LINCOLN CLUB. A regular meeting of the Lincoln CLUB will be held at the Wigwam (Glass' Row), on TO-MORROW EVENING at 7½ o'clock.

JOHN M. GREGG. Carlisle, August 24, 1860. President.

Meeting of the Standing Committee. In the proceedings of the County Convention, will be found a list of the Standing Committee for the ensuing year; and as it is important that the Committee should organize immediately, it has been directed by the County Convention, that a meeting of the Committee be held at the Wigwam, in Carlisle, on Saturday the 1st of September next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of arranging the business of the campaign. The several candidates nominated by the Convention, are also requested to be present at the

The Standing Committee occupies the same relative position to the party in the County, that the Central Committee does to f the party in the State. It is their duty to assume the direction of the campaign in such a as will encure its vigorous prosecution until way after the election; and as we beleive that a thorough organization of the party will secure the triumphant election of our County ticket, the responsibility of victory or defeat must rest on their shoulders. In this view it is important that every man should be present and we home to see a full meeting.

LINCOLN MEETINGS.

A Pole Raising, in honor of Lincoln will take place at Plainfield, to-morrow afternoon; after which the meeting will adjourn to the Cross Roads, in Frankford twp., near Mr. John Nickey's where a meeting will be held; for the purpose of forming a LINCOLN CLUB. Messrs Todd, Humerich, Sharpe, and others will be present to address the meeting.

MR. LINCOLN.

We have placed under our editorial head a likeness of "Old Abe". If it is a veritable portrait, (and we believe it is) the artist has not flattered the subject much, and yet withal, he is the best looking ugly man, we have ever seen. His face expresses plain, honest, straight foward common sense; that asks nothing but what is right, and submits to nothing that is clearly wrong. If the face is a fair index of character, "Old Abe" is just the man to hold the helm of state, until the Government is brought back to first principles.

RAILS:-Lincoln must not only be an extraordinary rail splitter, but he must be a splitter of extraordinary rails.—Democrat. The "extraordinary" quality of Lincoln's rails, arises from the fact that they are split out of straight wood. The grain of Democratic timber is so crooked, that a fence made from it, would be like a corkscrew; so that, every time a hog attempted to jump through it would twist him out on the same side.

THE TICKET.

As far as we can learn, the ticket formed by the Republican Convention, is well received. The best evidence of its final success is gathered from the Democrats, who are compelled to admit, that it is the strongest ticket ever formed in this County. Let the members of the Standing Committee in the several townships, now go to work and see that their districts are properly organized, so that they may come to the meeting in town, on the 1st day of September, propared to report.

Hon. B. F. Junkin, addressed a large meeting at Mechanicsburg, on last Friday evening. The Town Hall was crowded, and many were unable to obtain admittance. Mr. Junkin intends to pay this county another visit before the election.

Hon. Edward McPherson:-This gentleman has been unanimously nominated for reelection to Congress, by the Conference which met at Chambersburg, Mr. McPherson, during the last session, gained a high reputation, as an able and efficient member of the House, and we hope the people of his district, will do him and themselves both credit, by giving him a handsome majority.

THE CONVENTION. We have never known a County Convenion of the opposition, which created so much nterest, as the one that met on Monday; not only were the delegates promptly on the ground, but an unusual number of applicants with their friends, all animated by a spirit of confidence in the ability of the party to carry-their candidates, and therefore each anxious to obtain a place on the ticket. Among so many candidates, all competen and deserving men, the duty of making a selection was, doubtless an embarrassing one to the convention; and as all could not be nominated, it is to be hoped that those who found their claims postponed, will take it forgranted that the convention acted for the best, and that they will now rally in support of the candidates, with the same unanimity that they would have expected others to rally in support of them, had they been the nominees. The ticket is emphatically a good one. There is not a man on it who s not worthy the support of the party; their qualifications for the several offices to which they have been nominated, are undisputed and their political principles well defined. In every aspect they are fully equal to the candidates of the democratic, party and appeal to the members of their own political organization to give them an earnest, undivided support. The Republican party owe it to themselves to sustain the action of the convention; it is a duty which overrides all personal preferences and they should pursue a bold and manly course in the support of the ticket, the whole ticket, and nothing but the ticket.

PEOPLE. Andrew G. Curtin, by word, action and precept, has always declared to the people, that he is in favor of the Constitution and the perpetuity of the Union of the United States at

But Henry D. Foster has not said whether he is for Union or Disunion-whether for Douglas and the Northern Democracy, or Breckenridge and the Southern Democracythe one for Union, and the other for Disunion. And as he cannot go for both parties, the peol ple cannot tell whether he is for the Constitution and the Union, or whether he is against the Constitution and for disolution. Curtin everywhere boldly affirms that he is for Lincoln and Hamlin, and that he is opposed to the extension of slavery into the territories of the United States that are now free. But Foster has not said who he is in favor of for President whether for Douglas or Breckenridge-and the people cannot know whether he is for the extension of freedom or slavery in the territories. Curtin opposes by all honorable means the eckless extravagance of the present Administration, by which bankruptcy, suffering and ruin has been brought upon the country.

