POLITICAL WORK---ITS IMPORT-

ANCE. There are now, and have always been in this county, a large number of most worthy and respectable citizens, who are in warm sympathy with the principles of the Republican party, and who have the influence and ability to be of great service to it, who nevertheless see fit to take no part in any political canvass, and who frequently neglect to vote. They are always ready with a reason for this, but their excuses generally demonstrate how wrong their own indifference to such matters is. Want of time, and the pressure of other engagements are very common excuses. Then again, they urge that none but adventurers and place-hunters ever take active part in politics, and many further urge that it is impossible to mingle with politicians without becoming disgraced and contaminated. It is also urged that those who succeed the best are those who are most unscrupulous in the means employed to obtain power and place. These and many kindred expressions are constantly in the mouths of many respectable men who neglect their duty to the community, and their own interest, by ignoring politics.

Now all these fancied excuses are not only absurd, but they demonstrate their own absurdity. A very bad man might easily excuse himself from voting, or urging others to vote, on the ground that nothing but harm could result from his meddling in' politics. It would be the duty of every such man to let politics alone, and it is equally the duty of a good man to engage actively in them. The practical work of politics in this county. consists in the selection of persons to make and execute laws for the safety and protection of the community.

Laws and lawmakers are the guardians of all that is valuable or desirable in life. When the privilege of choosing these is given to a people, it brings with it the duty of performing that trust. No man is a good citizen who shrinks from it, or performs it indifferently. If men are deeply immersed in business, they have greater interests to protect than those who have merely employment enough to earn a living. The success of their enterprises, and the safety of their possessions depends much on the choice of proper men for rulers. The more buiness a man may have, the more he is bound to make himself felt in the political world fifthe politics of the country are now controlled by incompetent and wicked men, it is so much more the duty of men who are competent and worthy to exert themselves in the same field to counteract their influence. In a word, politics cannot be dispensed with as long as human society exists, and the man who holds himself aloof, on account of his business, respectability, or prejudices is shirking one of the most import- the New York Sun, and he goes over the

THE Democratic journals are constantly ppealing-to-the-poor men to vote their icket for the reason that their party has always favored the poor man. It order that poor men may see exactly how much they have been benefited by the Democratic party, we will enumerate the prominent measures and movements upheld by the Democracy within the last twenty years, and then ask poor men to judge for themselves what obligations they are under to the Democracy. Before the war the Southern politiians who dictated the principles of the Democratic party taught that CAPITAL SHOULD OWN ITS LABOR: Or, in other words, that laboring men should be the serfs of men who were rich. The Democratic party plunged the country into a war with Mexico in their compelling poor men to fight for territory in which they would have to compete with slave labor.

The Democratic party threw open allthe territories of the nation to slavery, and thus virtually closed them again laboring freemen.

The Democratic party in Congress opposed the free homestead law, and a Democratic President vetoed it on it first passage. The Democratic party began a war

The Democratic party, by its treason reated an enormous national debt, which will be a direct burden on laboring men for at least this generation. The Democratic party has uniformly the credit of the Government. The result of this was that the currency depreciated largely, and the earnings of all poor mer were-largely cut down in value. Aln the recent legislation of Congress the Democracy opposed the repeal of taxes, the funding of the debt at a low rate of interest, and the payment of the debt, and in this way did all they could o perpetuate the burdens of the poor. In short, during the last twenty years he Democratic party has been always n the support of measures calculated to degrade labor, and cheat it of its dues to render poor men still poorer; to heap heavy burthens-on them, and to prevent their removal. It has never originated cess of the enterprise. measure that tended to make labor honorable, or to increase its rewards That the poor men of the nation are not

The excitement which has pervaded the southern portion of this county during the summer, with regard to the con struction of a railroad along the South Iountain, is producing excellent results A meeting of the friends of this enterprise was held on last Friday, at Boiling Springs, which was very largely attended by the solid and enterprising men of that ection from the Franklin county line to Dillsburg.
