CLASS NO. 19-LEATHER, STOVES AND TINWARE.-The superiority of the principle of base burning, as applied to coal heating stoves, is now generally admitted. Of these the Morning Glory appeared to be a universal favorite. The Light House, a new base burning, and coal heating stove, and the celebrated Rotary cooking stove were also objects of attention. The enterprising firm of Walker & Claudy were the exhibitors of the above stoves. We desire also to notice the display of Messrs. Rhinesmith & Side fire place heater, the Barley Sheaf Cooking stove, and five styles of parlor toves, all unsurpassed in beauty. Messrs. James McGonigle and W. Fridley also added to the display by varieties, each claiming distinctive merits. The committee, W. M. Watts, W. W. Dale, Lowis F. Lyne, made the following awards in this class: to George Ensminger, for best display of tanned leather, $4.00; for best kip and best calf, diploma; W. Fridley, display of stoves, $5,00 ; Rhinesmith & Rupp, James McGonigle, and Walker & Claudy, for superior display in line of business, diploma and $3,00.
