A Terrible Catastrophe-The Most Aw-Sufferers.

November, 20th 1864. and fatal casualty over known in this country. Yesterday morning, at an early hour, a very large train left Orange, N. J., en- running order.-Jersey City Times. route for the White House, Washington, D. C., under charge of chief engineer George B. McClellan. It was expected to make the trip through in twelve hours. The train was heavily laden with merchandize shipped by a New York foreign banking house. August Belmont agent. All the Copperheads in the country were passengers, besides a few innocent people who had been deluded into taking an ex- and punish the rogues. cursion by the offer of deadhead tickets. Horatio Seymour, of New York, was the conductor, assisted by Faanklin Pierce, C. L. Vallandigham and Joel Parker. Ben Wood was appointed to hold the money received for fares, and wore a hat band marked conspicuously 41,144. For convenience and comfort the passengers were classified in the cars, the fogies under the charge of Robert C. Winthrop and Millard Fillmore, the short boys under John Van Buren and Capt. Rynders, the mountebanks and minstrels led by Jack Rogers and Marble, editor of the World, and the few elergymen marshaled by the Revs. C. Chauncey Burr and H. J. Van Dyke. There were several cars that were intended to be attached to the train that did not make the connection -one from Canada, with G. N. Saunders conductor, filled with Governor Seymour's "friends," were both detained by the unwarrantable interference of a man named Benjamin F. Butler, who came to New York last week to "stop a spell." The cars were gorgously decorated with such elegant mottoes as the following; "Buther has riz," "Abe Lincoln is a gorilla," "Little Mike's the b'y be jabers," "Niggers for slaves, Irishmen for our masters." "We are coming, brother Jeff," "Let us change our base," " Here's your spaniels for you, Massa Davis." They moved out of the Orange depot engineer hesitated when the final moment of departure came, about stepping on the by a little expedient of Fernando Wood, who pulled him into the train backwards by the coat tail. Engineer McClellan was dressed in the full rig of a Major General, for which Uncle Sam paid. He was very no further assurance than the burst of preferagunboat to a riding on such alocomotive. The engine was a new one, built at Chicago last August, but on a plan designed by Benedict Arnold, subsequently improved by Aaron Burr and Jno. C. Calhoun. It was built to the order of Jeff. Davis, and bore the engaging name of "Cessation," which was adopted by a tions and emanating from the same par-

It occasioned a good deal of remark that hardly any soldiers took passage on the train. There were some men named Grant, Sheridan, Sherman, Hooker, and TRADE.—A dutchman who had been try-tices. Dix around, who very ungenerously ex- ing to make money by selling dry goods, pressed doubts as to the safety of the track and the ability of the engineer, and it is supposed this prejudiced the "blue coat" train refused to have an American flag on old rate, and, said he, "When I went to the engine, and the soldiers have a stubborn feeling of prejudice on that question. Notwithstanding these slight drawbacks took my eight pieces home and marked the train moved off, with the good wishes a high profit on 'em, and sold dem fast and cheers of all the rebel soldiers in-Lee's army, all the British Aristocrats, and the pirate Semmes and his friends. From all that can be learned from the incoherent talk of the few survivors of the six pieces home and put an awful profit sad catastrophe it appears that there was on dem, and, dinks I, I must make montrouble from the very start.

