Tuesday's election rests the success or downfall of our Union. Upon the people-upon each and every voter rest a responsibility of immense proportions. On next Tuesday each voter will either aid in perpetuating our Republican form of Government, or plunging our country into ruin. A new Congress is to be elected by the people. If they send to Washington a set of men who will sustain the Government in its efforts to crush the infamous rebellion, our country will be safe. If the next Congress be composed of men who symp. athize with the Rebels then our Union is gone. We may as well have a rebel Congress as a Congress of sympathizers. We care not what a man's political views are—the great ques-tion now is, Ts he a true UNION MAN? If a August 14, 1662. Financial Secretary. tion now is, Is he a true UNION MAN? If a candidate will not, now, in our hour of trou-ble, pledge himself to use all his efforts to crush the Rebellion, he is unworty of the sup-port of any voter, and the man who votes for the prediction of the sup-port of any voter, and the man who votes for the prediction of the sup-port of any voter, and the man who votes for the prediction of the sup-port of any voter, and the man who votes for the prediction of the sup-port of any voter, and the man who votes for the prediction of the sup-canadas, and New BRUNSWICK. candidate will not, now, in our hour of trousuch a candidate aids in taking the life of his country. Our next legislature will elect a United States Senator. How important it is that good men be sent to both Senate and House, good men be sent to both Senate and House, at Harrisburg, so that a loyal man may be giving EVERY RAILROAD STATION selected to represent us in the National Sen-
