How to Save Your Coal.-Now that coal has reached a price which is almost unprecedented, and that the dealers propose to raise it, if possible, during the present winter, there are thousands of families where the members will thank us heartily for the following directions, which if followed, will give them a good fire during the whole winter on a quantity of coal so small that it will cause some to marvel greatly. The directions are as follows:

The ashes or cinders are not to be thrown away, but dampened to a kind of mortar, and again placed on the fire. They burn readily, and by so doing there is the economy of having a hot fire with one-tenth of the fual, bebides not being troubled to convey the ashes to a receptacle We do not know of a stove that cannot make ashes enough to supply ithelf, only a few nuggets of coal being used .-First make a fire in the usual way, and when it begins to burn freely, place a lump of coal (the best) near the stove door or front of the grate; then heap on the wet ashes or cinders, and pack them down, the vent below being unobstructed. The process is simple, and a few trials will satisfy the unbedievers. Dust coal may be used in the same way, and we are assured that many cellars have mines of wealth in the refuse of former years. Whilecoal is so scarce and so costly, should not Sconomy prompt a trial of a plan pointed out, which is attended with so little trouble and a sparing of labor ?

Tribute of Respect.

At a late meeting of the Union Philoso-Chical Society of Dickinson College, the following Preamble and Resolutions were unanimously adopted. WHEREAS, It has pleased God, the Great Ruler and Director of the universe, to take from this world our esteemed and worth? brother Wm. W. Hepbern, and

WHEREAS, In his death we are led to feel the uncertainty of human life, and admonished that Death Seizes the young as well as the old : therefore be it

Resolved, That in this sad bereavement we recognize the hand of one "who doeth all things well," and that, while we deeply mourn his early loss, we can rejoice in the hope that he is in better world on high. Resolved, That, connected with the reculhis deeds here among n.en, his name will live with us until we too follow him to another world, and that, as a true and faithful "Union," he will never be for-

Resolved. That we deeply and truly sympathize with the family of our departed Brother in their inconsolable loss, assuring them that, although in time our grief may reem to cease, yet the memory of the one who is gone, will ever linger around the hearts of these who loved and honcred him. Resolved, That as a token of our respect, we drape our hall in mourning for thirty days and that we each wear the usual badge of morning for the same time. Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, and that they be published in the 'Carlisle Herald" and "American Democrat:" EDGAR E. HASTINGS, |

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. A Solection was read by S. P. Goodyear. They give black and white Goods from Besson's celebrated sent Mr. Berkheimer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. A Se-Treasurer's report showed a balance of ten dollars in treasury. A class drill in Physicology, was conducted by J. A. Eberly, in his usual able manuer - using Cutter's Charts for illustration. The subject was discussed by Messrs. Schriver, Richwine and Graybill.

AFTERNOON SESSION. Absent, Mr. Berkheimer. The subject of Physiology was further discussed at length by Messrs. Eberly. Goodyear, Boyer, Plank, and Kline. The Institute was of unanimous opinion that Physiolgy in one of the most important of studies, and should be introduced into all our schools Is not more difficult than Geography, and should be studied as carly as that science. Physical laws can not be violated with impunity. A knowledge of the laws of health would prevent an untold amount of suffering and premature death .-Public and private buildings are mostly poor ly ventilated, and thus continuelly breed discase The habits and customs of our p ople demand reform. Supt Swartz being present, favored the Institute, and a large number of citizens present, with some highly practical remarks on Physiology. Better neglect other studies than this.

Many of our habits of eating, and drinking are erroneous We live too high, too fast, neglect the primary principles of health. Bathing is too much neglected Cleanliness is essential to health. Mr Sollenberger read an interesting Essay on "Education—real and imaginary." D. Richwino delivered an able, instructive and highly appropriate Lee ture, on "Self knowledge-Its importance" It is the only true foundation of all other knowledge. We should understand our moral nature, our character, our disposition, our abilities, -should know ourselves in all our relations to ourselves, to our fellow men, to our God

Supt. Swartz, made some appropriate suggestions to the directors and teachers. The thanks of the Institute were tendered to Supt. Swartz, for his presence and encouraging voice, and to Messrs. G. W. Lendig, G. Beltzhenver, J. Beltzhoover, P. Vanandale, J. Leib, G. Whaler, and D. Basehore, for hospitality to members of the Insti-

These celebrated Machines are adapted to every variety of Sewing or family wear, from the lightest muslins to the heaviest cloths. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen, and celton goods,—seaming quilting gathering, hemming, feiling, coding, and bradding—making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both siles—and performing every species of sewing except making button holes and stitching on buttens.
