

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKETS.

FOR GOVERNOR, Gen. JOHN W. GEARY.

JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT, Hon. H. W. WILLIAMS.

COUNTY TICKETS. COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

OUR CANDIDATE FOR AUDITOR.

NO MORE WONDERS.

ON THE 28TH OF JUNE, 1861.

THE MAUCH CHUKK GAZETTE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

ON SATURDAY LAST.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

THE MEASURES ADOPTED BY THE COMMITTEE.

Democratic Corruption Fund.

On all hands we hear that Asa Packer has most egregiously disappointed the Democracy in the way of bleeding freely for their corruption fund.

The leaders of that detestable party already declare that he is a man in political matters as he has proved himself in private affairs.

He has shifted his residence from the borough of Mauch Chunk to a tavern in Philadelphia, in order to avoid the payment of his local taxes should not have been expected to contribute liberally even to purchase his own election.

Meanness in Asa Packer is as natural as the dislike of Satan for "holy water," or church bells. Out of the sweat and poor pay of his workmen he made his money, and for him to pay it out to the leaders of the Democracy, would cause him to sweat blood and kneel his teeth.

To prevent this matter of expense, he had his personal friend Mutchler (whom nobody before heard of), appointed to the Chairmanship of the Democratic State Convention, and even at this late day he has refused to agree to the selection of a treasurer for that impudent body.

Packer, having thus failed to contribute, the different County Committees are expected to raise the corruption fund by enormous assessments on the few Democratic office-holders who are to be found scattered over different parts of the State.

In accordance with this design, the Copperhead Committee of this county have gone to work. But, lo and behold! our Harrisburg Representative, Col. (F. J.) Dick Haldeman, anticipates their action, and will know that his assessment would mount high in the hundreds, sends his check for a paltry hundred dollars to the treasurer of the Committee, thus forestalling his assessment by that hungry body of bush-whackers.

And we have even heard some Democrats who are ungenerous enough to say that Dick did this to prevent the collection of the large balance due upon his last year's assessment. To make the matter still "more binding," as the slang phrases of the Democracy go, one of his henchmen, the Hon. (F. J.) Theodore Corn man, gets a resolution of thanks passed by the Committee, which entirely exonerates the gallant Colonel (?) from any further assessments, and wipes out all old and unsettled scores which any prior committees may have against him.

The result of all this shabby practice on the part of Dick will be an over-assessment on the smaller fry of the Copperhead office-holders in the county. The corruption fund, they are determined to be raised. We can afford to look on at them and laugh in our sleeves, well knowing that it will simply be that much money squandered. Geary and Williams are bound to be elected, and money spent on Packer and Pershing will simply be money wasted.

This fact Packer himself already recognizes, and his dumb supporters will fully realize it on the second Tuesday of next month. Pennsylvania, by the vote of her laboring thousands, will on that day repudiate the great coal monopolist and grasping millionaire. Meanness cannot and shall not sit in her gubernatorial chair. Retty, third-rate lawyers, like Pershing, cannot and shall not sit in judgment on her Tribunals. Patriots, like Geary, and Jurists, like Williams, must forever control her destiny.

Meeting of the Republican County Committee.

On Saturday last, at 11 o'clock, A. M., the Republican County Committee assembled in Rhea's Hall.

The attendance was quite large, and the action of the Committee in all respects harmonious, bidding fair to produce the most satisfactory results.

Colonel ROBERT MCCARTNEY was called to the chair temporarily, and S. A. Woods made temporary Secretary. A ballot was then held for permanent Chairman, and JOSEPH RIVIN, Jr., Esq., of Mechanicsburg, was elected.

Afterwards GEORGE W. HOUCK, of Mechanicsburg, was elected Secretary, and ALEXANDER STRIART, of Shippenburg, Treasurer.

The measures adopted by the Committee for the conduct of the campaign are well matured, and, if the Republicans of the county will not give a hearty and active support, cannot fail to prove eminently successful.

In order to discharge our whole duty in the pending campaign, however, each and every member of the party must work vigorously and continuously. Committees should be able to accomplish much, but the combined and persistent efforts of individuals can accomplish far more. The State is ours by right and numbers, but it will not do to pass the day in idleness, lest while we sleep the enemy may deal a mortal blow on us. Let us be alive to the work, every man ready and willing to do his whole duty, and all will be well.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE says the political outlook in Pennsylvania never looked better than now.

In Philadelphia, we shall carry Geary and Williams through an old-fashioned majority. In the suburban and rural regions, where Mr. Packer should have considerable strength, he will fall behind the average Democratic vote, as he is by no means popular with the laboring people who go to make up the opposition in that section.

