OUR DUTY TO OUR COUNTRY AND HER DEFENDERS.

A. K. RHEEM, Editor & Proprietor.

This day Six Hundred Thousand Union sol diers are closing in upon the rem ining strongholds of Slaveholding Treason, while 14 02 Two Hundred Thousand more are volunteering in the Loyal States to re-enforce them 54 from week to week during the campaign about to open. Westward of the Mississippi, the converging columns of Steele, Sherman, 5 70 and Banks, are clearing Arkansas and Louisiana of the last remnants of Rebel armies, preparatory to a grand united advance for the deliverance of Texas from the bloody grasp of Treason. On this side of the Mis sissippe, a good half millio of Unionists, all under the direction of Lieut. Gen. Grant, are preparing to meet and beat the R bels in Virginia. North Carolina, Georgia, or wherever else they can be most effectively assailed, avoiding the mistakes of dispersion and incoherency of operations which have hitherto proved so disa-trous. We shall have victory and peace in God's good time; meanwhile, we who remain at ho ne are doing what we can to cheer and sustain our heroic brethern in the field by unprecedented contributions to the Sanitary Commission and to other ganized efforts for their physical and spirit-ual well-being. This is well; but there is another duty incumbent on every one of us whom God has blessed with property, which should be discharged promptly, zealously, and in a spirit of ungrudging devotion emulating that of our brothers and sons now braving exposure, privation, hardship and death on the tented field

This duty is that of replenishing the Treasury of the Republic to the full measure of its needs, which is that of our obligation. shall soon be called on for heavier taxes; let us pay them readily, cheerfully, and to the uttermost farthing. But meantime the Union asks us to subscribe to its new Lan; let us do it, one and all, until the emi-saries of treason in our midst shall report to their confederates be ow the picket lines, tidings that will 74 ates be ow the picket times, units 2 73 cause their knees to quake like Bel-hazzar's 2 30 at the hand-writing on the wall.

Your Government, Countrymen ! Patriots! asks you to subscribe and promptly fill up a National Loan of Two Hundred Midions of Dollars, now pressingly needed to pay your Armies and meet other urgent habilities. Of this Lean, Ten or Twelve Millions have already been taken though the bonds are hard them speedily if you subscribe and pay down your money. Resolve to do it now, and gather every dollar not absolutely needed to filfill some imperative obligation, and lend it to your country to sustain her in her resistance to the death flurry of Treason. Do you ask what pecuniary inducements sustain the appeal to your patriotism. Observe and judge if they are not ample: The New Loan is called a "Ten-Forty" Rogers (Haskel Agt.) Let us see what rate is proffered you: Suppose some one has One Thousand Dollars hid away in some old stocking or cracked teapot, or securely lodged in some bank vault or private safe. He sells this for Greenbacks of which he receives in exchange at to day's rates Seventeen Hundred Dollars; but we will suppose the premium of Gold to fall off, so that he can only obtain Sixteen Hundred. These he invests in the new Loan, receiving therefor the promise of the United States to pay him Sixteen Hundred Dollars in Gold. He receives Eighty Dollars per annum in Gold as interest as long the Government retains his money, and is paid at last S xteen Hundred Dollars in Gold for One Thousand Dollars invested. Why is not this enough? Eight per cent on your specie lent to your Government, and Sixteen Hundred Dollars principal returned to you for One Thousant lent. How in 1ch in ire would

1 44 Shylock have exacted under the circumstan 1 12 | ces ? But this is not all. Your loan to the ov ernment is not subjected to State or local taxation, and is subjected to only hart the in-1 95 ccme Tax you must pay on any other move t 60 ment. And, if you choose to receive regis-60 tered bonds, you stand inscribed on the great 64 book of the Nation a public creditor, and cannot be divested of your property by them, burglary, flood, fire, or any other calamics short of the great and final coullagation.

