such as they can carry upon their backs.

The new regiments and in fact, with some few exceptions, the entire army, bear the numerous hardships and privations, without grumbling, and although the rebels down the river, boast that if we want to take Richmond we will have two "Hills to cross—a Stonewall to climb; and a Longstreet to march, before we get there, none are dighenriened, but all look forward to certain success

Implicit confidence is placed in General Hooker, and the time has arrived when con tending for men is no lenger the question of the day. It I am right in my judgment, we can set it down as a dead certainty that a different spirit will exhibit itself in the noble soldiery that is here—not to clevate any party, or to make any of its Generals the next President -- but to save the ark of our freedom from destruction, and visit a terrible retribution upon all its enemies wherever they may be found. From the best information, Learn that there are but 12 to 15 000 rebels across the river. A large portion of their army having been sent to Vick burg.

We get to hear but little war or other news here; newspapers being scareer than greed backs in the army. The triends at home can do us a very grateful service by sending papers frequently. Truly Yours,

A NEW UNION CLUB.

A large number of our citizens met on Saturday evening, it the Franklin House, in this place, for the purp se of considering the propriety of organizing a National Union Carb, on a popular basis. Col. John McCassis was called on to act as Chairman of the meeting, who stated the object of the meeting in elo quent terms. It was to organize in a popular form the Union sentiment of our town, that it might be made effective as against the treasonable organizations which are known to exist in our midst. Whilst it must be, to some extent, political in its character, it was not designed to promote the interest of forward the particular purposes of any man or set of men, but rally the loyal heart of the country to the firm and cuergetic support of the Government. It was disigned that loyal men everywhere should strike hands for the Union, and frown down the infuny of secs-ionism which has been permitted to grow up in our community.

The following committee was appointed to