He may, through social and business relations, draw to himself a few Republican votes, but he will lose a hundred fold in the ranks of his own party. West of the mountains the enthusiasm for the Republican ticket is great, and the accustomed majorities in proportion to the vote out, may confidently be expected. On the whole we see nothing in the present situation which should cause any of the opposition to discourage us; never before have we entered a canvass where the course presented so fair a prospect for the party walking over to the Democratic victors.

A Brief Contrast.

The Lebanon Courier presents to the consideration of the people the following brief contrast of the times when the "Democrats" held sway, and the condition of things now that the Republicans have power.

Every candid man must acknowledge the truth of the contrast. Here it is:

It is scarcely possible to believe that any intelligent citizen who wishes well to the country, can hesitate in giving his support to the Republican party in preference to the Democrat.

For many years the Democratic party was but the echo of the slaveholders' demands. They used it to spread slavery, to perfect the conspiracy against the existence of the Union, and finally to wage war against the life of the nation.

The Republican party was born of the necessities of the times. It came to say to those who were bent on covering our whole land with slavery, thus far you shall go, and no further.

And when war against the Union came, it was the organization around which loyal men rallied as the instrument for saving the liberties of the Republic and preserving the existence of the Union.

The Democratic party was a corrupt party. It sunk our State so deeply in debt that at one time Pennsylvania was on the brink of repudiation. The Republicans came into power, arrested the wholesale corruption that was rampant, and at once commenced the redemption of the State debt.

In our national affairs everybody knows the condition to which we were reduced under Mr. Buchanan, when the Treasury was robbed of every cent in it, including Indian bonds placed there for safe keeping, and when our credit was so low, in a time of peace, that we could borrow money only at a heavy premium.

When Mr. Lincoln assumed the duties of President, this wholesale robbery of the Treasury was put a stop to, and although we were plunged into war by rebels and traitors, our credit improved.

As soon as A. Johnson, through his treachery, gave the Democrats another opportunity at the money bags, the robbing system was resumed, and millions upon millions of dollars were diverted from the national treasury, where it belonged, to the pockets of scheming and plundering Democrats.

Then, again, as soon as the Republicans once more took the helm under Grant, the money once more flows into the Treasury, and our debt is rapidly reduced.

The Democrats persistently encourage fraud at elections, and antagonize any law designed to protect the ballot-box. The Republicans, on the contrary, demand fair elections so that the people's will may be declared, and uphold laws for that object.

The Democratic party bases its strength on prejudice, ignorance and deception. The Republican party looks to justice and equality for all, to the education and enlightenment of the people, and to frankness towards the public.

The Democratic party is still desirous of having the men who formerly led the party and who led in the rebellion placed in power, while the Republicans would have the men who have always been true to the Union direct the destiny of the nation.

The Democrats would digress and ruin the nation through repudiation; the Republicans would pay the national obligations, and maintain the national honor.

Thus may the tendency and objects of the two parties be carried out on all public questions, and their relations will be found to be the same. The Democratic party grow out of the barbarisms, violence and sins of slavery, and has a nature which it is as impossible to change as for a leopard to change his spots.

The Republican party, from its inception, recognized the demands of morality and Christianity in our public affairs, and accepts as its guide the eternal principles of Right and Justice.

In choosing between the two, what good man can hesitate?

Can't Go Lehigh!

The following communication from one of the leading Democrats of Silver Spring township, exhibits the true state of feeling there in reference to the Democratic candidate for Assembly.

For the present we will let our correspondent speak for himself, reserving for the future our own comments. Here is the letter:

New Kingston, Pa., Aug. 30th, 1869.

Masses, Editors: We, as Democrats, are very much dissatisfied with the candidate for Assembly.

Your chances for electing KIMMER are good. I believe with the help of the honest Democrats you will oppose J. B. L. in October next that KIMMER will be the next Assemblyman.

I have been a Democrat all my life, and an one yet, but when it comes down to voting for a man like the one who claims the nomination for Assembly, I feel that it is not Democratic to do so.

Hope that you will spread before the people a history of his past deeds, which will astonish many, I am, Yours Respectfully, A. BIVENS STRAIN, Democrat.

The "Democrats" soldiers and sailors of Massachusetts who helped to put down the rebellion are highly ignorant of the total neglect with which they were treated by the recent John Quincy Adams Junior State Convention.

Not one of them was nominated for anything, and they swear, with no little truth, that the venerable Copperheads had it all their own way in the Convention affairs. It isn't easy to see why they should have anticipated any different treatment.

