"WHAT OF THE STATE."-See an article on our first page under this caption .-It is from the pen of Col. McClure, of the Chambersburg Repository, and the writer evinces that clear-headed sagacity and intimate knowledge of State politics which has characterized his public career. The estimate of the probable result will have the effect of confirming the friends of the Union in the success of the good cause, but we entreat them to relax no exertion on account of its confident predictions of an auspicious result. We must dissent, however, with the estimate of the district in which this county is included. The friends of Curtin here, are making such a canvass of the county as has never been made before, and although we will lose sensibly over Curtin's last vote by the efflux of volunteers since then, we hope to almost, if not quite make up the deficiency by the patriotic action of our intelligent demorracy who will refuse to be dragooned into even a quasi support of Jeff Davis.