But may not the Debt be repudiated? Certainly it may be; just as your tarm may be taken by violence, your bank stock distributed among the denizens of the five points, or your mortgages anulled and confiscated. Everything you have, or can have, 3 90 of this world's goods, rests on the broad and solid basis of Public Faith. If this should ever become predomin oily a nation of knaves, swindlers, assassins, the National Debt may be repudiated; but, whenever it is, no property will have any real value, for all rests on one basis and is guarranteed by the fact that Honesty and Justice are the true interest of all, and will be steadfastly main tained, in every case, by an overwhelming majo ity. The National Debt is far less likely to be repudiated, now that Millions are interested in it—through Saving Banks, Trust Companies, Banks and otherwise-than it was when but one-tenth its present amount. · Countrymen and women! almost any loya! bank, leading merchant, or dealer in money, will receive your money and promptly con 1 06 vert it into such Government bonds as you may indicate. You can take as little as $50 1 40 if you can spare no more, or so many $100s, 70 $500s, $1,000s' $5,000s, or $10,000s, as you can pay for. It you choose coupon bonds, you may cut off the interest certificates as they tail due (or before) and obtain the gold for them (or greenbacks with the premium added) in almost any village or store. TNVITE the attention of buyers to their ing to the Government is not like taking a mortgage or bond, or p rsonal note; bécause those before due can only be sold at a sacrifice in most cases; whereas a Government bond can always be sold for cash; or you can borrow on it whatever smaller sum you may want for thirty, sixty, or ninety days at any bank, or of any one who has money to lend. We consider five per cent on a Gov. ernment bond equal to seven on an ordinary mortgage. And you are to day offered more than eight per cent by your Government, and sleighs are made at that time. Ice grows much better in winter than in summer, which was an inconveniance before the discovery of ice-houses. Water that is left out of doors, is apt to freeze at this season. Some people take in their wells and cisterns on a cold night and keep them by the fire and then they don't freeze.

Skating is great fun in winter. The boys get their skates on when the crock is frozen over, and race, play tag, break through the ice and get wet all over, (they get drowned sometimes,) fall and break their heads, and enjoy themselves in many other ways. A boy once borrowed my skates and ran off with them, and I could not catch him. Mother said judgment would overtake him some day. Judgment will have to be pretty lively on its legs if it does, for he runs bully.

-There ain't much sleigh riding except winter-folks don't seem to care much about it in su i mer. The grown up boys and girls like to go sleigh riding. The boys generally drive with one hand and help the girls hold their muffs with the other. Brother Bob let me go along a little way once when he took Celia Crane out sleigh-riding, and I thought he paid more attention to holding the muff than he did to holding the horses. Snow balling is another winter sport. I have snow-balled in the summer. But we used hard stones and hard apples. It isn't so amusing as it is in the winter

Hepburn. The President elect, on taking the chair, amid considerable applause, said: Gentlemen of the Convention, I feel deeperred upon me. That honor is enhanced delegates. It is, then, no small honor, gentlemen, to be selected to preside over your deliberations The duties will not be onerous, and I trust they will not be tedious. I shall perform them with fidelity and impartiality, and I shall attempt to perform them to the satisfaction of the convention. Gentlemen, we have met in a most important crisis in the history of our country, and this organization, which we represent here to day, is, perhaps, the strongest, numerically and mentally, that has ever existed in this country, whether you consider it as confined to Pennsylvania, or as embracing this whole country. I say that there is not to-day on this broad earth a body of men so powerful in numbers, and having so holy an object in view, as this Union organization. [Applause.] This organization is not confined to any particular party. I recognize here to day men who have belonged to all the political organizations of the State; and if I were in the capital of Ohio or of New York, or any of those great States, in a convention of delegates representing the views of the people, I would find a similar state of affairs. I would find patriotic men from the old Democratic organization. I would find men who had been known as Whigs in early life; I would find Republicans, I would find Americans, and all classes of men, associated together. And for what purpose, gentlemen? For the holy purpose of trying to save this Government, with all its holy memories of the past and with all its bright hopes of the future to ourselves and to our children. This, is the holy mission of this great organization, and I trust that the very name which we have adopted indicates the cardinal principle that govern us. We are for the Union! We are a party of peace, if it could be so; a party of order, a party submissive to law, a party in favor, of constitutional right, but we are in favor at all times and under all that it is now, as in the days of our Saviour, circumstances, of saving this Government, that "he that gathereth not with us, scatterwhich has been handed down to us by our fathers, if it costs us more money and is against it. If a man stops to quibble more blood. I do not mistake the sentiments of delegates here to-day, when I say that there is not a man in the organization who is not in favor of sustaining the Administration of the National Government in its attempts to put down this rebellion. [Applause.] I do not mistake your sentiment, gentlemen, when I assert another fact—that there is not, to-day, in all this wide extended country, nor even across the water, a man in public life who is better known as the President. No man in the land has esty, than Abraham Lincoln. [Vociforous and prolonged cheering.] I am glad, gentlemen, to hear you cheer, in that way, gentlemen, to hear you cheer, in that way, the patriotic Chief Magistrate of thist Government to ourselves and to our children. nation. You know, as well as I do, that I say then that although I do not think he no other man in this land has spent so personally desires a nomination, yet it would many sleepless nights and anxious days be grateful to him, as it will be to the loyal

I regret to say it, but I stand here to speak honestly and candidly-I have no speech prepared for you—I express my strongest convictions when I say that I know that on these green hills and in these valleys of Pennsylvania there are to day men that would rejoice at the sound of victory on the The motion was agreed to.