The engineer and his fireman, Pendleton, quarreled all the trip, about the method of firing up, and the conductors and twelve pieces, but de calicos had gone up the fare-takers were constantly giving contradictory orders to the brakemen, and the nervous censervative old gentleman pulled frantically at the bell-rope, giving en- I makes a heap o' money. Some assert that an old Illinois joker, familiarly called Old Abe, caused the disaster by putting a rail on | man or woman who could give any other the track; others that the fireman, Pen- for falling in love. Any attempt to prove dleton, let too much water out of the peace tank in McClellan's boiler; others that - Vallandigham ran the train off the track by dropping an "O. A. K." stick of timber under the wheels; still others that the engineer was frightened by suddenly discovering a "nigger on his wood-pile" on the tender, and overturned the locomotive by attempting to "change his base" too suddenly. Whatever be the cause, there is no doubt of the complete wreck of the whole train, and the sad fate of the exoursionists. There are but slight fragments of the more distinguished persons that are recognizable. Ben Wood is missing altogether, except his 41,144 badge. Fornando was recognized by a copy of the statute of limitations in his trowsers pocket; Horatio Seymour and Vallandigham were found locked in each other's arms, crushed under "certain dry-goods boxes" that contained bogus soldiers ballots. Gov. Parker was badly bruised, and lost his eye sight, so that he "can't see it" any more; Pendleton was pitched headlong into a nasty ditch filled with secession mud, which choked him; and as for the engineer, he was blown so much higher than Gilderoy's kite, and was so mi- er the cloth with the mixture, and lay out in

A heavy Hoax-A Marrying Parson and a Popular Undertaker— The Victims.

A good hoax is sometimes allowable. and the following statement of occurrences that actually transpired last evening will do to laugh over once, but their repetition in any community would soon call for some effectual measures to detect

It was after nine o'clock when one o our ministers-who, from his genial and lively disposition, is fast earning the reputation, of the Marrying parson-returned from his Wednesday evening meeting, and was handed a note by his wife, signed by Chas. M. Ray, that requested him to call at a certain house on Fifth street, to perform a marriage ceremony. Inclosed was the liberal fee of ten dollars. Not to be behind time, the parson hurried off to No .- Fifth street. When the door was opened, he found a gay assemblage of young folks, the gentler sex pre dominating. Announcing the object of his visit, he was surprised that no one seemed to understand it; and the giggle of the girls gave him an inkling of the fact, that a call from one of his profession was a novelty to that crowd. He was assured that the was to be no marriage, and thereupon he beat a hasty retreat.

Thinking the figure 6 in 5th street. might be meant for 3, our parson hurried off in that direction, but although he was treated more courteously at the corresponding number in that street, he found nobody disposed to be married. Being satisfied that he had been hoaxed he walked by No. --- Fifth street and while talking with a couple of policemen as to the claracter of the house, his friend, a popular undertaker passed him in solemn gaily, to the tune of Dixie, though the gait and assistant by his side. Turning around, and exchanging his "good evening," the minister was astonished to see platform, and was at last only got on board the undertaker stop at the same door where he had met so strange a reception. "I have come," said the grave voice of the man of death, "to lay out the corpse in this house." "There is no corpse here," said the servant, and he needed laughter from the giddy heads within to satisfy him of the fact, and he too, tnrned away to look for the object of his mission. But the irrepressible "Hah, hahs!" of our jolly parson called him back, and a statement of his own experience at once convinced the undertaker that the proposed marriage and death were alike fieslight change from the original designation and emanating from the same party. The serious part of the joke is, that the parson found his ten dollar bill as spurious as the rest of the affair.

gives the following account of his progress: he commenced business with ten pieces of calico on his shelves, when priboys. Besides this the conductor of the ces began to advance. He sold out at the pieces of calico, bought only eight. I enough and when dey was all gone I went to de city, and by thunder, it bought only six pieces. Well dinks I dis is making money backwards. But I took my ev, like smoke. But when I got dem six sold, I took de money I got to de city, again, and I thought I would get about again, and I got only four pieces. Vell I took dem home, and I put on a much big. ger profit as I did before, and dinks now

> FALLING IN LOVE .- " Because" is laughed as a woman's reason for doing a foolish thing, but there never was a man otherwise only proves they did not full in love at all. Some people fall in love with the swiftness and force of an electric shock, while with others the process is so gradual that the fact is not discovered until some accident or emergency reveals it to the interior perception. Second love succeeds first love much more easily than is generally imagined. A sigh or so; a tear or two; a sudden fondness for Byron.; a neglect, for once, of one's favorite dish at the dinner table, a determination to inquire which is the easiest mode of ending life, drowning or Prussia acid; a love of solitude and moonlight; a feeling that nobody can understand, or sympathize, or appreciate you, and then a revival of spirits and a conviction that it is wrong to commit suicide; and then-second, or third, or fourth love even, as the case may beperhaps the unhappy individual gets married, and the attachment remains permanent: but if it be so, is it from force of habit, a sense of duty, or because the sub-ject has really and truly fillen in love for wasted it to ashes; footsteps under their

