PROCEEDINGS OF PROVOST MARSHAL'S OFFICE. Since the promulgation of the order from the War Department, discontinuing drafting and recruiting, little or nothing has been done at the Provost Marshal's Office of this District. The Rebellion has succumbed to the strong hearts and military genius of the loyal, and we are happy in the belief that the disagreeable duties incident to the examination and mustering of drafted men into the service, will never be resumed.

The following deserters have been received and disposed of since last report: EMANUEL KEESEY, Co. "D." 195th P. V. arrested. ALEX. CLELAN, Co. "F" 18th Penna. Cavalry, reported under President's Proclamation.

On Tuesday morning the 25th inst., a man giving the name of JOHN SMITH, was brought into the office under charge of Detective E. P. ZINN. This was the individual who on the night previous created such an alarm by his represented nearness of resemblance to the assassin J. WILKES BOOTH. The country near the residence of Mr. D. RINGWALT was thronged with people, all evincing a decided disposition to assist in the capture of said "BOOTH." But the latter, or rather his prototype, eluded the vigilance of his pursuers and made his escape to the neighborhood of Mechanicsburg, where he was arrested by Detective Zinn, who had been previously advised.

The prisoner is a spare-built man with keen black eyes, black hair and moustache, and a countenance at once indicating rascality, and a perfect willingness to commit if backed by a sufficient inducement, any black deed. His statement is the most contradic- Spring and Summer Clothing of tory and unsatisfactory we have ever heard a prisoner euunciate, being a tissue of falsehoods from begining to end. He represented his home as being at Brooklyn, N. Y., and his business as that of a peddlar. He came direct from Hagerstown, Md."

This . John Smith (which cognomen by the way is entirely assumed,) was forwarded to Harrisburg and immediately taken charge of by the military authorities at that post.-He has since been strongly guarded to the office of Col. BAKER. Chief of Government Detectives, Washington D. C.

FAIR OF THE EMPIRE HOOK & LAD DER Co. We are pleased to learn that this very useful and efficient company, is to hold a Fair for one week in Rheem's Hall, commencing on the 13th of May. There is no Company, connected with the Fire Department of the borough, that has higher claims on the patronage of the citizens, than the Empire Hook & Ladder Co. In every emergency, where their services were re quired, they have been promptly on the ground, with their apparatus, of the efficient use of which they have rendered good ser vice in saving property, and extinguishing

A new feature is to be introduced at this fair, which will, no doubt, create a considerable degree of interest. The company have purchased an elegant Silver Fire Horn in Philadelphia, at a cost of about one hundred dollars which is to be contested for, by the Union, Cumberland and Good Will Companies. A sufficient number of tickers have been prepared, on which are printed the names of the several companies, will be sold to the members and adherents of these companies, and during the Fair, they will be deposited in a box properly secured; at the conclusion of the Fair, the box will be opened in the presence of a Committee of each Company, and that one which has purchased the largest number of tickets will take a

The Atlantic Monthly for May is already issued. James Russell Lowell contributes a dream-phantasy, styled "Gold Egg;" John G. Whittier, "The Grave by the Lake;" Gottschalk No. 3 of his "Notes of a Pianist:" O. W. Holmes, "Our Battle-Laureate;" Mrs. Stowe, "The Chimney Corner," T. B. Carnman, Wm. K Aldrich, "Castles," and less known writers pieces of varying merit. "Diplomacy of the Revolution" furnishes a theme for Prof. Greene too rich in material to be exhausted in a single number, or even in a volume. "Out of the Sea" is a sketch beginning on the lee coast of New Jersey, and introducing Eckels, Louisa a quiet Quaker girl of Philadelphia, who had Emminger, Eliza Filey, Laura C Forver, Jno taught the freedmen at Port Royal, and gone to Gettysburg and Antictam with sanitary Fisher, Elizabeth 2 Sites, Samuel Failer, Amos Sellers, Mary R stores. It is a dramatic romance by the authorof "Life in the Iron Mills," one of the best papers that has appeared in the Atlantic. Our Young Folks for May has all of its articles illustrated, .. Edmund Kirk, Mrs. Stowe, Gail Hamilton, Mayne Reid and Carleton Care among the contributors. "Farming for Boys," "Afloat in the Forest," and two or three other articles, are of a practical tenden Gibeon Caroline cy, and will not only awaken interest, but Griner Annie M also convey a large amount of useful information. As we have said before, it is one of the best serials for young folks that has ever been published in this country. Herman Chas