The "Democrats" who opposed corruption, who thought fighting fair to the future prosperity of the Republic, and taxation only another name for oppressive swindling, could hardly be expected to look with living eyes upon "Democratic" defenders of the Union.

The Chinese Treaty.

The report from Hong-Kong, that the Burlingame treaty has been rejected, and that China is not ready to enter into the family of nations; that Mr. Burlingame has been humbugged; and, what is more, that the whole of China has been humbugged likewise, is such an awful degrading of our hopes that we naturally hesitate to believe it until forced upon us.

Stories of a similar character have come to us from the English statements in China ever since Mr. Burlingame started on his mission. This latest report has, however, a color of confirmation in the rumor that the Chinese Government has signified its unwillingness to receive the Duke of Edinburgh on a footing of equality with the Imperial family; that royal young man being entirely beneath the notice of the boy-emperor of the Flowery Kingdom, and the white devils generally nothing but a lot of ignorant barbarians whose first duty ought to be to pay tribute.

The treaty which Mr. Burlingame negotiated at Washington was drawn up by him and his Chinese colleagues, and was not substantially modified in the United States Senate. It was, therefore, an offer from China to us, and if it has been withdrawn there must be some special difficulty which the dispatch this morning does not reveal, or else Mr. Burlingame has most egregiously mistaken his functions and exceeded his authority.

The special difficulty, we dare say, may resolve itself into the opposition of the British residents in China and the old hard-hitting statesmen who have been for a hundred years or more butting their heads against the Chinese wall in the vain attempt to batter it down.

Their formula for diplomatic negotiation with China has generally been, "Trade with us on our own terms, or we'll mash your head;" and we are not surprised that they should look with disfavor upon moralized modes of procedure.

We are surprised, however, that Mr. J. Ross Browne, who has just been relieved from duty as United States Minister to China, should have assumed on the strength of his very short acquaintance with the present rulers of the empire and the disposition of the people, to publicly declare the policy of his predecessor a huge mistake, and interpose with China, on a footing of equality, at present impossible.

Mr. Burlingame had the advantage of a long, familiar and confidential intercourse with the Court of Peking, and is likely to have been pretty well informed about its disposition; and he at any rate would not admit that there was any insuperable difficulty in the way of bringing the Eastern and Western civilization into friendly contact. It seems to us that the opportunities of a fair treaty with China are better now than they ever have been before.

China is sending thousands of her people to this country, and their immigration during the next few years will probably increase at a greatly accelerated rate. How we shall treat them, what rights we shall confer upon them, whether we shall protect them in the practice of their national customs, and give them facilities to send home to their native country the wealth which they gather in exile, are becoming important questions in our domestic policy, and the answer to them will depend in a great measure upon the policy of the Emperor at Peking.

China can hardly be blind to this fact, and we await an explanation of this morning's dispatch with considerable curiosity. -New York Tribune.

At last we have the whole Chinese sensation exploded. Mr. Ross Browne says that the treaty has been rejected, but has been postponed till Mr. Burlingame's return. Mr. B. says it was never expected that the treaty would be considered until his return. There remains nothing but a certain ill-humor which our late Minister has contrived to leave about his mission, an embarrassment thrown in the way of his predecessor, and a special reason for care in the choice of his successor.

ASA PACKER is said to be the "Workingman's candidate." Who checked him into the Lehigh river? His own workmen! What for? Attempting to compel them to work at starvation wages. Will the workingmen be stupid enough to support a man who respects their rights only when he is compelled to do so at the risk of his own life? We think not.

Under Grant, the revenues from whisky and tobacco have more than doubled. How would the matter stand to-day had Seymour and his clan been placed in power? Let the intelligent man, who has examined "current history," judge for himself.

There is some talk of sending Hon. Galusha A. Grow to the Legislature. Montrose wants a first-class representative. If we could get a few more such men in our State councils, a single session would make up for all the short-comings of past years.

The Democrats of Pennsylvania are very anxious that the war and all its recollections should be forgotten. In this they are in happy accord with their candidate, Judge Packer, who, having wholly forgotten his country during the rebellion, naturally does not feel inclined to remember it now.

Washington Correspondence. Washington, D. C. August 30, 1869.

DEAN HERRICK. There is another lock inventor here, named Sargent, from Mass. His lock cannot be opened by anybody till the time comes around for which it was set to be opened. This is not a clock work.

