, AMERICAN ORGANS.

(From "Godely's Ladies' Book" February, 1866.)

REED ORGANS, &c. THE following romarks and suggestions rolative to this immensely popular instrument will doubtless interest and profit very many our readers, we commend the article to their caroful popular.

our readers, we commend the article to their caroius per usal:—

A hundred and one makers of Organs, Cottago, Parlor, Cablinet, American, School Organis, etc. etc., are acach claiming to make the best instrument in the world. Being comparatively a new instrument, as at present constructed, we are convinced the public are much less capable of judging of its merits, or demorits, than of most other instruments. If there is really assential difference in them, if there are some excellent and some worthless ones, the public should will endighten them. We chearfully about 1 and some orterion for judging of them, some det the space for this article knowing that that, a hardly a family, or church, or school in all heart also hardly a family, or church, or school in all the very last aware of its being a great missorium real calamity, to any of them to purchase an in done a word of much amonyance and swanten to the source of much amonyance and swanten to the source of much amonyance and candid and intelligent source, and thus we give it to contradors.

to purchase an invoice or worthloss Organ, rutnous to good playing, and often a source of much annoyance and swarf and intelligent source, and thus we give it to good playing, and often a source, and thus we give it to good playing, and often a source, and thus we give it to consider.

The question is often asked, what are "reed organs?" We adswer, they are, in most cases, nothing in the world but the old melodeon in disguise. Many of the so-called organs have the same bellows, the same reeds, and the same general internal arrangement. With the bellow's turned on edge to gain room, they have simply put on a more pretentious exterior and a more high sounding name. But an organ, to be in reality an organ, must have a wind chest or reservoir for air separate from the bellows, into which while-chest thereoff open, and the tone has room to expand and perfect itself into the full round tone, similar to the flute or pipe organ, even, smooth, firm, and mellow; and this tone from reeds cannot be obtained in any other way known. Nothing so annoys a true organizhes to have the volume of sound swelling and jerking spasmodically with every variation of force on the bellows, which is always the case where the reeds open direct into the bellows or air passages, instead of a wind-chest or sound-ox. And yet some 'makers even goes far a conductor. And yet some 'makers even goes far a conductor. And yet some 'makers even goes far a conductor. And yet some 'makers even goes far a conductor. And yet some 'makers even goes far and shough it were not accasic matter the jerking of the bellows on the reeds as an excellence, just a though they did not know that it must very soon and swell of the conductor of tune, and injury the bellows and as shough it were not accasic matter the jerking of makers even bellowing in well and the wind acting in early upon the reeds, is nothing more not easily managed surface and the make have bellowing more not easily managed and the passage and the work of the medical service of the fact that they can o

DRAB SIR:—I feel it a duty I owe to you, and to all who are suffering under the diseases flown as Consumption and Liver Complaint, to let them know what great. Benefits 'I have received from your Pulmonic Syrup and Seawbeel Toule in so schort a time. By the blessing of God it has cured me tilbs far. Dr. Schenck, I will now make my statement to you, as follows:—About eighteen mouths ago.I was attacked with a severe cough, and it settled on my lungs; I could not retain anything I ate, and Suffered with evening fevers and night sweats. I was very much reduced. The whites of my eyes were very yellow; ilkewise m; skin; my appetite all gone, and unable to digest what I did eat; bowels sweolen, irregular and costive. I was very low spirited, and had such violent spells of coughing when I laid down at night and when I laross in the morning that they would last one or two hourses. READ WHAT DR. SCHENCK IS DOING.
