Account of the Raid by an Eye-

The Troy Times of yesterday contains a graphic account of the raid into St. Alban's, by an eye-witness of the transaction, Mr. BALDWIN, conductor of the sleeping-car train from Rouse's Point to Troy. We make the following extracts.

THE STEALTHY ARRIVAL. About a week ago, some strangers came to board at the American hotel and the Tre-mont in St. Alban's. One of them, calling himself Colonel, appeared to be a prominent one among them. He was a man of medium size, about thirty-five years of age, appeared to have no name than that of Colonel. Others of the party, who subsequently proved to be thieves and murderers, were habited in to be thieves and murderers, were habited in the uniform of United States officers, and all wore a sort of a wrapper or cape, and each carried a satchel slung by a shoulder strap at the left side, after the manner of English sportsmen. There seemed to be no concert of nation between any of these men. ncert of action between any of these men -no conversation ensued that would attract attention-to-all appearances, they were substitute brokers, contractors or speculators such as are often seen in frontier towns—St Alban's only being sixteen miles from the Canada line. On Tuesday night the strangers in the village were reinforced by others who arrived in the train from Rouse's Point and new faces appeared at the breakfast tables of the hotels. On Wednesday morr ing, a further batch of conspirators arrived ill about thirty raiders had collected. And then the plot was ripe for execution.

HOW THE ATTACK COMMENCED. At 3 o'clock P. M., on Wednesday, Oct. At 3 o'clock P. M., on Wednesday, Oct. 19, St. Alban's was in a state of apparent quiet common to New-England towns. Our informant, Conductor Baldwis, was standing on the steps of the American Hotel, just as the town bell rang out the hour of 3 o'clock when then he saw a man coming out of the door of the First National Bank, and as he did so a citizen on the steps knocked him down. A second was also floored; but the third-raider had a pistol in his hand and the citizen retreated. The conductor thought the affair was the freak of some drunken men, but soon he saw symptoms of a disturbance at other points. Several men appeared to be rushing about with pistols, in parties at from five to ten. One of these gangs met a Mr. Morrison and presented a weapon to him, demanding his surrender.—

Our informant saw him throw up his hands and then sink on the ground, and then he realized for the first time that the village was attacked by an organized body of mon, bent on pillage and regardless of human life. BANKS ROBBED-PEOPLE SHOT. Meanwhile the attack had been simultancons on the three banks—the First National. Franklin County and St. Alban's. Particentered each. When the Teller or Cashier. suspecting no evil, asked what they desired. the leader presented a pistol, with the exclamation, "You are my prisoner. If you move an inch, we'll blow you through." Others of the gang then went to the vault and drawers, and laid violent hands on all the specie, bills and other articles which they could find, and filled the side satchels which each wore, as before described. Of course resistance was useless, for the surprise was complete. At the Franklin County Bank, the raiders pushed the Cashier and on of the clerks into the vault and locked them and the prisoners were not released until late in the night.

A REIGN OF TERROR. Then commenced a reign of terror in the village. Plunder had been accomplished, and violence followed. The raid was brief, but the scene must have been terrible while it lasted. The thirty or more marauders rushed up and down the streets firing their pistols in every direction. Whenever they saw a citizen or group of men, they would aim in that direction. They had magnificent arms—seven-shooters—and as fast as one weapon was unloaded, they drew another and kept up the fusilade. Mr. Baldwinsayhe can only liken the sounds to the noise of a Fourth of July morning in a large city. There was a continuous bang! bang! bang! Of course this reckless use of fire-arms could not continue long with nobody have. The Sheriff of the county soon fell; Mr. Hunof his store; a woman, whose name we could not learn, fell, and, more dastardly than all, as the guerrillas were leaving the town, they saw a little girl in the street, and wantonly killed her. And the bullets were Teas. flying around among the buildings in the Main-street, nearly all of which bear marks of lead. Windows were broken, blinds chipped and people wounded. It was a scone that beggars all description.