It is probably well for the Republican party of the country to commence now to consider modifications of the Internal Revenue laws in a more deliberate spirit, and in view of the country's late years of experience, with more intelligence, and with a reasonable hope of a nearer approach to a policy generally satisfactory to the people, and to the Government leaders.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

It is not surprising that the country leaders have happily revealed enough of the demagogical cards they intend to deal to the people to excite the war-mess here and there of a Republican. The wily enemy's outcry against "bloated" and "overpaid" Government officers, with the present concerted, growing workmen's movement in the interest of the laboring man, is a near approach to the wily of our side of the house, and there is, in the already said, a great deal to be learned from the side of the Republic.

The Campaign.

The Campaign in Pennsylvania has auspiciously opened in various parts of the Commonwealth, and from every quarter come the cheering tidings that the Republicans are once more on the political war path with full hope for triumphant victory.

Peculiarly fortunate in the selection of candidates and in the enunciation of principles which must assert strongly to the public mind, the late State Convention of the Republicans has but little to be done by the masses they represent.

The active, noisy, bustling canvass is not necessary to secure success on our part. What is wanted is quiet and effective organization, temperate discussion of the weight and merits of the principles espoused, and of the men put forward by the respective parties.

Plant seeds for thought and furnish food for reflection, and no doubt as to the result of the campaign need be entertained. Weighed down with the galling roar of ill-arranged against the spirit of progress in the affairs of liberty and freedom, carrying candidates whose past histories contain nothing to warrant public confidence, and whose present recommends little for the future, the Opposition are heartless and will feebly rally for the show of a contest.

Let there be no breaking away from party lines in any instance, but standing firm and solid together, let the fight be made and another grand triumph of principle will be secured to the Republican cause.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains. No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

No doubt they say—"Served you right. Why did you not do as the Pennsylvania Copperheads have done—take one you could trust; one who never said a word for the war; never gave a dollar to it, and never concealed his sympathy with the South?"

Democrats like Packer are not weaklings like Rosecrans, and never go back on their friends.

The men who glory in the name of "Copperhead"—and there are thousands of such in the Democratic party—who hate a Union soldier as honestly as they love a rebel—will have a good time reminding their humiliated brethren of Ohio that they ran after a "Federal general" and got snubbed for their pains.

Local and County Matters.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN. THE "CARLISLE HERALD."

Circulate the Documents! The important campaign in which the Republican party is now engaged, demands that the principles at issue should be thoroughly understood by the people.

No better exponent of these principles can be found than the CARLISLE HERALD. We therefore propose to furnish it from this time until the first of November next at the following rates:

Single copy, 50 cts. Clubs of twenty, $4 00. Clubs of fifty, $10 00.

In addition to the discussion of the political questions of the day, the "HERALD" contains all the current news, market reports, and an excellent literary department, thus making it a welcome addition to the family circle, as well as a sound political guide.

FOR SALE.—A Bourdian and Gray Piano, nearly new, and in excellent order. Enquire at this office.

RELIGIOUS.—DORR R. L. DANIEL, President of Dickinson College, will preach in the 2d Presbyterian Church on Sabbath morning next at 11 o'clock.

SEPTUAGINT.—Our issue on the 28th of September commences with our course with cool mornings and evenings, rendering extra bed-clothing not only comfortable but necessary.

THE PROGRAMME FOR SUNDAY EVENING'S PARADE AT CARLISLE BARRACKS is as follows: 1. Come Poise.—Airs from "Lombard." 2. Overture from "F. de Vio." 3. Finale from "Luciozia Borgia." 4. Galop from "Martina." P. H. CONDUCTOR.

A SCHOOL HOUSE BURNED.—The Richmond School House, in Dickinson township, was burned on Friday morning last, at 8 o'clock. It was a fine building, and was accidentally fired by some stranger who lodged in it during the night.

THEFTING.—Our town appears to be infested with petty thieves, who have no regard for the law, their neighbors or themselves. In market, our country friends are exposed to many annoyances, fruit, poultry, and other articles being frequently stolen.

NEW GROCERY STORE.—We refer the reader to the advertisement in another column, headed "New Grocery Store." It will be seen that Mr. John Bender, successor of Mr. Phillip Messersmith, at the corner of Bedford and Pomfret Streets, and has supplied himself with fresh Groceries, and keeps a general assortment of Queensware, Glassware, Wood and Willowware, etc., and in fact, whatever is of the quality and of that description perfect. Call and examine for yourselves.

GOOD WHISKY.—"Bossy" Wrenzel has on hand, some of the very best whisky ever sold in this town. It is to be found no adulteration, and while we are violently opposed to its use as a beverage, we would cordially recommend it to all who desire to procure a good and palatable article