TRANSPORTATION OF TROOPS.—For a week or more, our streets have presented an unusually animated appearance, occasioned by the passage of large bodies of troops over the Cumberland Vailey Railroad. From city and town, mountain and valley, workshop and farm, the harly and patriotic ares of the Oll Keystone were rushing to the beclers to drive from her soil the inso ent invader. Day and night, the cars, filled to overflowing with the hardy militia, passed through the streets, and were greeted with loud plaudits from the men and the waving of handkerchiefs by the ladies. We wish them success in their mission, and a speedy return tetheir homes.

A WHEELBARROW RIDE,-On Monday last. Constable FAGAN captured a gentletleman so overcome with rum and patriotism, that he was unable to walk. He was placed in a wheelbarrow, and, during his ride down street, he was addressing an imaginary au dience in a most patriotic strain, waving his hands like an lusane wind-mill.

REBEL PR SONERS .- On Monday night last, a number of rebel prisoners passed through this place on their way to Fort Delaware, escorted by Capt. Comman's company. They were a rough looking party, dirty and ragged, and some of them without lint, bandages, &c., was lately brought to town by Mr. Hurst, of Dillsburg, which had been prepared by the patriotic ladies of that place, and which will be sent where most needed. This has been, indeed, a work of love and patrioti m, peculiarly appropriate and acceptable, and for it the ladies will be send the said series of the ladies will be common with his son James 8 acreson, who will sell his half at the same time. A large and valuable package of rewarded in the sweet consciousness of hav ing contributed to alleviate the sufferings o our brave and deserving soldiers, wounded Brown in the defence of our blood bought heritage

FIGHT .- Two colored individuals treated our citizens to a display of the fistic art, in the shape of a knock down, on Monday afternoon. The wool flew and a considerable amount of the best Virginia blood was spieled from the noses of the combatants.

We desire to draw the attention of the Public to the fact, that the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York in addition to the large sums already given by it to Sanitary Betterd Speed continut to a cold which will be exhibited for the day on site. surance Co. of New York in addition to the Committees, bounty fun Is and other purposes connected with the war; being still desirous of further aiding the government, and the natiotic men who leave their homes, to des fend it, is now granting war permits on the most liberal terms to those insured before the rebellion broke out, and new policies to persons who volunteer, or are drafted into the army under the recent proclamation of the President.

A sum of money considerably less than the amounts received as bounty by a volunteer, will secure to his family or friend several thousand dol'ars, in case he should be killed or die by disease during the term of his policy-

This Company has no superior in the United States and every person going into the army should take advantage of the offer here presented for the benefit of those they leave behind. The Company is represented in our Borough by Joseph C. Hoffer, who will gladly give inquirers all the neccessary information.

THE ANDERSON TROOP .- In our issue of last week we made mention of the bad conduct of some members of the Anderson Troop. It is hard to gather together such a hal large body of men without having some bad ones among them, and we are happy to say that every effort has been made to wied out the black sheep. We were called on by some of the members and requested to state to the citizens of the town that it is their desire that any member misbehaving should be reported to the commanding officer. They are determined to maintain the high charac ter which the troop has borne heretofore, and request the assistance of all good citi zens in so doing. An order has been issued compelling every member to remain in camp after nine o'clock P. M., unless absent on special duty. It is unjust that the innocent that on TUSDAY, the 14th day of October next, an absent of the county of Cumberland, the first of the county of the count should suffer with the guilty and we hope our friends will assist them in finding out the evil doers. Our article last week was written with no intention of injuring the reputation of the troop, but merely as a warnma ing to those in command as to what would be the result should that state of affairs con. tinue We wish them all possible success, and are very sorry that some of them have misunderstood our meaning.
