Gen. McCLELLAN on the 1st of August. At Harrison's Landing he was made Assistant Commissary for the Second Brigade, and filled that position until the battle of South Mounthat position until the battle of South Mountain, when he resumed command of the company. He passed through that battle safely, and fell at the head of his company on the battle field of the Antietam His body was recognized late in the day by Lieut Colonel Brisbane, of Carlisle, as the 49th regiment passed over the ground. Just then his company returned from the charge in which he fell. The buffat service was performed by Chaplain Eaknshaw, while the men stood around in sorrow, as around in sorrow, as

" Slowly and sadly they laid him down," mourning for him as for a father, for as such he was beloved by every member of his com-pany. His ashes have since been removed, and now sleep pencefully in the native val-ley he died in defending. Farewell, NOBLE

Lieut. BEATTY was selected by Gen. McCall, when the Division was organized, to fill the position on his staff as Chief of Ordnance. He position on his staff as Chief of Ordinance. He filled the position with ability until he was wounded in the battle of White Oak Swamp. He was then detailed on the recruiting service. On the occasion of calling out the Penn sylvania Militia, he was ordered to Harrisburg and made Chief of Ordnance on the staff of Gen. Reynolds. On the discharge of the mi litia, he was relieved and resumed his duties as recruiting officer for the Pennsylvania Reserves. He is a good officer, and in the battle:

of the Peninsula, as aid to Gen. McCall, dis-tinguished himself for his courage.

The same shell which killed Capt. Colwell, also killed instantly John Callio and mortally wounded Leo Faller, David Spahr, and Win Culp, all of whom have since died.

From the list you will see that our company has suffered more from disease than from but tle. Those wuo have fallen from disease at the hospitals, have shown themselves no less patriots than those who have fallen on the field, and we drop the sympathetic tear of friendship alike upon the grave of each. They have fallen in a cause as holy as ever led men to take up the weapons of warfare-they have fallen in defense of the best interests of man-kind. The death of none of them has been in vain, for we shall yet see the States in peace.
Already we hear in tones of authority the words inscribed upon the Old Bell in Inde-pendence Hall-Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land, to all the inhabitants thereof.' Then we shall have inscribed upon our flag-LIBERTY and UNION" -- then we shall have union evermore.

All Hail Iowa.
