In-Chief; -I observed no odor until I obtained the distilate. The distilate had a faint odor that reminded me of Prussic acid, but too faint to be of any importance by itself, only important in connection with the two colored tests, the blue and red colors. It reminded me of Prussic acid peach leaves. It is my duty as Professor of Chemistry to explain to the medical class the best methods of detecting all known poisons. That explanation comesses every year to each medical class. I have actual experiments, and tests, I have made these tests for discovering the presence of Prussic acid regularly since 1837. Prussic acid is very volatile, in its nature, the proper term is unstable. My position as a chemist enables me to tell the propererties of different poisons and the quantity of each it takes to destroy human life.

From what is known of the nature of Prussic acid, its unstable chrracter, the presence of Prussic acid in the liquid, I examined makes it perfectly certain to my mind, as a matter of opinion, that a much if found was the mere residue of the new present in that stomach 10 or 12 days before. What I found was the mere residue of the original amount. My position as a chemist requires me' to become acquainted with the action of all the poisons on the human body. Morphine is a very active vegetable alkalı. By Com—Are there say other than the tests applied by you to detect Prussic acid? There is a test for Prussic acid and Nitrate of Silver test. I consider it most valuable only to detect Prussic acid in the state of varon. I think it objectionable, because the result it produces is a white Oyanide of Silv. 3 and therefore may be compounded with the "Corlde of Silver, which would be produced if here was slurad acad prement, and no Frus leaded. The solution which I got by the action of the distilled water on the sulphide of armonium whole I placed in the upper dish; that solution must contain sulpho-cyanide of ammonium if any Prusic acid had been contained in the lower vessel, to determine that point I added the iron solution and obtained a red color; a few drops of the iron—(sesque-chloride of iron) The result of that addition was the production of a red color—a faint red color—all these colors, were faint. That red color again confirmed the conclusion from the production of the blue color. Which must have been produced as a consequence of the Prusic acid in the liquid to which I applied the heat. The other portion I used for the purpose of examining the vegetable lakulis and mineral poison. The results were negatives. I found no traces, no other traces. I looked for all the wegetable alkulis or mineral poisons. I'more particularly looked for morphin and strychnine, and would have found any others were they present. "A Carpet-bagger in Pennsylvania" is continued. "China in Our Kitcheps" discusses the subject of employing the Ceiestials as house servants. Why this is called the Cumberland Valley we cannot say. In former years there was a huge county in this part of Penna, bearing the name of Cumberland—prohars in honer of an old English family of that name or tile. It was large enough hars in honor of an old English family of that name or title. It was large enough for a congressional district, but it has since been cut up into smaller ones. Leaving Harrisburg in daylight, if you feel ever so drowsy, you cannot sleep while passing through the Valley. The beauty of the landscape is so great that the eye is charmed and takes in with greediness the manifold objects of interest. Any one can see that this portion of Uncle Sam's dominion is in the hands of people who consider it their home. They have creeted their dwellings, planted their orchards and vineyards, hald out their roads and fences, built their school houses, churches, poorhouses distilleries, mills, factories, &c., as if they expected to abide here while life lists. They want nothing better. A celif they expected to abide here while life lasts. They want nothing better. A celobrated French infidel writer who visited this part of the United States before the revolutionary war, predicted that this Vailey would always be a wheat producing region and would never, wear out. In the far the prophecy has held good. The farmers are all of the well-do-class. There is something up their customs analysis.

The farmers are all of the well-do-class. There is something in their customs analagous to the customs of England. Those who are blessed with more than one farm can seldom be induced to make a transfer of property that will in any way distress or incommode a tenant. You find everywhere in the Valley a sameness in the houses, but most especially in the Barns. As a descendant of Abraham can be told by his face, so a Pennsylvania can be told by his barn. If, in any respect, this differs from the general style, it is proof pos-

Schiencle's Pulmonic Syrup.

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will core Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspeptia, if falken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleane the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work: then the appelie becomes good: the food digasts and makes good blood: the patient begins to grow in flesh, the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outwrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schen¹, of Philadelphia, owes his unrelaxed success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phiegm or matter is ripe, a slight_cough will throw it off, and the patient has reat and the lungs begin to heal.

To do, this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleane the stomach and liver, so that the Palmonic Syrup and the food will make Scholmet's Mandrake Pills sections. UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD CO.

The great reason why physicians don't cure consumption is, they try to do too much: they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic severs and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and diss. Dr Schonek, in his treatment does not try to stop-a cough, night sweats, chills or fover. Remove the cause and they will all top of their own accord. No one can be sured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarih, Oaneer, Ulcerated Throat unless the liver and Istomach are made healthy.
