able and elaborate, especially the clos ing one on the part of the Commonwealth by the District Attorney, C. E. MAGLAUGHLIN, Esq. We have seldom, if ever, in our Courts, heard so exhaustive and masterly a discussion of the facts of a case as Mr. Maglaughlin delivered in this instance. The charge of Judge GRAHAM to the Jury was strikingly impartial, giving to them a detailed review of the testimony, and full instructions upon all questions o

THE TITUS CASE! THE PRISONER PLEADS GUILTY The Court to Fix the Grade of Murder!

gainst Adam Titus, for the murder of Henry Stahm, came up for trial-yesterday (Thursday) afternoon, when Titus' counsel presented a petition praying for a writ of habeas corpus, in order to his discharge from custody, his case having been continued over two terms | gine what great bargains they are giving of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, viz: January and April Terms. The circumstances attending the continuation of the case, from which it appeared and give them an early call. that the first continuation was made upon application by the Defendant's ruled the application for a writ of habeas corpus, and directed the prisoner to be arraigned. The District Attorney proceeded to arraign the prisoner, when the plea of "guilty" was put in, and the duty devolved upon the Court of determining the grade of the offence.

The Court is now engaged taking testimony in order to determine this question.

A Coincidence.—Clare, à citizen of Baltimore city, is now awaiting a second trial for the murder of Mr. H. B. GROVE, a citizen of Carlisle, and Dr. SCHOEPPB, a citizen of Carlisle, has just been convicted of the murder of Miss M. M. STENNECKE, a citizen of Baltimore.

Town and County Matters

CROWDED OUT.-Much important matter has been unavoidably crowded out of the HERALD this week. It will appear in-our next.

ERROR.-In the testimony of Dr. HAL-DEMAN, in the Schooppe Murder Case, for Opium or some of its hundred preparations," read some of its kindred preparations.

A DOUBLE FUNERAL.-Mr. J. H. Hemphill, residing in the vicinity of Newburg, Cumberland County, died, on Friday last. His sister breathed her last at the same place, on the same day. Consumption was the disease in both cases. The remains of the two were interred together, on Sunday.

FAIR AND FESTIVAL .- For the benefit of Dickinson Mission Chapel. The students and ladies of the different denominations of town purpose holding a Fair and Festival in Rheems Hall, on the evening of the 10th, 11th, and 12th inst., for will benefit of a Mission Chapel in progof erection in the north-east portion of the borough, the second payment upon which, about $300, will be due in a few weeks. By the liberality of Mr J. H Rheem a beautiful "Soda Fountain," has been provided, which will be under his control during the progress of the festivities. An ivory gavel will be disposed of to one of the two literary societies of the college. Fancy articles and confectionary to please both sight and taste will be abundantly provided. All are invited to be present. Contributions, which may be left at Mrs. J. Stayman's, are respectfully solicited.

HAVERSTICK'S FOUNTAIN .-- As the heated term approaches great crowds are seen weiding their way to Haverstick's to slake their thirst in the delightful bovorage afforded at that place. Syrups o every imaginable flavor, the richest cream and the clearest ice add their charms, to the effery soing soda, making a compound the most delicious. Dear reader if you havn't been there go at once.

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION. On Satur lay morning last, between twelve and one clock, the people of Mt. Holly and the ing report which reverberated among the spurs of the South Mountain for some seconds. It was soon known to be caused by the explosion of one of the steam boilers of the paper mill belonging to the estate of the late Wm. B. Mullin, Esq., and now in charge af Mr. F. A. Mullin. It seems that two men, William Wier and his son Edward, were left in charge of the engine during the latter part of the the engine boiler to the rotany rag boiler was turned off, permitting no steam to pass. Examining the steam guage of the rag boiler, and seeing that it indicated only about twenty pounds of steam, Mr. Wier told his son to make up the fire, as the steam was going down. He again looked at the steam guage of the rotany boiler, and seeing the steam no higher, he again told his son to stir up the fire. Shortly after this they discovered that the engine boiler had on a fearful head of steam, and ooth became alarmed, and were in the act of opening the safety valve, or providing ome outlet for the steam, when the exosion occurred. The end of the boiler parried a distance of two or three hundred stock in the county.

vards, beyond the residence of Mrs. Mullin. The engine house, which was a frame uilding, was entirely demolished, scarcely two pieces remaining together, and the debris being scattered over the surrounding fields for a great distance. The paperaking room, which contained valuable eachinery, was shattered, and the machinery greatly damaged. The boiler itself was thrown into the air and turned completely around, landing some twenty feet from its old position. Weir and his son were both seriously njured, one of them doubtless mortally. the head and in the abdomen; his face. neck and hands scalded and burned almost to a crisp. Young Weir had the back part of his skull crushed in, and was also cut, bruised and scalded about his face and body. Strange to say, he remained consgious. Dr. Kieffer was called in, and found a portion of the skull driven into the brain, and the brain oozing out. The main artery at the back of the skull was cut, and from all appearances there was copious internal hemorrhage. He was placed under the influence of chloroform, while the ope ration was being performed; and after it was over, and since, says he suffers no pain, and remains entirely conscious.

The escaping steam and sediment seemed to sweep down every thing in its way, like a tornado. Trees were twisted and torn from the earth, fences demolished, and havor spread far and wide. The damage to machinery is variously estimated at from $6,000 to $10,000,- Volunteer.

THE SCHOEPPE MURDER TRIAL. has created a great excitement in Carlisle but it is now almost forgotten, by the increased excitement created by W. Sawyer. There never was a better opportunity offered to make money. You cannot imaunless you go and see for yourselves. Great sacrifices will be made during this mouth to close out their entire stock of Court, after noting upon the record the | Summer goods-They keep no account of what goods cost.
