE."

" Mother! Mother!" exclaimed a little boy, jumping and skipping in an ecstacy of delight, " Mary G-- put her hand upon my head when she was passing, and said 'good morning, my little man, who wins the marbles to day?! isn't she a sweet lady, mother?" How those kind words and gentle smiles warmed like summer sunshine that little heart all day, causing it to throb with new joyousness, sending out its cheerful influence upon all around him. Who can tell how many a flitting shadow it dispelled; how many a fearful misgiving they may have subdued, or lulled into forgetfulness! And who has so far outgrown their childhood as not to be proportionately affected by them? I have seen a man, stately in his own ideas of dignity, walking with a figm step, his brow knit with perplexity, and his lips closed, as business cares and difficulties arose before him, relax his rigid features while his whole countenance lighted up with contageous joy, as a smile greeted him on the face of a passer-by; and how little it costs the dispenser of such joys, a kind word, a smile, scattered here and there, along the path of life, are gathered up like precious jewels, and placed in the casket of good works, never, never to be lost !

Many years ago, in a distant city, a little girl, the child of a widow, was compelled by necessity to take some articles of lux ury that could be dispensed with, and go forth to find a purchaser, that their immediate wants might be supplied. It was a cold day in winter. The streets were covered with snow and ice, and the piercing winds penetrated the thin garments of the child, but she felt it not. A keener chilliness was in her heart. She thought of her poor mother; the pitying look she gave when parting, and she knew her fond heart was struggling oven then in sympathy and regret, that her daughter should thus, by stern necessity, be sent where taunts and jeers might greet her. But she hastened on, and with faltering step, and almost suffocating throbbing of the heart, she ascended a flight of marble steps, in front of an elegant residence, of one of the Deacon's of the church she had so often attended. A servant answered the summons, and, after hearing her request, left her. The door was open leading into a richly furnished parlor. Music at first came to the ear and heart of the little petitioner, like sweet dreams to the tempest-tost mariner, lulling his soul to forgetfulness, unmindful that huge billows were rolling angrily about him. But that hushed, and a young girl, richly at tired, appeared at the door. A frown ...clouded those handsome features, and her lip curled with scorn, as she turned and remarked, "What can that beggar be standing there for? I am sure she is not wanted." Oh, how like daggers these words penetrated the already bleeding, lacerated heart! Tears started to her eyes, and, like a timid fawn, she would have darted away, but a lady appeared before her, tall and dignified, and the rustling of her rich dress brings new terror to the sensitive girl. But a smile plays upon her features as she advances and kind, soothing words fall from her lips: "I am sorry to have kept you waiting so long," she said, "but you will excuse me, as I was engaged." Excuse her! How she longed to take the jewcled hand and press it to her burning lips. A moment before, what a heavy weight oppressed her, crushing out her young life, and deluging her whole future with a flood of bitter sorrow! But a golden light had broken in upon the darkness, dispelling the gloomy shadows, and driving away its most bitter forehodings. "What has taken the cloud from my daughter's brow, and filled her tear-dimmed eye with such a flood of cheering sunshine?" asked the mother, almost sadly, as her child once more re-entered their humble home. There were traces of tears upon the widow's pale cheek, and a dark, dark shadow brooding over her sorrow-stricken heart. "Surely the mea gre pittance you may have obtained from our last sacrifice could not have the power to thus transform you into an angel of light, to cheer one moment of my wearisome life?" "No, no," exclaimed the child, throwing herself into her mother's arms, "not this little handful of money, but the kind words, and the pleasant smiles of the dear lady that gave it to me -that has made me so happy." The mother kissed again and again the bright young face resting upon her bosom. The dark shadow withdrew its sombre folds from around her heart, and the golden sunshine penetrated and warmed its most "desolate chambers. Then there came the sweet music of many voices up through the silent past, that had long before ceased to whisper "sweet memorics," where they met with no responsive echo of gladness more with a pleasant, inviting face. That little girl is now an aged woman her brown locks are silvered by the frosts of many winters; but she once told me, that that day's experience of frowns and smiles, was always remembered with a tearful eye. But the lesson thus taught had influenced her whole life. "Never," she remarked, "would I give an angry word to a dog crossing my path, if it was possible to avoid it." Then ever speak kindly, smile pleasantly, for you know not how far the golden beam will penetrate. Perhaps it may greet thee like wrenth of glory twined around the crown of thy rejoicing forever.

and the future, casting aside her cheerless forbidding mask, stood forth once

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors and manufacturers of HOS-TETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BIT-TERS can appeal with perfect confidence to physicians and citizens generally of the United States, because the article has attained a repu-tation heretofore unknown. A few facts upon this point will speak more powerfully than volumes of bare assertion or blazoning puffery. The consumption of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for the last year amounted to over a half-million bottles, and from its manifest steady increase in times past, it is evident that during the coming year the consumption will reach near one million bottles. This immense amount could never have been sold but for the rare medicinal properties contained in the prepara-tion, and the sanction of the most prominent physicians in those sections of the country where the article is best known, who not only recommend the Bitters to their patients, but are ready at all times to give testimonials to its efficacy in all cases of stomachic derangements and the diseases resulting therefrom This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trum peting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever ar and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspersia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of un-alloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the pervous system. giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfully, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach. derrangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when merits of this affice. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity prive during the summer season, the wear of arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here, then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recupe-rate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers gene-erily peefer the Bitters to all other invigora-fits that receive the endorsement of physi-cians, because it is agreeable to the faste as well as certain to give a permanent increase well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fover and ague, caused by malaria, diarrheea, alysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occumation, and nursing mothers; will consult occupation, and nursing mothers; will consult their own physical welfare by giving to Hos-tetter's Celebrated Stomach litters a trial. CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counter-feits, but ask for Hostetten's Celebrated STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and clambed on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.