There is not a Union man any man in all this land who would not be found, in the hour of trial, on the side of his country; not one. The President has laid Wallace, William A Simpson, Jacob S Serrill, M H Shirk, M Howard Jenkins, aid men of all political parties, and they are Stramp, Dr R H Coryell, Edward Haliday, They stand between us and the enemy like a wall of fire, to protect our property and our lives. Men of all political organizations are in the field, in the cabinet, and all over the country are sustaining him; and yet all of you know that no man in all this land has been more abused and more slandered than President Lincoln. I have heard him abused in these halls. I have heard General Butler and Governor Johnson, among others that I might name, who have given their time and their talents to the country, abused in the capital of my own State until I have been ashamed, and could have wept tears of bit-terness. I have heard General Butler, be cause he was willing to lay aside party feeling and give his services to the country published in my county and throughout the State as a brute, a hireling, a thief and a rol ber. I have seen, and you have seen, far more than this. I say, then, gentlemen, that if this Government is saved it must be as my triend, the temporary president, has said, by the army in the field, and by the Union army at home. [Cheering.]

Recollect, gentlemen, that this band of men that are to day standing in sight of Lee's army on the Rappahannock-and Gentlemen of the Convention, I feel deep-ly sensible of the honor you have just con-125 or 150,000—and these that are in almost every rebel State assisting in putting down when I reflect that among the persons here to-day I recognize many of those with whom I have been associated in public life for the last ten or twelve years public life for the last ten or twelve years

Why should not these men be invested with the right of suffrage? Do you not know that there have been men in these halls, clothed with power by the people, who have been wil ling to prevent, if they could, the soldiers from enjoying that right? In the contest which ended last October, when we contended against George W. Woodward-himself an honorable man—we appealed to the peo-ple from every hill-top in the land, telling them that if George W. Woodward should be elec ed Governor of Pennsylvania and Vallandigham of Ohio, they, acting in concert with Seymour, of New York, and Parker, of New Jersey, would endeavor to thwart the purposes of the National Government, that they would assist, so (ar as was in their power, in giving aid and comfort to the enemy, both in the field and at home. I said that myself before thousands and thousands of people, and I stand here to-day, not only to vindicate myself, but every man who spoke with me on those questions. I told the people then, as we tell them now, that our canlidate was true to the National cause, and had given his time and talent to the country, and that he was tried and proved faithful. I told them more. I told them that if George W. Woodward be elected, he would use his power against the National Administration Was I not right? After the election, the very first act that these men did on the bench -I refer to Judge Woodward, Judge Lowry and Judge Thompson-was to make a decis ion which was calculated to strike down the power of the National Administration. They decided that the Conscription bill—the oul means left for filling up the shattered ranks of the army-was unconstitutional. I have this to say here, and I say it boldly-1 care not who hears it-I slander nobody, but I believe it as firmly a that the sun shines, that if George W. Woodward had been elected Governor of Pennsylvania, this country would have been infinitely worse off than it is to-day. It is bad enough, I admit; but it would have been worse.

The people desire to bo right, and all that you have to do is to inform them on this subject. They are thoroughly awake now. They believe as you believe, that there are at this time but two parties in this great countryabout the policy of the Administration, you may be sure that he is not true on the national question, and that he is as likely to have his sympathy on the other side of the Rappahannock as on this side. I say, then, I hope that the people themselves will take this matter in hand—that they will stand by what we do here. We care little in nominating a standard bearer, for the man, so that he represents the loyal people of the country. If I am allowed to speak my own sentiments I say that no man in the men in the field and the loyal men in this nation, that we in this convention are willing to stand by him through evil and through good report; that we will not join in the vit-uperation and slander to which helps been subjected—that we will encourage our men in the field, that we will feed and clothe them while they are fighting our battles. Now, gentlemen, I have detained you longer than I intended. I hope you all feel on this subject as I feel. You all know the importance of the position you occupy. You know how your ne your people feel at home; you know the interest at stake. If you know that, if you do not do your duty in this crisis, your children will rise up and curse you for baving sold their birthright. Let me appeal to you, then. to let our actions be as harmonious as pos-sible. If we send honest and good men to in order to save your Government and my Government from being overthrown; and while he has had to contend with the armies of the enemy in the field, he has had a still more subtle, and in many real to the National Convention, we will then have a standard-bearer worthy of this great Union party. We will go into the contest, I care not what the opposition may be, with our banners streaming in the air, and on them shall be written "Union and Victory."

The convention then, on motion of Mr. PENNEY, proceeded to the choice of four delegates at large to the National Convenof Pennsylvania, for I recollect that there | tion, and two Senatorial electors, and reare those who are willing, at least, to stand | sulted in the choice of Hon. Simon Cam-
