OFFICIAL RETURNS OF THE STATE ELECTORS.

ROOHS UNION STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE. No. 1107 Chestnut Street, PHILADELPHIA, October 14, 1865.

To the Editor of the North American and U. S. Gazette.

I send you below a statement of the returns as given at the late election in Pennsylvania, as far returned to this committee on the (Saturday) evening.

The losses and gains, as compared with the vote of 1862, are also given.

These returns embrace forty-two counties of the State, leaving twenty-four not yet officially returned.

Majorities, 421, 430, 811, 401, 461, 279, 321

Union majority in 42 counties, 20,340

Opposition, was 3382. This majority has been given to the Union by the vote of the twenty-four counties yet to be returned.

From all these we have reports, but not all in. The majorities for the Union exceed five hundred votes in Luzerne and exceed five thousand votes. This will give at least 22,000 majority for the Union State Electors in 1865 on the home vote, a majority exceeding that given in 1862 for President Lincoln by both the army and home votes.

Of the returns Senators, seven were Union and seven were Opposition. We have lost none of the seven but gained one in Luzerne on the home vote, and are only thirty-four votes short of another in Adams and Franklin.

THE LATE RAILROAD ACCIDENT NEAR LANCASTER.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 15.—The following is a list of the killed by the accident near the Pennsylvania railroad, near this city.

Miss Clara, wife of James P. Barr, of Pittsburg, Sarab Willet, of New Cumberland, Cumberland county, Pa.; Col. Butler and wife, Leiwstown, Pa., W. H. Butler, clerk of the Surveyor General's office, Mrs. Yetta and Geo. G. Milwaukee, and one lady and two girls 10 and 15 years of age, names unknown.

The bodies of all that have been identified have been sent home to their friends.

LANCASTER, Oct. 15, 9 P. M.—Yesterday afternoon, as the day express train east on the Pennsylvania railroad was en route, in four miles of this city a size of the hind passenger car broke, and a part of it striking the bottom of the car near the front end, tore out a part of the bottom, precipitating the occupants of three seats on each side to the ground, who were run over by the wheels of the rear truck. Eight persons were killed outright and another died some hours afterwards. Only two others were badly hurt.

The train consisted of seven passenger and two baggage cars. The last four passengers were thrown from the track, one of which was turned on its side. No one in these cars was seriously hurt. The accident occurred nearly opposite Mrs. Kaufman's mill, in a cut in the road nearly midway between Lancaster and Landisville. The passengers were immediately brought to Lancaster, where preparations were made to minister to the wants of the wounded, the entire medical force of the city being assembled at the depot as soon as the news of the accident reached here.

One of the killed, was the wife of Hon. James P. Barr, of Pittsburg, Surveyor General of Pennsylvania. Col. Butler (killed) was whiskey inspector in Philadelphia. Mrs. Willet (killed) was the wife of Theodore Willet, New Cumberland, Pa.—The three children who were with Mrs. Yetta or Greta, of Milwaukee, state that their father had died in the south, and that they were going to an aunt in Philadelphia, who was the only one left.

Three females, evidently a mother and two daughters, and apparently Germans, supposed to be recently from California, have not yet been identified. One of the girls may have been 15 and the other 9 years of age. All the bodies except that of Mrs. Yetta and the three unidentified have been sent to their relatives. The others have been temporarily deposited in a vault in one of our cemeteries.

Col. Isaac Maffer, of Philadelphia, is supposed to be somewhat injured internally. He is the only one known to have received serious injury.

The train was running on schedule time, and at usual rate of speed. The breaking and the accident, which was the cause of the accident, appears to have been an unavoidable occurrence.

The officers of the company here have been active and unflinching in their efforts to minister to the comfort of the wounded—especially those who were injured in identifying the bodies of some of the dead.

The Solicitor of the company for this district has spared no exertions to secure the identification of some of the dead.
