A SAD AFFAIR. - The Newville Star of the Valley gives the following particulars of a most sad accident that recently occurred in that vicinity, and which is another warning to parents who have fire arms in their possession. Says the Stor :

George, Effic, and Richard, children of J. Paxton and Jane Woods, residing near the were up stairs by themselves in their father's George, aged about thirteen, went to cohe-t, and happening to find an old-single barreled pocket pistol, took it out to play with it. Raising the hammer and seeing no cap on the tube. e playfully presented it at his little brother Richard, not quite four years old, and remarking. Now, Dickey, Um going to shoot von P. he pulled the trig ger. The hapless George did not dream that the justol was loaded, but like too many others he was dreadfully mistaken. There must have been enough. If percussion powder in the tube to ignite the charge, for a moment after he pulled the frigger, his little brother was writhing before him with a bullet in his brain. The ball entered into the middle of his for head and penetrated several inches into the skull. He screamed piteous by for about five minutes, and then sunk into state of unconsciousness, and died about I

DARING ROBBERY .- The Shippensburg News gives the following account or a we robbery that was perpetrated us on a citizen of this county at Harrisburg, last week. It exposes a new trick. such as we have not heard of before:

o clock that night.

"On Monday morning last, Mr. David Wilson, residing in this vicinity, started on a visit to his relations in the West. On reaching Harrisburg, he procured his ticket and proceeded towards the train. Before entering the car which he supposed was the proper one, he was met by two individuals, who in the most courteous and accommoduting manner, informed him that he was taking the wrong car, and represented one more distant as the car he should enter. Mr. W. utterly unsuspicious of any deception, at once proceeded to the car pointed out, accompanied by the robbers. On entering the car, which was unoccupied, his pocket book was peremptorily demanded of him. Finding the body of the southers and the Yellow is referred. resistance to be useless, and perhaps danger-ous, he yielded to their demands. Whereous, he yielded to their demands. Where-upon the robbers glided out of sight, and fall under to deduce out in a high state of cultivation have since been unheard of. The pocket, the improvements are a large me nev and some valuable papers. Persons travellying cannot be too wary of the sharks who, in the garb of gentlemen and under the pretence of friendship, are tooking out for innocent and unsu picious vietnes."