But Foster has not told the people whether he is for Douglas and a change of policy, or whether he is for Breckenridge and the coninuation of the same rultious administration. Curtin supports and fearlessly advocates the passage of a free homestead law by Congress for the benefit of the American people But Foster has not informed the people whether he is in favor of or opposed to that im portant measure. Curtin has always been in favor of a tariff that would not only provide revenue for the apport of the government, but will secure to he workingmen liberal wages, to farmers remunerating prices, to mechanics and manufacturers an adequate reward for their skill and labor, and to the nation commercial pros perity and independence. But Foster has heretofore been opposed to the protective policy, and even now has laid er Allen. tion he has so lately espoused, by which the Clerk of the Courts and Recorder with the people can ascertain his position-but, like all other Democratic protectionists, will make them known after the election. ,Let the people of Pennsylvania then look at the two candidates. Andrew G. Curtin, with the banner of his policy blazing before them, every word of which may be seen and read of all men, asks the people, with their eyes open, to vote for a policy that will both benefit and bless every citizen of Pennsylvania. Henry D. Foster, without a platform or a principle, not even during to say whether he is for Douglas or for Breckenridge, for Union or Disunion for the Constitution or against it, for freedom or for slavery extension, like Polk and Dallas asks the people to elect him to office without regard to either principle or policy. But the people, unwilling to be longer deceived, have sat in judgement on both the science and the system of modern Democracy, and by the elective franchise will doom it to an overthrow as fatal and final as the slave power under Pharonh was overthrown in the Red Sca .-

West Branch Bulletin. Correspondence of the HERALD SPORTING HILL, Aug. 20th 1860. MR. EDITOR .- Dear Sir-In your last issue when speaking about the crops of 1860, and of the good quality of wheat, you say "those who have bad bread this year, must Meeting at the flome of Lincoln. GREAT UPHEAVING IN THE WEST.

75,000 MEN IN COUNCIL.

The largest demonstration ever held in the est, took place at Sprinfield, Illinois, on the 8th inst. It commenced with a procession in the morning and a torch-light procession at night. The procession was eight miles in

The Springfield State Journal describes it "The procession was headed by an immense Rolling Ball indicating the onward march of Republicant principles, and filled with appropriate mottos, among them the following: "The Republican ball in motion!" "Lincoln, Hamlin, and the whole State Ticket!" "The people mourn insulted laws,"

And curse Steve Douglas as the cause." And on the opposite:

Westward the Star of Empire takes its way; To Link-on to Lencoln—our fathers were for Clay," etc. Next followed twenty-two wide awake clubs with banners and music. With banners and music.

gentlemen on horseback, gaily caparisoned, hailing from Cotton Hill Precinct, which attracted much attention.

A full rigged Schooner with sailors aboard, got up in excellent style and drawn by six horses, the work of some of the Springfield horses, the work of some of the Springfield Republicans.

The enterprising proprietors of the Springfield Woolen Mill were represented in the procession by an immense wagon containing a power loom, driven by a small steam engine. During the progress of the procession they made several yards of substantial jean cloth, from which a pair of particless for M. Linger, which a pair of particless for M.

NEWVILLE CAMP .- The camp meeting t Newville closed yesterday. There were between thirty and forty tents on the ground The attendance was very large on Sunday. the woods around the encampment were filled with vehicles and thronged with people.-During the services of the day the area in front of the preacher's stand was densely packed with a very orderly and attentive congregation. Rev. A. E. Gibson of Emory Church, preached in the morning and Rev H. M. Johnson of Dickinson College, in the afternoon; In the evening, the services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Earnshaw of Shippensburg station.

FAIR OF THE EMPIRE HOOK & LADer Co .- We wish to remind our readers, specially in Carlisle, that the Empire Hook & Ladder Co, will hold a Fair in Rheem's Hall, in October next, during the week of the Agricultural Fair. The liberality of the citiznes enabled them to procure the necessary pparatus, but to preserve them from injury, t was thought expedient to build a Truck House; and it is by means of this fair, that the members hope to realize funds sufficient to pny the debt incurred by creeting the building. The efficiency and utility of this Company. have been fully tested, since its organization and the members therefore confidently ap peal to the liberality and public spirit of the citizens for aid in this matter with the assurance that they will meet a cheerful response. Donations in money or goods, will ne thankfully received by the Committee, in behalf of the Company and the ladies are equested to make such contributions as their vell-known kindness and good will to the iremen may dictate.

The London Quarterly Review for July, ublished by L. Scott & Co.; 54 Gold Street New York.

Messrs. L. Scott & Co. are rapidly putting forth their reprints of the English Reviews for the current quarter.
These publications have been long issued with such , that the announcement of their issue ha dently to expect them. The following is an abstract of the Contents of the present number of the Londo uarterly: I. The Missing Link and the London Poor I. Joseph Scaliger; III, Workmen's Earnings and Sav ngs; IV. The Cape and South Africa; V. Ary Scheff VI. Stonehenge: VII. Darwin's Origin of Species; VIII The Conservative Reaction. We do not know if many of our fair readers are given to reading these Reviews we apprehend that these solid-looking periodicals are learned as exclusively masculine as male attire, and only fit to be taken up by the reckless and ecc lut it is high time that they should reject the dism ish usually provided for their edification and amuse ment, and resert to such periodicals as these. No wo man can read without deep interest and sympathy such articles as Nos. 1, and III, above enumerated; few wo-men can reflect upon them without feeling that their estimate of their social and domestic dutles and respor shillitles has been hitherto parrow and imperiect. The ecusal of these articles will, we hope, lead to an examination of the others, and thus contribute to the formation of a sound literary tasts.
