

le make Webmond with R reason in a content for a content. I con-

Dr. I. C. LOUMID GENERAL	ea,	"Ah, my sister," said her companion,	dies' boarding school. Each woman having	ineffectually. A month subsequently an-	per, una nurriea on to the briae's nouse.	as easily as possible, and the disconsols
Pomfret Street few doors	Stiff Brush, or Dunkard Hat;	"why create regrets when there is no rem-		other murder was perpetrated under similar	When he arrived there the guests were gone.	couple took themselves down stairs in below South Hanover st Jnly 1, 1861.	also the soft white brush hat, and any shape or style	edy? We can scarcely pay our rent."	there. The culinary department is under		Ho gave as an excuse that, feeling unwell,	coupte took themselves down stairs in
	of hat will be made to order:				he had taken a dose of morphine and had.	very blushing manner, and looking ve
G. Z. BRETZ, M. D;	He has also on fiand a splendid assortment of all styles of hats from the best manufacturers in Phila-	"You are right; and yet I wish, for once		victim, also a traveller, had gone to his		much like our first parents when they d
D. D. S., respectfully offers	delphia and New York, which he will sell at the low-	in my life to hear some really good music.	from time to time appoints. She is the		overslept himself, but was now willing to	covered that they were human. The lady p his profeesitnal services to the citizens of Carlisle and	est cash prices. His stock of silk and felt bats for men, boys and children of all kinds from the common	But it is of no use."	stewardess, and carries the keys. A cook	an effeminate young man came down stairs,	face the music and go through the trying or-	cured, as quietly as possible, a pair of h its vicinity. Office North Pitt street. , Carliste, January 5, 1866-3m*	wood to the finest moleskin are unsurpassed. He has	Beethoven looked at me.		and was led out by the porter of the hotel,	deal. By this time the native pride of the	father's pants, which were run into pre alco a lárge assortment of	" Lot us go in," he said.	servants beside, who are under the control	who remembered the fact on the following	fair bride had become aroused, and the sleepy	quial and the Adapta decommend with
TARS. R. A. SMITH'S PHOTO-	CAPS and STRAW HATS,	"Go in !" I exclaimed. "What can we	of the stewardess.	morning, when the murder was discovered.	gentleman was informed that the wedding	pants rolled up about six inches. 7
Street, and Market Square, where may be had all the	of all kinds and at all prices. Call and examine his stock at the old stand in North	go in for?"	When the meals are prepared and ready	This affair caused great excitement in Paris,	was indefinitely postponed. The bride-	joke was to good to be kept; by little a different styles of Photographs, from card to life size,	Hanover Street, before purchasing elsewhere as he	0	the bell rings, and each woman, with her	and redoubled exertions were made by the	groom returned to his pestal and mortar, and IVORYTYPES, AMBROTYPES, AND	feels satisfied he can please you, J. A. KELLER,	an excited tone. "Here is feeling, genius,	children, if she have any, flies down to the	police to ferret out the mysterious assassin,.	the young lady remains at home a fair un-	little it leaked out until the truth had MELAINOTYPES:	June 1. 1866. Agent.	0.5		but still without result. Eleven days after-	gathered flower. It was a near approach to	come to exculpate the happy innocents.
	A few doors north of the Carlisle Deposit Bank, and next to Cornman's shoe store.	understanding. I will play to her and she	dinner table, and is seated as before stated.		a wedding, but "a miss is as good as a smile."
also Pictures on Porcelain, (something new) both Plain and Colored, and which are beautiful productions of	N. BOld Hats repaired, colored and done up in all	will appreciate it." And before I could	Each, on rising, has her children to at-	wards a third victim perished precisely as	• -	A YANKEE TRICK Just before the
the Photographic art. Call and see them	styles at the shortest notice and reasonable rates.	provent him, his hand was upon the door.	tend to, and get ready for breakfast; this	the preceeding two, and in the course of a	-St. Louis Democrat.	claration of independence, a Yankee ped tynes &c.	J. A. K.	A pale young man was sitting by the ta-	over she commences the business of the day,	few months no less than twenty men lost	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	started down to New York to sell a lot
She invites the patronage of the public.	Newville Stoneware Works	ble making shoes; and near him, leaning	arranges her rooms, and sits down to her	their lives by means so exactly identical	A SOLVENT FOR NEW YORK PREJUDICE.	bowls and dishes he had made of may
Feb. 15, 1866.		sorrowfully upon an old fashioned harpsi-		that no doubt was entertained that the	-It is not many years since a colored man	Jonathan traveled over the city, ask
SOMETHING NEW.	THE subscriber is now prepared to de-		A sewing machine is brought into requi-	murderous blows were all inflicted by the		everybody to buy his wares, but no one y
Porcelain Picture or	Ilver to Merchants, the largest assortment of	light hair falling over her bent face. Both	sition and one of the number puncihied to	same hand. Stung to the quick, Fouche, the	York merchant had been in business con-	disposed to purchase.
	liver to Merchants, the largest assortment of Stonoware, Rockingham Wree, &c., over offered in Cum- berland Valley. His stock consists in part of	ngut mar faring over her bent face. Doth		Principal of the ruling so the quick, Fouche, the		a a construint de la const
OPAL-TYPE.	STONEWARE,	were cleanty but very poorty dressed, and	use it.	minister of the police, set all his spics to	nection with him for several years, and from	It happened that a British fleet was th
FHIS beautiful Pieture is now made at		both started and turned toward us as we en-		work, and offered a large reward for the		lying in the harbor of New-York, and Jo
Lochman Gallery, In Dr. Neff's Building, oppo-	Cream Crocks, Butter Pots, Milk Paus, Spittoons, Pitchers, Jugs, Fruit Jars, &c.	tered.	everyday clothing, doing their own color-		tune, and felt that he must treat him kind-	than struck upon a plan of selling his di site the First National Bank, with such perfection and style, tone and finish that it cannot help but please		"Pardon me," said Beethoven, "but I	ing. They are quite proud of the quantity	leled crimes.	ly. When Sunday came, he invited him to	es. He got a naval uniform, by hook or every one. The percelain imparts a most clear and	ROCKINGHAM & YELLOW,	heard music and was tempted to enter. I	of cloth manufactured in their establishment	- One evening a certain B., a member of	go to church with him. He went ; and the	crook (for history doesn't tell where he charming complexion to the picture. All other styles of	Spittoons, Pitchers, Nappios, Bakers, Pio Plates, &c. Glass Flasks, & uit Bottles and Patent Fruit Jars.	am a musician."	overy year. All work hard and take but	the secret police, but who had the appear-		it,) and strutting up town, one morni
	Glass Flasks, Et uit Bottles and Patent Fruit Jars. Stone Water Fountains Churns, Water Pipe, 140	The girl blushed, and the young man,	very little out-of-door exercise. Parties and		the pulpit, in a fushionable church. There	asked a merchant if he had any nice wood
PHOTOGRAPHS,	Tile, &c., furnished when ordered,	5	the theatre are the favorite amusements.	through a narrow street of the Cite, when	· · ·	ware, as the Commodore wanted a lot for
of all sizes,	In facilities for manufacturing, quality of wares and	looked grave—somewhat annoyed.			was a prominent member of the church near	ware, as the commodore wanted a lot for
CARD PICTURES and AMBROTYPES,	prices, he would defy competition. For Price lists &c. Address SAMUEL I. IRVINE,		At the theatre, Brigham and one or two of		the merchant; who saw this with great a-are made in the most perfect manner. A large varie- ty of Frames and Passapartouts, Cases, Albums are	Addross SAMUEL, I. IRVINE, April 13, 1800-Gm: Newville.	you said," continued my friend. You wish		ing youth. B., stopped, turned, and said	mazement. He could not be mistaken; it	The merchant replied that ho had none on hand and will be sold cheap.		to hear-that is-shall I play for you ?"		to himself. "That's a woman in male garb.	was a genuine "nigger," and not a counter-	band; but there was some in town, and if Copying done in the best manner. The public is re- spectfully invited to examine specimens.	The noted "Dry Good" Store in South	There was something so odd in the whole	the children sit in what is called "Brigham's	If it should be she?"	foit. Midway in his sermon the minister	would send in the afternoon he would s
The First Premium has been awarded by late county	Hanover Street.	affair and something so eccentric and plea-	corral." This is in the parquette, about the	At the same moment the handsome	discovered him, and was so confused by it	ply him with pleasure.
Fair to C. L. Lochman, for		sant in the manner of the speaker, that the	centre of the area. The Prophet goes down	stranger also turned, and smiled encourag-	that he lost his place, and almost broke down:	"Very good," said our naval officer,
The Best Photographs.	THE most attractive place in Carlisle	ice seemed broken in a memori and all	once or twice during the evening to the		After service the man who sat near the	will call then."
Feb. 9, 1866.	Is at A. W. Bentz's great,		corral, and chats for a few moments with	"That settles the question," murmured	merchant went to him, and in great indig-	Jonathan now cut for home by the sho
THE REPORT OF THE OWNER WAS A DECIDENT OF THE OWNER	"MERCANTILE EMPORIUM"	smiled involuntarily.		- · · · ·
TREMENDOUS EXCITEMENT !	where can be nurchased the best handsomest and	"Thank you," said the shoemaker; "but	one and another, but in a short time he can	the delighted spy. "Now, if I manage	nation asked,—	est route, and had scarcely doffed his b
New Firm ! New Store ! !- New Goods! !!	where can be purchased the best, handcomest, and cheapest goods in the Country. We have just replen- ished our stock with a large invoice of the choicest	our harpsichord is so wretched, and we have	be seen boside his "dear Amelia" again.	things cautiously, my fortune is made."	"What does this mean ?"-"What does	rowed plumage before down came the m ished our stock with a large invoice of the choicest	no music."	At the Mormon parties much gayety pre-	And retracing his steps, he accosted the	what mean ?"	chant, who, seeing that Jonathan had s
THE undersigned having taken the	goods in the Market, and will continue to renew the supply daily, or as necessity requires.	"No music," echoed my friend. "How	vails. Appearances are maintained some-	unknown:	"That you should bring a nigger into this	none of his wares, offered to take the wh
Store Boom, in Main St., recently occupied by Join D. Gorgas, next door to "Marion Hall," would re-	It would be impossible to enumerate all the articles in our extensive line of business.	then does the Fraulein-" He paused and	what by paying more respectful deference	"I have something very particular to say	church ?''''It is my pew."	if he would deduct fifteen per cent. I spectfully invite the attention of the people of Carlisle	We have now a fine assortment of Ladies Spring	colored up, for the girl looked full at him,	to the first wives on such occasions. Gen-	to you," whispered B., with a knowing leer,	"Your pew, is it? And because it is your	Jonathan said he'd be goll darned if he did and vicinity to my large, varied and well selected Stock of Dry Goods, consisting in part, of	Dress Goods. POPLINS PLAIN AND PLAID.	and he saw that she was blind.	tiles with whom the saints are on good terms	" but it is not possible for us to talk freely	pew you must insult the whole congregaor bry Goods, consisting in part, or MUSLING	CHALLIES OF BEATIFUL PATTERNS &C.,	"T. T optroat your pardon " he stam-	are well received and kindly entertained at		tion !!'	first price
MUSLINS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS.		are well received and kindly entertained at	in the public streets. Might I not invite
CALICOES,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gentleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of,	mered; "but I had not perceived before.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?"	ted," answered the merchant.	The merchant finally paid him down
CALICOES, DELAINES,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE.	mercel; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?"	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?"	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gentleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIN AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS,	mered; "but I had not perceived before.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor!""But he is a friend of mine."	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves formany a long day the
CALICOES, DELAINES,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES.	mercel; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?"	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?"	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gentleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains,	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before." Then you play from ear?" "Entirely."	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor!""But he is a friend of mine."	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gentleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all lengths and widths. We shull be happy to have all call and examine our	mered ; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?"	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at groatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gentleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all longths and widths. We shul be happy to have oil call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes.	mered; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?"	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains, "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our " new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. BENTZ.	mered; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hedy practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!"	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination."	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over ter.
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at groatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gentleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all longths and widths. We shul be happy to have oil call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes.	mered; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hedy practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying ?" "In the Rue del! Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there."	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over tor. MUTTON W. EAGLE May it please
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladics' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860.	mered; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hedy practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, howover; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del? Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Ohristians.""But he	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over ter.
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will selid at ast unlash- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gentleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLB, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860.	mered; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hedy practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her."	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Ohristians.""But he isg worth five million dollars," said the mer-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over tor. MUTTON W. EAGLE May it please
