The Scheeppe Murder Trial! The motion for a new trial over ruled-Opinion of the Court-Dr.

Schoppe Sentenced to be Hanged. The motion for a new trial in the case of Dr. Paul Schoeppe Convicted of the murby poison of Maria M. Stennecke, came for argument on Thursday last. The ports from several medical Socioeties, and the opinions of a number of eminent physicians in support of their position. The Commonwealth likewise read several depositions from celebrated physicians in sup port of the sufficiency of the medical testimony they had offered upon the trial.

fendant by Hon. Samuel Hepburn, Wm. H. Miller, Henry Newsham and Samuel Hepburn, Jr., and on the part of the Commonwealth, C. E. Maglaughlin and W. J. Shearer, Esqs., were elaborate and exhaustive, occupying the time of the Court until Friday at noon.

On Friday at 21 A. M., the defendant was brought into Court, when the motion for a new trial was overruled and he was sentenced. We give below the opinion of the Court, the remarks of the prisoner before Sentence and his Sentence by the COMMONWEALTH OPINION OF THE aid him greatly in the administration of his office, which his proverbial urbanity and courtes will be a good earnest to our gruments of the prisoner, on the motion will be made to a true gentleman.

Cours to the jury in their charge, and an-ewers to the points presented by the prison-er's counsel, have been stated, but not ur-gently insisted upon, because as properly romarked, any error in law, cannot prejudice the prisoner; it will be corrected by a superior tribunal, if any orror exists.

But it is urged with great earnestness, that the jury erred and that the verdict of the jury is not justified by the evidence. We will not review the mass of evidence We will not review the mass of evidence in this case, but state the rules of law established by the Supreme Court in motions for new trials. In Commonwealth vs Flanagan, 7 W & S 421,—Judge Rogers quotes the language of the late Chief Justice Gibson as follows: "Motions for a new trial are to be received with caution, because there are low cases trial in which generally are to be received with caution, because there are low cases trial in which generally are to be received with caution, for the control of the co ause there are few cases tried in which something new may not be hunted out, and something new may not be hunted out, and because it leads very much to perjury, to admit new evidence, after the party who has lost the verdict has had an opportunity of discovering his adversary's strongth and his own weakness." To this Judge Rogers adds—"If this is to be feared in ordinary cases, when the right of property only is concerned, how much more mustit be dreaded in a case such as the present, involving the life of a human being, and "But aside" from these objections there are other reasons which in my mind, are decisive against the motion. Granting new trials does not depend on the whim or caprice of the Judge, but upon well established and fundamental principles of law.

In the trial of issues of fact, the Court judges of the competency, the jury of the effect of the testimenry. But after verdict, when the meteor for a rear title is controlled. when the motion for a new trial is considred, the Court must judge, not only of the competency, but of the effect of evidence. If with the newly discovered evidence refuse the application. And it is ruled that in considering the motion, the Court will not require whether, taking the newly will not require whether, taking the newly discovered testimony, in connection with that exhibited on the trial; a jury might be induced to give a different verdict; but whether the legitimate effect of such evidence would require a different verdict.—

The duestion therefore is, supposing all the testimony new and old, before another jury, not whether it might but whether it ought to give a different verdict. It is manifest therefore, if these principles are manifest therefore, if these principles are correct, granting a new trial would be almost, if not quite equivalent to a verdict of sequittal."

Applying these legal principles to the present case, the new evidence is entirely granted; otherwise they present case, he have evidence is entirely cumulative, and it is not after-discovered evidence, for it was as accessible to the prisoner before as after the trial; and we may further add, that a careful review of the evidence, and the argument of the prisoner's counsel on the motion for a new trial, have failed to satisfy us that the vertrial, have failed to satisfy us that the verdict of the jury is not sustained by the LARD, LARD, LARD, TALLOW,

The prisoner was brought into Court by the Sheriff before the opinion of the Court everruling the motion for a new trial was pronounced.

Oharles E. Maglaughlin, Esq., District Attorney, moved the Court for judgment in favor of the Commonwealth, and that the sentence of the law be pronounced upon sontence of the law to proceed to prisoner.

His Honor, Judge Graham, then asked the prisoner if he had anything to say why the Court ought not to proceed to judge.

Dr. Scheppe then arose and in a clear voice and somewhat excited manner, spoke as follows:

"The jury can take my life, but the jury can not make me a criminal and a murderer, I have been convicted of a crime which never has been committed. This is not my opinion alone, which by itself would be worth nothing before this tribunal, but this is the opinion of all the eminat, but this the option of at the emi-nent and experienced physicians of this country, who, free of prejudices, carefully and attentively examined my case, and are alone competent to answer the question. "What was the cause of death of this lady?" "What was the cause of death of this lady!"
And therefore the right and the truth are on my side, and the right and the truth can not be killed by taking my life. When people just now do not see this, yet the time will come, when even people will see this, perhaps when my bones will already long time have moulded in the grave."
The Court then addressed the prisoner follows:

as follows:
