TO THE FRIENDS OF THE SOL-DIER.

Soldiers who are on detached duty so as to be absent from the voting place of their company or regiment have the privilege of voting according to the provision of the law which we publish in another column. All soldiers so situated must enclose their ballots in a scaled envelope with the proper evidence of their right to vote and an affidavit that the will not vote at any other election or in any other manner at the said election, and transmit this with a written or printed authority t some qualified voter in the election district of which said soldier is a resident. The perso who receives this sealed ballot will keep it unbroken until the day of the election and then deliver it to the election officers with the oath that it is in all respects just as he County to take measures to reach such soldiers at once. Tickets are printed and can spapers and instructions to all soldiers who are absent from the place where army polls are opened. If this is not attended to at once we will lose many votes. Let every friend of the soldier go to work at once.

On Thursday evening, a large and enthusiastic Meeting of the friends of Lincoln an l Johnson, was held in the Court House .-Capt. E. Beatty, was called to the Chair; James Marshall, E. M. Biddle, Jacob Noffthe speakers, and their telling points were frequently applauded by the audience. The issues before the people were discussed in a fair, calm and argumentative manner which riveted the attention of all present. The Court House was filled to overflowing with

OUR DUTY.

In an emergency like the present there is duty devolving on every man in the community. We are engaged in a political contest on the issue of which depends not only the welfare but the life of our nation. A great party is struggling for the control of our Government, which is fully committed to a policy which will ensure our National destruction. Their success would be but the precursor of the final dissolution of the Union and the overthrow of our Government. We have spent almost four years in a bloody and exhausting conflict to prevent traitors from accomplishing this by force. We have contributed men and mothey, freely, lavishly to preserve our Government. Our best and bravest men have sought the buttle field by thousands, in order that they might rescue our country from impending destruction .-They have offered their lives a willing suc rifice in the country's cause and their bravery and patriotism have saved our Government and have nearly overcome its foes .-They have nobly done their duty, but are we performing ours? We profess to believe that the country's best interests require the re-election of the noble patriot, who has thus far guided the Ship of States in safety, through the most terrific temperts and over the roughest seas. We believe that a change of rulers now would be ruinous to the Union cause. We feel as-ured that the success of our opponents would be the country's ruin from this wholesale and indiscriminate deand the loss of all we have acquired by our mmense sacrifices and efforts. We hardly lare contemplate the consequences of the Democracy, and yet what are we doing to prevent their triumph? There is a careless ness and apathy on the part of many of our friends that is really astonishing. They exsect success and like to tell us what a glorious thing it will be to overcome those who are always cursing the Government while enjoying its protection. They manifest the tmost concern that the campaign shall be earried on vigorously but they never think t their business to do any thing to make it vigorous. They think there should be fre-the party, but they studiously avoid all political discussions and can't afford the time of trouble necessary to counteract the efforts of the first party of the fir of the politicians of the other side.

Now it is high time that every Union man n the County should go actively, carnestly diligently to work. But a few weeks renain for effort and they must not pass by nimproved. Let every friend of Lincoln and Johnston resolve that he will devote Agricultural possibly spars to the success of the cause. Let everydistrict became vascid, thereughly call meetings at every suitable or available point; districts come in and then make up spars and decuments to every house; see that arrangements be made for every house; see that arrangements be made for election against our every voter at house of the solid and between or effect maried to being our every voter at house the point of the other actions and therefore they have greater interest than they have presented as a point of the collection and point the work) and pointed to a faithful to execute the formula of the trait. Now we appeal to the had in any former contest. Politicians might friends of the soldier in every district in our survive its loss but the people causet. Then let there be no shirking duty. There is much hard work to be done and every one be had at the office of the Carlisle American must help to do it.