"Again, we hear it said that such man is a good farmer, because he always raises good crops of grain. But good crops of grain are by no means a certain index of a good farmer, any more than good buildings and good fences furnish certain evidence of a good farmer. As it is the cherished affection and decided course of conduct of a man which enable us to form any correct opinions of his true character, in a moral or a religious point of view, so we are to decide on the excellence of a man, as a farmer, by his practices and by his system of farm man agement, when viewed as a whole-as all moving forward in harmonious combination, with everything just as it should

"We will enumerate the most prominent and important characteristics by which a good farmer may be designated "1st. A good farmer makes as much manure as he can from the productions of his fields, and suffers none of it to be wasted, but applies it annually to the soil. 2nd. A good farmer keeps his soil in a good state of fertility by adopting a rotation of crops, which is adapted to the kind of soil which he cultivates. 3rd. A good farmer will underdrain such soil as may be excessively wet, before he attempts to raise a good crop of anything. 4th. A good farmer is one who derives his profits from the soil which he cultivates, and pays all his expenses from the income of his farm, and at the same time does not suffer the productiveness of his farm to deteriorate. There are a great many farmers in our country who have commenced farming operations on a poor farm, with little or no capital at all, and have supported their families, erected their buildings, paid for their land, and have no other source of revenue but their soil; and at the end of twenty years, their soil would produce more than twice as much of any kinds of crops which they were accustomed to raise, as it would when they commenced their farming operations. 5th. A good farmer will take an agricultural paper, and will feel willing to communicate a portion of his good experience for the benefit of other farmers. who may be inquiring, with no little anxiety, how they may improve their system of farm management.

Every domestic animal that roams over our fields, or feeds on the contents of our graneries, finds a ready purchaser. Animals, vegetables and fruit alike are in demand. It matters not for the purpose of paying Burt's Rat and Mouse, Roach and Bed debts, whether the money received for farm products be fifty, sixty, ninety, or more, cents below par; a dollar cancels dollar's worth of debt, contracted even in the good old days of specie for which men sigh. A few years ago it took in many parts of the West, ten bushels of corn to bring a dollar. Everything else that the farmer produced by his toil and care was equally low in price. Then indeed, were hard times, and a crushing load of debt settled down upon the shoulders of all-for the great mass of western farmers came here poor in money, rich only in faith and hope.

If a man's crop and stock last year brought him $1,000 and his expenses were $500, this year his receipts will be $2,000, while his expenditures, even alowing them to have doubled-when they will not have done in one case in ten, will allow of a profit double that of last vear. And what is a year or two of economy now-economy of the most rigid kind, that shall cut off all luxuries of life, compared with the years of happiness that shall follow, when the homestead is free from encumbrance, when all the stock and machinery are the property of the landholders; when there is no account at the grocer's, nor the dry-goods merchant's nor blacksmith's.

It will be a glorious epoch when the farmers of these states own their own farms, and this we believe may at once be, if proper advantage be taken of the times in which we now live.

A BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT.-A writer. whose life has passed the merdian, thus eloquently discourses upon the speedy flight of time:

ontamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure at fifth and fifthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniqui ties of the fathers upon their children." The diseases which it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver com-plaints; on the skin, cruptive and cutaneous affections. These all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz. purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, with feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you can not have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla compounded from the most effectual anti dotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does comwho have given it a trial. That it does com-bine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Er sipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspensia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICA ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be carned the directions for its use, and some o the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sec-tions of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitu