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at groatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fine assort- ment ofdentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery.	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, sinco you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music."	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like."	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his niggor Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant.	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever tor. MUTTON v. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at groatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assor- ment of dentiomen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery.	mered; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, sinco you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music," "None, except street music."	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they contant themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "In deed I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right treek," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over tor. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assor- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STATE AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tasies. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St. adjoing F. Gardner & Cols Machine	mered; "but I had not perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music," "None, except street music."	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?"-"Worth five million dollars !"	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over tor. MUTTON 10. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitris all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Grocery Store of Monamith & Baker, on Main St., adjoining F. Gardner & Co's Machine, Shop and Foundry, have just opposed a new and edge	mercd; "but I had not perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you nover heard any music." "None, except street music." She beemed shy, so Beethoven said no	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del'Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate-	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>a</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?"-"Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,"	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitris all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Grocery Store of Monamith & Baker, on Main St., adjoining F. Gardner & Co's Machine, Shop and Foundry, have just opposed a new and edge	mercd; "but I had not perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you nover heard any music." "None, except street music." She beemed shy, so Beethoven said no	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del'Universite!" "Indeed I I am too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate-	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?"-"Worth five million dollars !"	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over tor. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitris all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Grocery Store of Monamith & Baker, on Main St., adjoining F. Gardner & Co's Machine, Shop and Foundry, have just opposed a new and edge	mercd; "but I had not perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you nover heard any music." "None, except street music." She beemed shy, so Beethoven said no	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are, not permitted to be women, they try to convince them-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del! Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, engaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>a</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?"-"Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,"	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sheep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitris all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Grocery Store of Monamith & Baker, on Main St., adjoining F. Gardner & Co's Machine, Shop and Foundry, have just opposed a new and edge	mercd; "but I had not perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you nover heard any music." "None, except street music." She beemed shy, so Beethoven said no	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del'Universite!" "Indeel I am too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>a</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?"-"Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange.	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride; of place "Shtep dare I say, vat has dis suit to do
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR , atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assor- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS , CASSIMERES , SATTINETTS , JEANS , COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- vains. We feel satisfied that we can offer great bar-	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIL, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery Store of Monagnith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and elo- gant assortment of GLOOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will solt at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hedy practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She beened shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves.	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, howover; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del'Universite!" "Indeed I am too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "I f I am to remain with you during your	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>4</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?"-"Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 52. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the w
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., wo take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Woods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gdines. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar 'Establish-	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STATH AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. DENTZ. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Greery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St. adjoing B. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- pan nesortment of GRODERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will soil at the very lowest prices for will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Euvrelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars,	mered; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was, not mistakon;	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are, not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistakeen my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, engaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Ohristians.""But he is <sub>t</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?"-"Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92 EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the w bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast outsin ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR , all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and gramine cur Now goods, which wear to determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducement is to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas'	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STATH AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. DENTZ. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Greery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St. adjoing B. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- pan nesortment of GRODERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will soil at the very lowest prices for will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Euvrelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars,	mered; "but I had not, perceived before Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was, not mistakon;	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves.	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying ?" "In the Rue del! Universite!" "Indeed ! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her Sex,	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Ohristians.""But he is <sub>t</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain.	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON U. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the w bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor: but my chi
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would he pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great ban- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visitify, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C. ERGOWN,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitris all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we feel confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. BENTZ. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Greery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoin B. Gardner & Co's Machine, Shop and Foundry. have just oponed a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOEBIES, GLASS and QUEENS, which they will sell at the very lewest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family supples, which they will sell at the very lewest prices for any attention to the Eurelea Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the exclusive agen- cy for Galisle, and which thes proved is superiorit over all the the constants.	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She beemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Never during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are, not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir 1 I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del! Universite!" "Indeed I I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal hor sex, "you had better have your baggage brought	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Ohristians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the Iamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment;	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON U. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor: but my cli has rights." "Of course not; but the l
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladles call and gramine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: BROWN, March 16, 1866.	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. A. W. DENTZ. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Greery Store of Monasmith & Daker, of Main St., adjoing B. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will soil at the very lowest prices for is per particle in the line of Family Greerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Carliele, Patcent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carliele, and which has proved for the they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carliele, and which has proved is the prior of the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the they bar of the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the s	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would followhow grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Never during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in-	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "U am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," roplied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "I f I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal hor sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here."	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted home in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever tor. MUTTON vs. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the v bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor: but my cli has rights." "Of course not, but the h of language—" "What care I for de
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would he pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great ban- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visitify, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C. ERGOWN,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STAIL AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. A. W. DENTZ. THE subscribers; having taken the Family Greery Store of Monasmith & Daker, of Main St., adjoing B. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will soil at the very lowest prices for is per particle in the line of Family Greerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Carliele, Patcent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carliele, and which has proved for the they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carliele, and which has proved is the prior of the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the they bar of the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the superiority over all other cans or jars now in use by its great simplify the s	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would followhow grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Never during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in-	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "U den," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," roplied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "I I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal hor sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of-	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars ?" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Héber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the v bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of the language—" "What care I for de 1
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, Deased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater pa- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater pa- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater pa- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater pa- ged in Store, nort door to Marion Hall. Narch 16, 1866. Great Rush for Spring Goods.	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call nod examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opponed a new and ele- pan tassortiment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lewest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Groceries will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patient Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have be by its great simpored its superiority over all other cans or the superiority over all other cans or the sorter of the by the by the set simplify. Porfset reliability in keeping Fruit, and sealed and opened, without injury for sealed and opened, without injury for	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, sinco you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are, not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed I I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longor attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he isg worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Höber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment : "Life bears us on like, the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92 EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of language—" "What care I for de ho of the language, of J understand do h