THE "CHIVALRY" AS HORSE-THIEVES. Of course, the entire populace rushed into the streets. They had no idea of the carre of the disturbance—for they were engaged in their usual daily avocations, and the raid was "like thunder from a clear sky." The was "like thunder from a clear sky." The guerrillas, as they rushed through the town, stopped all of the citizens they met and gathered them in squads under guard of a few men armed with pistols—retaining them as prisoners on the common. Meanwhile, the remainder of the banditti started to see the second of the same barres. The started the second of the same transfer of the same barres. while, the remainder of the banditti started to secure horses. They took two from Field's livery stable, five from Fuller's, several from the American and Tremont stables, and $1,200 span from Mr. Clark, of Rutland -securing about thirty in all. Their adroitness in cutting off harness was marvelous; and the contents of the saddle-makers' sheps soon enable the villains to become cavalry, instead of foot-onds.

THREATS OF THE "CONFEDERATES." Meanwhile their threats were terrible. "We will burn your d-d town," they said. "We will treat you as the people of Atlanta were treated." They also said: "We are coming back again, and will burn every town in Vermont." Their imprecations were of a blasphemous character. They claimed to be Confederates. Our informant does not think any of the men were Canadians. They all looked like Americans, and Southerners at that. These demons continued their infernal pistol-firing—killing a man named Morse after they began to "take pri-

THE RETREAT. All this was the work of twenty minutes. Conductor Baldwin says he can scarcely realize that it all happened, and so much was done in so short a time. The guerrillas haying all secured horses and saddles, commenced their retreat. They abandoned the prisoners and rode off northward, firing their pistols as they proceeded. It appeared to be their intention to make an attack on the Missequoi Bank at Sheldon. PURSUIT.

When the villagers became thoroughly aroused to what had happened, they acted in a manner worthy of their Green Mountain sires in the days of the Revolution. Captain Conger, with eight men, started in swift pursuit; twenty more followed in half an hour. People seized guns, pistols, cutlasses and clubs, and came out into the streets. Stores were closed—business was suspended. There was a Babel of suggestions, questions, incidents, escapes, comparisons of losses, and speculations as to the future. Telegrams were sent to Montpelier, and the citizens made preparations for home defence.

THE AUTHORITIES AROUSED. The Legislature which was in session at Montpeller, and the Governor received dispatches from St. Alban's at 5 o'clock, announcing the raid. The former appointed a committee; the latter ordered two thousands and accommittee the latter ordered two thousands. sand of arms and ammunition from the arse-nal at Vergennes, and sent one hundred Benton and one hundred volunteers from Burlington and one hundred trusty firemen from Brattleboro. Gen. Dix, at New York, was communicated with, and gave orders or prompt pursuit.

VERMONT UNDER ARMS.

Conductor Baldwin left St. Alban's at 8. o'clock last ovening running slowly to keep out of the way of special trains filled with volunteers and arms. At Burlington the patizons were on guard to protect the town. They refused to allow the Lake boat "Canataly refused to allow the bast "Canataly refused to allow the boat." day retused to allow the Lake boat "Canada" to land last hight, until they found out whether rebels or Captain Flagg commanded her. During the afternoon, when the raid was telegraphed, the steamer "fired up?" at Bouse's Point, and ran out into the lake, where she anohored, as a measure of precaution. At St. Alban's, "martial law" prevalled last night. If must be garrisoned by several hundred troops by this time, and the frontier is under arms.

THE peculiar taint of infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an en-feebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes in contamination is variously caused by mercurial contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filth habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases which it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become alectous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indirection, dyspensia, and liver comduce indigestion, dyspepsin, and liver com-plaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz. purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh"

healthy, vowcannot have scrofulous disease. Ayor's Sarsaparilla s compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by al who have given it a trial. That it does com bine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Erup tions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Ery sipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be carned the directions for its use, and some o the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitu-tions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of Aver's Sarsaparlla, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the st of Sarsingvilla in alterative power. Reits aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood; purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the yual functions, and thus expels the distempers which lark within the system or burst out on any We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsapardla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the alllicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the discase. This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done. Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co.,
