The following sensible article on domestic philosophy we find in one of our exchanges : "If the ultimate consequences of one's acts are to be laid to his charge, the man who invented rocking cradles for children rests under a fearful load of responsibility. The downright murder of tens of thousands of infants, and the weakened brains of hundreds of adults are undoubted results of his invention. To rock a child in a cra dle, cr to swing him in a crib, amounts to just this: the rapid motion disturbs the natural flow of blood and produces stuper or drowsiness. Can any body suppose for a moment that such an operation is a healthful one? Every one knows the dizzy and often be every one knows the dizzy and often be formally in a swing; Teb. 26, 1863.

Sheriff, zickening effect of moving rapidly in a swing; yet wherein does this differ from the motion a child receives when rocked in a cradle? It is equivalent to lying in a ship birth during a violent storm, and that sickens nine people out of ten. A very gentle, slow motion may sometimes be soothing, though always of doubtful expediency, but to move a cradle as rapidly as the swing of a pendulum three feet long, that is once in a second, is positively cruelty. We always feel like grasping and staying the arm of the mother or nurse who, to secure quietude, swings the cradle or crib with a rapidity equal to that of a pendulum a foot long. If any mother is disposed to laugh at our suggestions or consider them whimsical, we beg of her to have a bed or cot hung on cords, then lie down in it herself, and then THE LOND IN QUARTERLY (Conservative.) swing it with the same rapidity that she allows the cradle to be rocked. What she will experience in both head and stomach is just what the infan experiences. We insist-that this rocking of children is a useless habit .-If not accustomed to rocking, they will go to sleep quite as well when lying quietly, as when shaken in a cradle. If they do not, there is trouble from sickness, or hunger, or more likely from an over loaded stomach; and though the rocking may produce a tem-

Poor House Visitors' Report. [10] the honorable James II. Graham.

President Judge and Michael Cocklin and Hugh tuart, Associate Judges of the Court of Cumberl (d Stuart, Associate Judges of the Court of Cumber 1 of County:

We, the persons appointed by said Court, as visitors to the Poor House, for the year 1803, do certify, that we have visited the same trequently during the present year, and mostly at times when Mr. Snyder (the steward,) was not aware of our coming, and invariably found the house in excellent order, the several apart ments well adjusted and the bed chambers clean and furnished with good and soft beds. Also, everything on the form or pertaining to the premises in very good condition, and the management of the farm well, conducted and arranged. The rations for the inmates are very good and pelatable, and everything necessary for their comfort provided. Everything indicates that the steward is endeavoring to miske all who are in his charge as eightful each possibly can, as is shown by his assidnous application. We might reasonably suppose that unit's the number of papers there, the phase should econ gloom, and saddeding, but on the contrary we find the zenter part cheerful and merry and displaying considerable taste in keeping their persons, especially the femiles) and all seemed as though they invested at home, only yed. Among the number of papars there were an under of children who are frum 4 sate as he da pur of the veer, some beaving butting a trace and theavs pleasant and agreed by a first test, and this task befur a wearisonn and supposassurisone we do think that he is not fully compensated to this labor, and wild bush to nivaring and any consentation was detained the site in the proveness of the labor as most and what bush to nivaring and supposassurisone we do think that he is not fully compensated to this labor, and wild bush to nivaring and supposassurisone we do think that he is not fully compensated to this labor, and wild bush to nivaring and supposassurisone we do think that he is not fully ble, this and for too, and his task being a wearisome and unpeasatten we do think that he is a fully compensated for his laber, and would insert on having his salary increased. We also think it necessary to make one improvements to the buildings, we would recommend having a separate apartment creeted, apart from the main building, expressly for the hospital, but do not urge it strongly at the present time. Much more might be said, but we think it not necessary, inasmuch as we have noticed every point worthy of notice and our consideration, and as from what we have already said you will readily infer that the steward discharges his duty admirably aft in rocard to what we have said of his merits, is nothing more than what is justly due him. We might remark that the sick are well cared for and have the attendance of a very judicious physician, and the notice and sympathy of Mrs. Snj der. Snyder