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assor- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c, we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Even, next door to Marien Hall. S. C. BROWN, March 16, 1866.	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of. TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Greecy Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just oponed a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUENNEW WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Greeerles will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelea Patient Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the conlisive agen- its superiority over all other cans or bestroorting of and and opened, without injury for solad and opened, without injury for the superiority over all other cans or to scate a with which has proved its superiority over all other cans or bestroordinary case with which it is solad and opened, without injury for solad and opened, without injury for solad and opened, without injury for solad and opened, without injury for the system of the warm is to have the scalad ing the solad and opened, without injury for the stroordinary case with which it is	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would followhow grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Never during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in-	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and	<ul> <li>in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?"</li> <li>"I suppose you take me to be a woman ?"</li> <li>was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?"</li> <li>"In the Rue del' Universite!"</li> <li>"In deed! I am too well known to go there."</li> <li>"I am on the right track," thought the spy.</li> <li>"Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like."</li> <li>"Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chatelet, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room.</li> <li>'If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the yourg woman, who no longer attempted to conceal hor sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here."</li> <li>B., overjoyed at the opportunity thus offered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once</li> </ul>	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>q</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the roplyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, w the merchant cursed British officers over ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, '' this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep oyo watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep 1" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my chi has rights." "Of course not; but the 1 of the language, oh ? I understand do I of de State, and dat ish enough for
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great ban- ment in fis visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar (scall and source) and the set of the set of the set of the set of the set of the Post Office, Carlisle, Pu- UTHE embearibles having to the the store	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gan assortment of GROEENTES, GLASS and QUERNS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eureka Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they buy the coxtensive agen- tic superiority over all other cames or the back thout first owning the best. We have also the the KNOX'S PLATENT STEP	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elovate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and	<ul> <li>in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?"</li> <li>"I suppose you take me to be a woman ?"</li> <li>was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?"</li> <li>"In the Rue del' Universite!"</li> <li>"In deed! I am too well known to go there."</li> <li>"I am on the right track," thought the spy.</li> <li>"Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like."</li> <li>"Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chatelet, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room.</li> <li>'If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the yourg woman, who no longer attempted to conceal hor sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here."</li> <li>B., overjoyed at the opportunity thus offered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once</li> </ul>	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he isg worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Höber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment : "Life bears us on like, the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor: but my cli has rights." "Of course not; but the of language." "What eare I for de h of the language, ch ? I understand do h of do State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great ban- ment in fis visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar (scall and source) and the set of the set of the set of the set of the set of the Post Office, Carlisle, Pu- UTHE embearibles having to the the store	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gan assortment of GROEENTES, GLASS and QUERNS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eureka Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they buy the coxtensive agen- tic superiority over all other cames or the back thout first owning the best. We have also the the KNOX'S PLATENT STEP	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hely practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistakeen my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying ?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, engaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>4</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what ?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not; but the h of language.—" "What care I for de h of the language, ch ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this care
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great ban- ment in fis visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar (scall and source) and the set of the set of the set of the set of the set of the Post Office, Carlisle, Pu- UTHE embearibles having to the the store	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, "TABLD," STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carped Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. The Subscribers; having taken the Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoiding & Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opposed a new and ele- gent assortment of GLOOERIES, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will soil at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or which they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carliele, and which has proved its superiority over all other came or its superiority over all other cames or its superiority over all other tars, other jars without first examining the other jars without first examining the its hough be withen to house- keeper should be withen to house- keeper should be withen to Alben, Wo have also KNOX'S PATENT STEP	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, sinco you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. "The brother and sister were silent with	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are, not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also, a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these.	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistakeen my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying ?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, engaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>4</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what ?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not, but the h of language—"" What care I for de for do State, and dat ishe enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this cri is charged with stealing a sheep, and
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assor- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c, we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Even, next door to Marien Hall. S. C. BROWN, March 16, 1866.	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, "TABLD," STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carped Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. The Subscribers; having taken the Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoiding & Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opposed a new and ele- gent assortment of GLOOERIES, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will soil at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or which they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carliele, and which has proved its superiority over all other came or its superiority over all other cames or its superiority over all other tars, other jars without first examining the other jars without first examining the its hough be withen to house- keeper should be withen to house- keeper should be withen to Alben, Wo have also KNOX'S PATENT STEP	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, sinco you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. "The brother and sister were silent with	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THEIR, PARCHAIENTS:Those	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistakeen my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying ?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal hor sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he isaworth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what ?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the roplyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our beat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy, borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92 EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of language" "What care I for de h of the language, oh ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this gi is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat yill do ! dat yill do ! Your gli
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast onleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Foplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New goods, which wear of determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in fils vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Ital. B. C. BROWN, March 16, 1866. Great Rush for Spring Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pu. THE subscriber having taken the Store Room formerly occupied by WM. A. MILLES, next door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pu. D R. Y G O O D S,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of. TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Greery Store of Monasmith & Baker, of Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUERNS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lewest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Greeerles will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They algo call particular attention to the Eureka Patient Glass Fruit Jars, of which they know the cocalisve agen- its superiority over all other cans or the scherer of the staff the built of the suble of the scherer in the line of Family Greeerles will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They algo call particular attention to the Eureka Patient Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the cocalisve agen- tics superiority over all other cans or other jars without first examining the barts of into y Store of Monastry agen the books the scherer will able in NOX'S FATENT STEP ADDERL, an article willen no house other jars without be withen to bay the bost. We have also inNOX'S FATENT STEP ADDERL, an article willen no house of Lash's colobrated WASHING MA. Amidom CLOTHIES WILNDIR, both of which they confidently recommend to give ontire satisfaction.	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She beemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Never during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instanent began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silont with rapture. The former laid aside his work; the latter, with her head bent slightly for-	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENTED. THERE, PARCHATENTS:These who have undergone legal examinations will	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Undeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the meessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom-	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>4</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what ?""Worth five million dollars i" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands. we are happy in hope, and grasp ea-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92 EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of language" "What care I for de h of the language, oh ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this en is charged with stealing a sheep
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast onleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Foplins, also a fino assort- ment of dentiomer's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Woods, which wears of determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that see an offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that see an offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that see an offer greater bar- gains. We feel satisfied that see an offer greater for the S. C: BROWN. March 16, 1866. Great Rush for Spring Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Caulisle, Pau. THE subscriber having taken the Store Room formerly occupied by WM. A. MILES, next door to the Post Office, Caulisle Pa., can offer to the Paulie a New and Fresh supply of	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of. TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery Store of Monsmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gan assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUERNS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eureka Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they will sell at the bus by the great simplify, perfect reliability in keeping Yout, and be cardroding and opened, without information to the Eureka, if they want to buy the best is superiority over all other came of the superiority over all other cames of the superiority over all other the bas there have by the great simplicity, perfect reliability in keeping Fruits and the Amidom cLOTHIES WILING MI, Pivo Dollars, and the Amidom cLOTHIES WILING HAR, both of which they confidently recommend to give on the satisfaction. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale of	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She beemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instiment began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work; the latter, with her head bont slightly for- ward, and her hands pressed tightly over	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to theso. DENIED. THER. PARCHMENTEThese who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del? Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Undeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two porters, carrying on their	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with 'his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our beat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our, young heads; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands. we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but the	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92 EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of language" "What care I for de h of the language, oh ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this gi is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat yill do ! dat yill do ! Your gli
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- ment in firs visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar 'Establish- ment in this visible of that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar 'Establish- ment in this visible of that. B. C: BROWN, March 16, 1866. THE subscriber having taken the Store next door to the Post Office, Caulisle, Pu. THE subscriber having taken the Store next door to the Post Office, Caulisle, Pu. D R. Y G OOD S, Consisting in part of	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of. TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Greery Store of Monasmith & Baker, of Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUERNS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lewest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Greeerles will always be kepf fresh and cheap. They algo call particular attention to the Eureka Patient Glass Fruit Jars, of which they know the cocalisve agen- its superiority over all other cans or the scherer of the staff the built of the subjective of the superiority over all other cans or other jars without first examining the bearts of the by ware to buy the best. We have also iNDX'S FATENT STEP LADDERL, an article willed no house other jars without last to can by the boat. Carlist, an article willed no house other jars without be with whe bas discusted and other jars without at second the base other jars without be withen boat. TADDERL, an article willen no house other jars without be withen to bay the boat. Carlist, colobrated WASHING MA. Amidon CLOTHIES WINNOR MA.	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instiment began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hands pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi-	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elovate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly schoel, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Torritory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHAIENTE:-These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rechester.	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, howover ; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right rack," thought the spy. "U and on the right rack," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," roplied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fored to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two porters, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box,	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the Iamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sentiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our beat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our, young heads; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands. we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but the stream hurries on, and still our hands are	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sheep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles? Dis has nothin to do mit the w bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the 1 tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not ; but the la of the language, ch? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this ci is charged with stealing a sheep, and " Dat vill do ! dat vill do!. Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep. jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn."
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Foplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great plansure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our Now Goods, which we are detormined to sell at great bar- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater bar- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. Durthasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old the Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C. BROWN, March 16, 1866. THE subsoriber having taken the Store Room formerly occupied by WM. A. MILES, next door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa., can offer to the Pablic a New and Fresh supply of D R. Y G O O D S , Consisting in part of OHALLIES, MUSLINS, DELAINES,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLE, STATE AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTES, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1860. The Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, of Main St., adjoing B. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gent assortment of GROCERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Groceries will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars , of which they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carlisle, and which has proved the iars without first compily forceries will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars , of which they have the exclusive agen- cy for Carlisle, and which has proved the cares without first compily for future use. No family should purchase. We have also KINOX'S FATENT'S TEP We have also KINOX'S FATENT'S TEP W	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instiment began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former Inid aside his work; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hands pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elovate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly schoel, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHAIENTS:Theose who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester.	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right rack," thought the spy. "U and on the right rack," thought the spy. "U come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "I I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he, would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two porters, earrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they deposited in the corner of the	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads; the flowers seem to offer thomselves the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but the fatteam hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles? Dis has nothin to do mit the v bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor: but my cli has rights." "Of course not; but the of the language." "What eare I for de lo of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this e is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do! dat vill do!. Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep.—jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn."
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentiemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which weare determined to sell at great bar- ment infis visibled that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visible of the weare of the factor of greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this visible of the second of greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Bestabilish- ment in this visible of the second of greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Bestabilish- ment in this visible of the Neace at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Ital. B. C: BROWN. March 16, 1860. THE subscriber having taken the Store next door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pau. D R Y G O O D S , Consisting in part of OHALLES, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS,	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carped Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the many foregry Store of Monasmit & Baker, on Main St., adjoiding K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gent assortment of GLOOERLIS, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family groceries which they will soil at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or Strong and Strong and which has proved its superiority over all other cases of they super a sticle in the line of Family Browed by they fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or free fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurels Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid mary case with which it is sealed and opened, without fully for every for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid and yould purchase other jars without first examining the confidently recommend to give ontire satisfaction. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale of EARTHEN DRAIN PIPES; to which they would call the attention of Farmers and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles other are defined them are the wear the wear the wear the trans and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work ; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hund's pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of those magical	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elovate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THEIR, PARCHMENTS:—These who havo undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," roplied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "I I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sox, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two portors, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they deposited in the corner of the room.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he isa worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars ?" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Héber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy, borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but ihe atteam hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the v bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not, but the h of the language. oh ? I understand do h of do State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this gi is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do ! dat vill do!. Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep, jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn."
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, att Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fine assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- ment is viewing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. E. C: BROWN, March 16, 1866. CHE Subscriber having taken the Store Room formerly occupied by WM. A, MILES, next door to the Post Office, Cardisle, Pa. DELAINES, DELAINES, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carped Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the many foregry Store of Monasmit & Baker, on Main St., adjoiding K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gent assortment of GLOOERLIS, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family groceries which they will soil at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or Strong and Strong and which has proved its superiority over all other cases of they super a sticle in the line of Family Browed by they fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or free fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurels Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid mary case with which it is sealed and opened, without fully for every for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid and yould purchase other jars without first examining the confidently recommend to give ontire satisfaction. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale of EARTHEN DRAIN PIPES; to which they would call the attention of Farmers and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles other are defined them are the wear the wear the wear the trans and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work ; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hund's pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of those magical	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- solves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THEIR, PARCHMENTS:These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and, an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The, following enses were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the	<ul> <li>in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?"</li> <li>"I suppose you take me to be a woman ?"</li> <li>was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?"</li> <li>"In the Rue del' Universite!"</li> <li>"Indeed! I am too well known to go there."</li> <li>"I am on the right track," thought the spy.</li> <li>"Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like."</li> <li>"Come," replied the other.</li> <li>And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chatelet, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room.</li> <li>"If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the yourg woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here."</li> <li>B., overjoyed at the opportunity thus offered to lodge the meessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring A box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accompanied by two porters, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room.</li> </ul>	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- shup with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>q</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like, the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around usbut iho stream hurries on, and still our(hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more striking and magnificent. We,	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92 EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the w bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of language" "What care I for de h of the language, oh ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this gi is charged with stealing a sheep
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will sell at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Foplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great plansure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater ha- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: BROWN, March 16, 1866.	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carped Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the many foregry Store of Monasmit & Baker, on Main St., adjoiding K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gent assortment of GLOOERLIS, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family groceries which they will soil at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or Strong and Strong and which has proved its superiority over all other cases of they super a sticle in the line of Family Browed by they fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or free fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurels Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid mary case with which it is sealed and opened, without fully for every for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid and yould purchase other jars without first examining the confidently recommend to give ontire satisfaction. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale of EARTHEN DRAIN PIPES; to which they would call the attention of Farmers and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles other are defined them are the wear the wear the wear the trans and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work ; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hund's pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of those magical	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- solves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THEIR, PARCHMENTS:These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and, an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The, following enses were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "U am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the meessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring a, box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two portors, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room. The suppor proviously ordered was now served.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>4</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the roplyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our. young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around usbut the stream hurries on, and still ourthands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more striking and magnificent. We, are animated at the moving pictures and en-	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92 EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the w bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the 1 tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this ca is charged with stealing a sheep.—jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a, second reading, if any one who has chap ed to meet with, it, pefore a.—When, Da
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soil at ast onleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Foplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as OLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our New Woods, which wear of determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducement is to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: DROWN, March 16, 1866. Great Rush for Spring Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pu. THE subscriber having taken the Store Room formerly occupied by WM. A. MILES, next door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pu. D R. Y G O O D S, Consisting in part of OHALLIES, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy competition. Furnishing Goodford	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carped Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the many foregry Store of Monasmit & Baker, on Main St., adjoiding K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gent assortment of GLOOERLIS, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family groceries which they will soil at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or Strong and Strong and which has proved its superiority over all other cases of they super a sticle in the line of Family Browed by they fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or free fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurels Patent Glass Fruit Jars, or for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid mary case with which it is sealed and opened, without fully for every for Carliste, and which has proved its superiority over all other cases or box carborid and yould purchase other jars without first examining the confidently recommend to give ontire satisfaction. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale of EARTHEN DRAIN PIPES; to which they would call the attention of Farmers and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles other are defined them are the wear the wear the wear the trans and others needing them as the best and cheaperst articles	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work ; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hund's pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of those magical	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- solves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THEIR, PARCHMENTS:These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and, an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The, following enses were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "U am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the meessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring a, box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two portors, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room. The suppor proviously ordered was now served.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>8</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars ?" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the roplyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but the atream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youk, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more, striking and magnificent. We, are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us ; we are	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers over ter. MUTTON 97. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the v bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not; but the 1 of the language" "What care I for de 1 of the language. of ? I understand do 1 of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this g is charged with stealing a sheep]es r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a, second reading, if any one who has chr ed to meet with, it before
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in contequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Cities, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unleh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Foplins, also a fino assort- ment of Gentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladies call and examine our Now Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater har- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old in Store, next door to Marion Hall. S. C. BROWN, March 16, 1866. Great Rush for Spring Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Caulisle, Pau. THE subscriber having taken the Storo Room formerly occupied by VM. A. MILES, next door to the Post Office, Caulisle, Pau. D R. Y G O O D S , Consisting in part of DIALLIES, MUSLINS, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to dely competition. Furnishing Good of al kinds, lackading	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variery of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTHS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skiths all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our selection will please all tastes. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St. adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry, have just opened a new and ele- gan assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family groceries which they will sell at the vory lewest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Groceries will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Faurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the exclusive agen- tis superiority over all other cans for future use. No family spueles, with which it is superfority over all other cans for future use. No family should purchase of Materia, fit hey want to buy the bost. Harded and onescale, without first examining the Eureka, if they want to buy fue bost. Amidon CLOTHES WINNDER, both of which they confidently recommend to give onlite salle of the superiority own all should purchase. Amidon CLOTHES WINNDER, which did her they confidently recommend to give onlite salle of the care and thout find the base of the sale of the apper should be without find the base of MIND, only Fivo Dollars, and the onfidently recommend to give onlite salle of the sale of a or oregoing water through yards and hars, yards. Also a variety of other articles, such as DOOR MATS of soveral kinds and prices. The Just opened a future the particular such as the base and cheapent articles and kinds of East Fish, put up, this Spring. Also	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work ; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hund's pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of those magical	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHMENTS:These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I am too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "U am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the meessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring a, box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two portors, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room. The suppor proviously ordered was now served.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and bolongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he is <sub>4</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the roplyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamonted Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our. young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but the stream hurries on, and still ourthands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more striking and magnificent." We	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the w bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the f tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not; but the h of the language" "What care I for de h of the language, oh ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this gi is charged with stealing a sheep.—Jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a, second reading, if any one who has char ed to meet with, it before s
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would he pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: BROWN. March 16, 1866. THE subscriber having Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa. DR HC Subscriber having bar, can offer to the Public a New and Fresh supply of DR Y G ODDS, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy computition. Furnishing Goods of al kinds, lackading Silk, Linen and Cotion Handkorchiofs, &c	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, "TABLD," "FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SILADES. Blind Materials and Carpot Chains." "Hopkins" Superior Skitts all longths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. "The Family Grocery. THE subscribers; having taken the panily Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opponed a new and ele- gant assortment of GIOOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will sell at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars , of which they have the exclusive agen- tic superiority over all other, cans on the superiority over all other cans of the superiority over all other cans of they also Kinning the by its great simplify, perfect reliability in keeping Fruit, and boot carbording year of which they build purchase other jars without first examining the sealed and opened, without first examining the cartice weeks, if they want to buy the boat. We have also KiNO'S PATENT STEP von have also kinNO'S PATENT STEP von how also kinNO'S PATENT STEP von her they would can'the dense for the satisfication. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale of EARTHEN DRAIN PIPES; to which they would call the attention of which they and cheapers and the Antidon cLOTHES WILNOBAL NIPLES; to which they would call the attention of which they share, and so avariety of other articles, such as DOOI MATS of several kinds and prices. "To just oponed a surploy of the strateles, and sate and kinds of Salt Fish, put up, this Spring, Also Flour in barrols and sates and Feed by the base. MARTIN & CARDNER.	mercd; "but I had not perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hund's pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of those magical	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeaver to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not clovate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHMENTS:These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma he retains you in the case. What course	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistakeen my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, engaged an apartment, and ordered supper to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the meessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he. would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two portors, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they deposited in the corner of the room. "The suppor ' proviously ordered was now served. "Your walk must have made you thirs- ty," she said filling a glass of wine for her	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Ohristians.""But he is <sub>3</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their bloesoms over our. young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but ihe stream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- joets more striking and magnificent. We are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us ; we tre	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep 1" exclaimed the 1 tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not; but the 1 of the language, oh ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this cri is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do! dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep, ind "Webster was delivering his" memor speech at the dedication of Bunker I Monument, the crowd pressed forward tos
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would he pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: BROWN. March 16, 1866. THE subscriber having Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa. DR HC Subscriber having bar, can offer to the Public a New and Fresh supply of DR Y G ODDS, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy computition. Furnishing Goods of al kinds, lackading Silk, Linen and Cotion Handkorchiofs, &c	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of. TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SIADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, of Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, solected with great care for family supplies, which they will soll at the very lewest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Groceries will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patient Glass Fruit Jars , of which they have the exclusive agen- tics superiority over all other, cans of the superiority over all other cans of the superiority over all other cans of the stranding years with which it is soaled and opened, without injury for Maidon CLOTHES WILNOW, Five Dollars, and the Maidon CLOTHES WILNOW, five Dollars, and the Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, five Dollars, and the Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, are statistiction. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale other is a variety of other articles, such as others are also be and the distist of the sale of HADDER, an article wilking MA. Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, of years of the sale of HANDER, an article wilking of which they have also kind of which the such as the and the soft sort sort in calles, and the Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, of the articles, such as DOOR MATS of soveral kinds and prices. The boroned a study of other articles, such as DOOR MATS of soveral kinds and prices. The toponed a surfer of the Spring. Also flour in barrols and sanks and Feed by the boashed. MARTIN & GARDNER. MARTIN & GARDNER.	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music," "And have you never heard any music," "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweetses and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work; the latter, with her head ben't slightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of these magical sweet sounds. It was as if we were all bound in a strange dicam, and only leared to wake. Suddenly, the flame of the single candlo wavered, suck, flickered and went out.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are, not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENTED. THERE, PARCHAIENTES:Ehose who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma he rotains you in the case. What course would you pursue? The answer was I	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistakeen my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del? Universite!" "Indeed ! I an too well known togo there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring A box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two portors, carrying on their aboulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room. The suppor ' proviously ordered was now served. "Your walk must have made you thirs- ty," she said filling a glass of wine for her companion. "But before you sit down,	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Ohristian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Ohristians.""But he is <sub>3</sub> worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our. young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but ihe stream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- joets more striking and magnificent. We are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us ; we tro excited at some short lived disappointment. The streams bear us on, and our joys and	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 12. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, "this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sheep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep " exclaimed the 1 tice. "True, your honor : but my chi hus rights." "Of course not; but the language. I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this cri is charged with stealing a sheep. and "Dat yill do! dat yill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep. and "Dat yill do! dat yill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a, second reading, if any one who has cha- ged at the dedication of Bunker I Monument, the crowd pressed forward tos an extent that some were fainting and so
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would he pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: BROWN. March 16, 1866. THE subscriber having Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa. DR HC Subscriber having bar, can offer to the Public a New and Fresh supply of DR Y G ODDS, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy computition. Furnishing Goods of al kinds, lackading Silk, Linen and Cotion Handkorchiofs, &c	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of. TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SIADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery Store of Monasmith & Baker, of Main St., adjoing F. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gant assortment of GROOERIES, GLASS and QUEENS. WARE, solected with great care for family supplies, which they will soll at the very lewest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Groceries will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patient Glass Fruit Jars , of which they have the exclusive agen- tics superiority over all other, cans of the superiority over all other cans of the superiority over all other cans of the stranding years with which it is soaled and opened, without injury for Maidon CLOTHES WILNOW, Five Dollars, and the Maidon CLOTHES WILNOW, five Dollars, and the Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, five Dollars, and the Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, are statistiction. They have also been appointed Agents for the sale other is a variety of other articles, such as others are also be and the distist of the sale of HADDER, an article wilking MA. Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, of years of the sale of HANDER, an article wilking of which they have also kind of which the such as the and the soft sort sort in calles, and the Amidon CLOTHES WILNOW, of the articles, such as DOOR MATS of soveral kinds and prices. The boroned a study of other articles, such as DOOR MATS of soveral kinds and prices. The toponed a surfer of the Spring. Also flour in barrols and sanks and Feed by the boashed. MARTIN & GARDNER. MARTIN & GARDNER.	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music," "And have you never heard any music," "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweetses and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work; the latter, with her head ben't slightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of these magical sweet sounds. It was as if we were all bound in a strange dicam, and only leared to wake. Suddenly, the flame of the single candlo wavered, suck, flickered and went out.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only object. If it does not elovate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly schoel, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and overything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHAIENTS:-These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following enses were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma he retains you in the case. What course would you pursue? The answer was: I would sue the plaintiff and recover $100 as	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, howover ; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed I fam too well known to go there." "I am on the right rack," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," roplied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fored to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two porters, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they deposited in the corner of the room. "The suppor proviously ordered was now served. "Your walk must have made you thirs- ty," she said filling a glass of wing for her companion. "But before you sit down, have the kindness to give me in handker.	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- ger !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its gyassy, borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but the stream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more, striking and magnificent. We, are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us, we kro	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British offleers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the 1 tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not; but the h of the Inaguage, ch ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this en- is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do 1 dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do 1 dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do 1 dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do 1 dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep. jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a second reading, if any one who has cha- ed to meet with, it pefore a When, Da Webster was delivering his memorr speech at the dedication of Bunker I Monument, the crowd pressed forward tos an extent that some were fainting and se grushed. Officers strovo in vain to make
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would he pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: BROWN. March 16, 1866. THE subscriber having Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa. DR HC Subscriber having bar, can offer to the Public a New and Fresh supply of DR Y G ODDS, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy computition. Furnishing Goods of al kinds, lackading Silk, Linen and Cotion Handkorchiofs, &c	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of. TABLD, STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SIADES. Blind Materials and Carpet Chains. "Hopkins" Superior Skitts all lengths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. A. W. DENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. 	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer evenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music," "And have you never heard any music," "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweetses and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work; the latter, with her head ben't slightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of these magical sweet sounds. It was as if we were all bound in a strange dicam, and only leared to wake. Suddenly, the flame of the single candlo wavered, suck, flickered and went out.	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elovate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children havo much better advantages than any others in the Torritory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHMENTE:-These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma he rotains you in the case. What course would you pursue ? The answer was: I would sue the plaintiff and recover $100 as an offset.	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed I fam too well known to go there." "I am on the right rack," thought the spy. "U and on the right rack," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," roplied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fored to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two porters, carrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room. "The suppor proviously ordered was now served. "Your walk must have made you thirs- ty," she said filling a glass of wing for her companion. "But before you sit down, have the kindness to give me my handker- ohief, which T, have left there on the soft."	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars !" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy, borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the flowers seem to offer thomselves the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but the stream hurries on, and still ourhands are ompty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more, striking and magnificent. We are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us, we kro excited at some short lived disappointment. The streams bear us on, and our joys and griefs are alike left behind us. We may be shipwrecked, but we cannot be delayed ;	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British offleers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles? Dis has nothin to do mit the y bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the j tice. "True, your honor: but my cli has rights." "Of course not; but the l of the Inaguage, ch ? I understand do h of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your tilk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this gi is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do 1 dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep.—jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a, second reading, if any one who has char ed to meet with, it pefore s—When, Da Webster was delivering his memorr speech at the dedication of Bunker I Monument, the crowd pressed forward tos an extent that some were fainting and sc crushed. Offleers strove in vain to make erowd stand back. They said it could
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, all Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. Wo feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- ment in this visible that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- ment in this visible that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- ment in this visible that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- ment in this visible that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- ment in this visible that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- ment in this visible that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- ment in this visible that we can offer greater in- ducements on and a tresh supply of D R.Y G O O D S , Consisting in part of OHALLIZES, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy compatition. Furnishing Goode of al linds, lackading Silk, Linen and Cotton Handkerchiofs, &c Also a Splendid Assortment of RIBBONS, LAOE; & My stock of White Goods cannot be surpased, am Canstowers may rely upon alwysgetting, GOOD GOOD at the lowest possible prices." Gentlomen will find i to their advantage to cill and advantine wy stock of of	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, "TABLD," STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpot Chains." "Hopkins" Superior Skirks all longths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. "Health subscribers; having taken the panily Grocery Store of Monagnith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gent assortiment of GLOOSHIES, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will solt at the overy lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the exclusive agen- its superiority over all other cans of the soctraordinary case with which it is sealed and opened, without fujury for partscriber of Should purchase other jars without first examining the Amidon CLOTHES With Glass Fruit Model it is sealed and opened, without find they and out cortraordinary case with which it is sealed and pened, without find the should purchase of the state of the state of the superiority over all other cans of MATENT wo have also KNOX'S PATENT STEP vo have also kNOX'S PATENT STEP to which they would cant the attoint of MATENT STEP to be found for conveying water through yards and others needing them as the best and cheapest articles to be found for conveying water through yards and all kinds of Salt Fish, put up, this Spring. Also Ploor in barrols and sacks and freed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and freed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by t	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hay practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work ; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hunds pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of these magical sweet sounds. It was as if we were all bound in a strange dream, and only leared to wake. Suddenly, the flame of the single candlo wavered, sunk, flickered and went out- Beetheven paused, and I threw open the shutters, admitting a flood of brilliant moon- light. The room was almost as light as be-	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- coptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also, a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the leading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHMENTS:Theose who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma he rotains you in the case. What course would you pursue? The answer was: I would sue the plaintiff and recover $100 as an offset. "Suppose you have brought a suit in a	<ul> <li>in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?"</li> <li>"I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?"</li> <li>"In the Rue del' Universite!"</li> <li>"In deed! I am too well known to go there."</li> <li>"I am on the right track," thought the spy.</li> <li>"Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like."</li> <li>"Come," roplied the other.</li> <li>And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chatelet, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be sorved in their room.</li> <li>"If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here."</li> <li>B., overjoyed at the opportunity thus offered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared hewould go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accompanied by two porters, earrying on their shouldars a large and aparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room.</li> <li>"Your walk must have made you thirsty," she said filling a glass of wine for heaving, which kindness to give me my handkeer chief, which T. have left there on the soft."</li> </ul>	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars?" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but ihe faream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more striking and magnificent. We are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us ; we tro excited at some short lived disappointment. The stream bear us on, and our joys and griefs are alike left behind us. We may be shipwreeked, but we cannot be delayed ; whether rough or smooth, the river hastens	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE .—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the v bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of the language" What care I for de 1 of the language. I understand do I of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do! dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheepjes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a, second reading, if any one who has chi ed to meet with, it before :When, Da Webster was delivering his memori speech at the dedication of Bunker 1 Monument, the crowd pressed forward tos an extent that some were fainting and a crushed. Officers strove in vain to make erowd stand back. They said it could be done. Some one asked Mr. Webster
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unlsh- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, also a fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTSONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would be pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- mont in this visible of that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any cimilar 'Establish- mont in this visible of that. B. C. BROWN, March 16, 1866. Great Rush for Spring Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa. THE subscriber having taken the Store Room formerly occupied by WM.A. MILES, noxit door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa. D R. Y G O O D S, Consisting in part of OHALLIES, MUSLINS, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy competition. Furnishing Goode of al Hinds, lackading Silk, Linen and Cotton Handkerchiofs, &c Also a Splendid Assortment of RIBBONS, LAOE; & My stock of White Goods cannot be surgrassed, am Customers may refly upon alwy sygetting QUOD GOOD at the lowest possible prices. Gentomen will that to their advantage to call ad camine wy stock of CROTHS, CASSIMERES AND VEST	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, "TABLA," STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpot Chains." "Hopkins" Superior Skirts all iongths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocer Store of Monagnith & Baker, on Main St., adjoiding K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gent assortiment of GLOOSENTES, Inaving Taken the WARD, selected with great care for family groceries which they will soil at the very lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Groceries will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the exclusive agen- its superiority over all other cans of the social strong will be by they can exclusive agen- tics superiority over all other cans of particular attention to the Eureka, if they want to buy the boast. Wo have also KNOX'S PATENT STEP, porfect reliability in keeping Fruit, and of Which they want the buy they fue cans on the scalard do one for a still other they also other jars without first examining the Amidon clotties with Glass for the solid of EARTHEN DRAIN PIPES. to which they wull call the attontion of Marmers and others needing them as the best and cheapers articles and ther social with Glass for the solid of EARTHEN DRAIN PIPES. to boloud for convoying water through yards and barryards. Also a wriety of other articles, such as DOOI MATS of soveral kinds and prices. To Just oponed a " supplied of the boast. MARTIN & GARDNER. MARTIN & GARDNER.	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a lady practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beethoven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken; Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear him play as he then played to that blind girl and her bother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instiment began to grow sweets and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former had aside his work; the latter, with her head bent slightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of those magical sweet sounds. It was as if we were all bound in a strange dream, and only leared to wake. Suddenly, the flame of the single' candlo wavered, sunk, flickered and went out Beethoven paused, and I threw open the shutters, admitting a flood of brilliant moon- light. The room was almost as light as he- fore, and the illumination fell strongest upon	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- ness, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elovate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also, a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THEIR, PARCHMENTS:—These who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rochester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma he retains you in the case. What course would you pursue? The answer was : I would sue the plaintiff and recover $100 as an offset. "Suppose you have brought a suit in a Justice's Court, and aday was set for a hear-	<ul> <li>in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?"</li> <li>"I suppose you take me to be a woman ?"</li> <li>was the roply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistaken my good sir! I don't mind having a chat with you, however; where are you staying?"</li> <li>"In the Rue del? Universite!"</li> <li>"Indeed! I am too well known to go there."</li> <li>"I am on the right track," thought tho spy.</li> <li>"Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like."</li> <li>"Come," roplied the other.</li> <li>And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chatelet, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be served in their room.</li> <li>"If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sox, "you had better have your baggage brought here."</li> <li>B., overjoyed at the opportunity thus offered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accompanied by two portors, carrying on their shouldirs a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room.</li> <li>"The suppor proviously ordered was now served.</li> <li>"Your walk must have made you thirsty," she said filling a glass of wine for her configured to give me my handker-othief, which T. have left there on the soft."</li> </ul>	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he isa worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars ?" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Héber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment : "Life bears us on like the stream of a migility river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy, borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads ; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around usbut ihe atteam hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more striking and magnificent. We are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us ; we tro excited at some short lived disappointment. The streams bear us on, and our joys and griefs are alike left behind us. We may be shipwrecked, but we cannot be delayed ; whether rough or smooth, the river hastens to its home, till- the roar of the ocean is in	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON 92. EAGLE. —" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do eagles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the v bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli has rights." "Of course not, but the 1 of the language. "" What care I for de 1 of the language, ch ? I understand do I of de State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this g is charged with stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do ! dat vill do!. Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep, and "Dat vill do ! dat vill do! Your gli charged mit stealing a sheep. jes r shillin. The gourt vill adjourn." The following ancedote is good enough a, second reading, if any one who has charged to meet with, it before :—When, Da Webster was delivering his memorr speech at the dedication of Bunker I Monument, the crowd pressed forward tos an 'extent that some were fainting and so crushed. Officers strove in vain to make done. Some one asked Mr. Webster make an appeal to them. The 'great or
CALICOES, DELAINES, GINGHAMS, FLANNELS, &c, at greatly reduced prices, in consequence of the late heavy decline in Goods in the Eastern Citios, and as my goods are all new, I can and will soll at ast unish- ingly low rates. I have also a choice selection of Ladies' Dress Goods, MERINOES, ALPACAS, MOHAIR, atl Wool delaines, Lusters, Poplins, alson fino assort- ment of dentlemen's Wear, such as CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, SATTINETTS, JEANS, COTTONADES &c., we take great pleasure in showing goods and would he pleased to have the Ladles call and examine our New Goods, which we are determined to sell at great bar- gains. We feel satisfied that we can offer greater in- ducements to purchasers than any similar Establish- ment in this vicinity, remember the place at Gorgas' old tin Store, next door to Marion Hall. B. C: BROWN. March 16, 1866. THE subscriber having Goods. Next Door to the Post Office, Carlisle, Pa. DR HC Subscriber having bar, can offer to the Public a New and Fresh supply of DR Y G ODDS, MUSLINE, DELAINES, ALPACAS, LAWNS, and CALICOES, Of all Qualities and Choicest Styles, which will be sold at prices to defy computition. Furnishing Goods of al kinds, lackading Silk, Linen and Cotion Handkorchiofs, &c	PRINTS AND ALL KINDS OF DOMESTIC GOODS. A variety of Gontleman and Boys wear. An exten- sive stock of, "TABLD," STAIR AND FLOOR OIL CLOTTIS, OIL SHADES. Blind Materials and Carpot Chains." "Hopkins" Superior Skirks all longths and widths. We shall be happy to have all call and examine our "new stock," as we fool confident that our solection will please all tastes. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. The Family Grocery. A. W. BENTZ. Carlisle, April 11th 1800. "Health subscribers; having taken the panily Grocery Store of Monagnith & Baker, on Main St., adjoing K. Gardner & Co's Machine Shop and Foundry. have just opened a new and ele- gent assortiment of GLOOSHIES, GLASS and QUEKNS. WARD, selected with great care for family supplies, which they will solt at the overy lowest prices for cash. Every article in the line of Family Grocerles will always be kept fresh and cheap. They also call particular attention to the Eurelca Patent Glass Fruit Jars, of which they have the exclusive agen- its superiority over all other cans of the soctraordinary case with which it is sealed and opened, without fujury for partscriber of Should purchase other jars without first examining the Amidon CLOTHES With Glass Fruit Model it is sealed and opened, without find they and out cortraordinary case with which it is sealed and pened, without find the should purchase of the state of the state of the superiority over all other cans of MATENT wo have also KNOX'S PATENT STEP vo have also kNOX'S PATENT STEP to which they would cant the attoint of MATENT STEP to be found for conveying water through yards and others needing them as the best and cheapest articles to be found for conveying water through yards and all kinds of Salt Fish, put up, this Spring. Also Ploor in barrols and sacks and freed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and freed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by the beabed. Floor in barrols and sacks and Feed by t	mercd; "but I had not, perceived before. Then you play from ear?" "Entirely." "And where do you hear the music, since you frequent no concerts?" "I used to hear a hdy practising near us when we lived at Bruhl, two years ago. During the summer ovenings her windows were generally open, and I walked to and fro outside to listen to her." "And have you never heard any music." "None, except street music." She seemed shy, so Beetheven said no more, but seated himself quietly at the in- strument and began to play. He had no sooner struck the first chord than I knew what would follow—how grand he would be that night. And I was not mistaken j Nover during all the years I knew him, did I hear. him play as he then played to that blind girl and her brother? He was in- spired, and from the instant that his fingers began to wander along the keys, the very tone of the instument began to grow sweeter and more equal. The brother and sister were silent with rapture. The former laid aside his work ; the latter, with her head bent slightly for- ward, and her hunds pressed tightly over her breast, crouched down near the harpsi- chord as if fearful lest the beating of her heart should break the flow of these magical sweet sounds. It was as if we were all bound in a strange dream, and only leared to wake. Suddenly, the flame of the single candlo wavered, sunk, flickered and went out- Beetheven paused, and I threw open the shutters, admitting a flood of brilliant moon- light. The room was almost as light as be-	are well received and kindly entertained at these parties, and all join in giving them- selves up to the influences of mirth and festivity. Dancing is not only a favorite amusement, it is more; it is cultivated to such an extent that it becomes a passion. Brigham's women, though better clothed than formerly, still work very hard. They are infatuated with their religion and devot- ed to their husband. If they cannot obtain love they content themselves with his kind- mess, and endeavor to think themselves hap- py. As religion is their only solace, they try to make it their only object. If it does not elevate their minds it deadens their sus- ceptibilities, and as they are not permitted to be women, they try to convince them- selves that it is God's will they should be slaves. A music teacher, a dancing master, and a teacher of the ordinary branches of an English education are employed in the fami- ly school, also a teacher of French. His children have much better advantages than any others in the Territory. Dancing and music are the loading accomplishments, and everything else is made subordinate to these. DENIED. THER: PARCHMENTS:Those who have undergone legal examinations will appreciate the following questions and an- swers at a recent examination in Rechester. The following cases were put: "Suppose a man to be sued before a Jus- tice of the Peace. He fails to appear at the proper time, and judgment is taken against him for $100, by default. In this dilemma he rotains you in the case. What course would sue the plaintiff and recover $100 as an offset. "Suppose you have brought a suit in a Justice's Court, and a day was set for a hear- ing, but before the cause comes up the Mag-	in the public streets. Might I not invite you to accompany me to my hotel?" "I suppose you take me to be a woman ?" was the reply, in a soft voice. "You are quite mistakeen my good sir ! I don't mind having a chat with you, however ; where are you staying ?" "In the Rue del' Universite!" "Indeed ! I an too well known to go there." "I am on the right track," thought the spy. "Well then," he said aloud, "we will go wherever you like." "Come," replied the other. And crossing the river, the pair presently entered a small hotel on the Place de Chate- let, angaged an apartment, and ordered suppor to be sorved in their room. "If I am to remain with you during your stay in Paris," said the young woman, who no longer attempted to conceal her sex, "you had better have your baggage brought here." B, overjoyed at the opportunity thus of- fered to lodge the necessary information at the Central Police Station, near by, at once assented to this suggestion, and declared he would go himself and pay his bill and bring a box of silks he had at the other hotel. After an hour's absence he returned, accom- panied by two porters, earrying on their shoulders a large and apparently heavy box, which they doposited in the corner of the room. "The suppor proviously ordered was now served. "Your walk must have made you thirs- ty," she said filling a glass of wine for her companion. "But before you sit down, have the kindness, to give mo my handker- ohief, which T have left there on the soft." Suspecting some trick, B., while crossing the room, watched his new acquaintance closely, and saw her throw a powder into	ted," answered the merchant. "What do I care for that; he is, a nig- gor !""But he is a friend of mine." "What of that? Must you therefore in- sult the whole congregation ?""But he is a Christian, and belongs to the same denom- ination." "What do I care for that; Let him wor- ship with his nigger Christians.""But he iss worth five million dollars," said the mer- chant. "Worth what?""Worth five million dollars?" "For God's sake introduce me to him,' was the replyN. Y. Exchange. A BEAUTIFUL SENTIMENTShortly be- fore the departure of the lamented Heber for India, he preached a sermon which contain- ed this beautiful sontiment: "Life bears us on like the stream of a mighty river. Our boat at first glides down the narrow channelthrough the playful murmerings of the little brook and the wind- ings of its grassy borders. The trees shed their blossoms over our young heads; the flowers seem to offer themselves to the young hands we are happy in hope, and grasp ea- gerly at the beauty around us-but ihe faream hurries on, and still our hands are empty. Our course in youth, and manhood is along a wilder and deeper flood, amid ob- jects more striking and magnificent. We are animated at the moving pictures and en- joyments and industry around us ; we tro excited at some short lived disappointment. The stream bear us on, and our joys and griefs are alike left behind us. We may be shipwreeked, but we cannot be delayed ; whether rough or smooth, the river hastens	The merchant finally paid him down gold his price for the wooden ware, wh lay on his shelves for many a long day the after ; while Jonathan trotted heme in h glee at the success of his manœuvre, wh the merchant cursed British officers ever ter. MUTTON W. EAGLE.—" May it please court," said a Yankee lawyer before a Du justice, " this is a case of great importan while the American engle, whose sleep eye watches over the welfare of this mig Republic, and whose wings extend from Alleghenies to the rocky chain of the W was rejoicing in his pride, of place "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do engles ? Dis has nothin to do mit the w bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the tice. "True, your honor : but my cli hus rights." "Of course not, but the h of language" "What care I for de h of the language, oh ? I understand do h of do State, and dat ish enough for Confine your talk to de case." "W then, my client, the defendant in this er is charged with stealing a sheep

-his hands rested upon his knees-hoseem- of certiorari and bring him up !"

EBETIORS. Rome time.

ed absorbed in meditation. It was thus for

ALSO HATS, CAPS, BOOTS and SHOES f all Qualities and Styles. All the above Goods will e displayed to the citizens of this placeand vicinity a Saturday, April 7th, and all are cordially invited to urchase, as my motto is Quick sales and Small profits,

April 18, 1866.

. dit Eaverbry and automitical

lesand Small profits PETER BOBLITZ.

المح والم المحالية المحالية الم

July 7, 1865.

A-0 6

AT HAVEBSTICKS.

Infl. Brit.

۰.

A NEW YORK MISS OF SIX YEARS. -The fact on 'the following | fair bride had become aroused, and the sleepy quick, and the Adonis decamped with his shortness and expansive character of the nurder was discovered. gentleman was informed that the wedding pants rolled up about six inches. The skirt worn by this, young person imparted eat excitement in Paris. | was indefinitely postponed. The brideoke was to good to be kept; by little and to her the general appearance of a ballet ons were made by the groom returned to his pestal and mortar, and little it leaked out until the truth had to dancer as one of those evolutionary artistes he mysterious assassin, the young lady romains at home a fair uncome to exculpate the happy innocents. appears when executing a pirouette. The ... ilt. Eleven days after- gathered flower. It was a near approach to perished precisely as a wedding, but "a miss is as good as a smile." expansive lace frill of the pantalettes de-A YANKEE TRICK .--- Just before the descended no lower than just to kiss the top nd in the course of a -St. Louis Democrat. elaration of independence, a Yankee pedler started down to New York to sell a lot of of the long white stocking somewhere in the ----region of the knee. The skirt, which was A SOLVENT FOR NEW YORK PREJUDICE.

much like our first parents when they discovered that they were human. The lady pro-father's pants, which were run into pretty cured, as quietly as possible, a pair of her In haste, yours."

bowls and dishes he had made of maple. white, was adorned with much elaborate entertained that the | -- It is not many years since a colored man Jonathan traveled over the city, asking fluting in blue ribbon. Over this was worn re all inflicted by the came to this city from abroad. A New everybody to buy his wares, but no one was a little cloak of black velvet, which must the quick, Fouche, the York merchant had been in business condisposed to purchase. have cost ever so much a vard, and all the It happened that a British fleet was ther ce, set all his spics to nection with him for several years, and from margins of this were studded thickly with large reward for the that business connection had realized a forlying in the harbor of New-York, and Jonasmall silver buttons. On the fair head of hors of these unparal- tune, and felt that he must treat him kindthan struck upon a plan of selling his dishthe young person under notice there sat, ly. When Sunday came, he invited him to es., He got a naval uniform, by hook or by jauntily, a white jockey hat trimmed with tain B., a member of go to church with him. He went; and the crook (for history doesn't tell where he got streamers of blue ribbon and surmounted who had the appear- merchant took him into his own pew near it.) and strutting up town, one morning. with a white ostrich plume. Boots of a gentleman, was passing the pulpit, in a fushionable church. There asked a merchant if he had any nice wooden bright vermillion hue encased the feet of reet of the Cite, when was a prominent member of the church near ware, as the Commodore wanted a lot for the this favored child. Her parasol was of white idsome, equivocal-look- the merchant; who saw this with great a- fleet. The merchant replied that he had none on silk, and lined and tagged with the same ped, turned, and said mazement. He could not be mistaken; it in scarlet, and she was provided with a little band; but there was some in town, and if he pocket handkerchief, of which the lace would send in the afternoon he would supmight have been worth about ten dollars. The hair of the child was flaxen, and would "Very good," said our naval officer, have been beautiful had it not been crimped nainfully over cushions or wads. She Jonathan now cut for home by the shorthad jewelled rings in her little white ears, est route, and had scarcely doffed his borand, as she drew off one tiny, tan-colored rowed plumage before down came the merjouvin glove, we could see that her little chant, who, seeing that Jonathan had sold white fingers were bejeweled also .- The none of his wares, offered to take the whele Round Table. if he would deduct fifteen per cent. But ----Jonathan said he'd be goll darned if he didn't MR. SEWARD,-A Washington correspontake 'em home, before he'd take less than his dent of the Bucks County Intelligencer thus writes of the once honored citizen : The merchant finally paid him down in But' Mr. Seward is very cross, and if he gold his price for the wooden ware, which could, so it seems, would crush out radicallay on his shelves for many a long day thereism with a blow. But he can't do it, and after ; while Jonathan trotted home in high sees that he can't, and has not philosophy you, however ; where sult the whole congregation ?"-"But he is glee at the success of his manœuvre, while 5 pe patient or to endure in calmness what the merchant cursed British officers over afan't be arrested. His age begins to tell

dear, I will say good-bye, or I will be too late for the monthly concert prayer-meeting, ipon him. There is a disposition among Republicans MUTTON v. EAGLE .-... May it please the o bear with him as long as they can on accourt," said a Yankee lawyer before a Dutch count of his eminent services during the war. justice, "this is a case of great importance; but they very generally understand that he while the American engle, whose sleeplose is the President's backer in his policy, and eye watches over the welfare of this mighty still worse than that-he suggested and in-Republic, and whose wings extend from the signted it. He is now engaged in the des-Alleghenics to the rocky chain of the West, spicable business of taking away the adwas rejoicing in his pride, of place-" vertising patronage from loyal journals and "Shtop dare I say, vat has dis suit to do mit giving it to newspapers that defend the eagles? Dis has nothin to do mit the wild President's plan of immediately admitting bird. It is on sheep !" exclaimed the jusrebels to Congress. It is a wretched busitice. "True, your honor : but my client ness, and one cannot think of Mr. Seward hus rights." "Of course not; but the laws as he was a few years ago and of his presof language-" "What care I for de laws of the language, ch ? I understand do laws | ent conduct with patience. He has lost all the influence he ever possessed over the of de State, and dat ish enough for me. Republican delegation from New York in Confine your talk to de case." "Well, Congress. Not even Senator Morgan is then, my client, the defendant in this case, now under the control of the Secretary of s charged with stealing a sheep, and ----" State, nor is he influenced by him. With Dat vill do! dat vill do!. Your glient the people of New York Mr. Seward has no charged mit stealing a sheep-jes nine strength. shillin. 'The gourt vill adjourn."

THE OTHER NIGHT at a hotel, a conviv-The following ancedote is good enough for ally-disposed gentleman, retiring late. second reading, if any one who has chancwalked independently and somewhat noisily ed to meet with, it before :---When, Daniel up the stairs and along the corridor to his Webster was delivering his, memorable room, "Why, what a noise you make," speech at the dedication of Bunker Hill said his wife, who heard with some anxiety Monument, the crowd pressed forward to such the heavy tread of his boots, "how heavily before you, sit down, The streams bear us on, and our joys and an extent that some were fainting and some give me my handker- griefs are allke left behind us. We may be crushed. Officers strove in vain to make the you walk." "Well, my dear," was the crowd stand back. They said it could not gruff response, "If you can get a barrel of whisky up stairs with any less noise, I tick, B., while crossing whether rough or smooth, the river hastens be done. Some one asked Mr. Webster to should like to see you do it." his new acquaintance to its home, till the roar of the ocean is in make an appeal to them. The great orator er throw a powder into our ears, and the tossing of the waves be- came forward stretched forth his hand, and -At a late fireman's culebration at Houston, Texas, dialoyal demonstrations were cident. His head dropped upon his breast swer was promptly : I would obtain a writ lowing, he managed to spill on the carpet. around us, and we take our leave of earth stand back." "It cannot be done in they made, The South was represented by a In a few moments he showed signs of drow- and its inhabitants, until of our future voy- shouled. "Gentlemen, stand back," shid young ludy in chains, confederate airs, and of certiorari and bring him up !'' In a few moments he showed signs of drow- and its inhabitants, until of our future voy- shouled, "Gentlemen, stand back," shid young ludy in chains, confederate sirs, and These young luminaries were very unreading to murmur incoherent age there is no witness save the Infinite and he, without a change of voice. "It is im- incoherent ones were played, and no na-words. Drawing the syren near him he felt Eternal."