DISASTROUS FIRE.—Newburg, a small willage, in the upper end of the county, 500 inhabitants, ha been visited by a disastrous fire. The following particulars obtained from an seye-witness, and one of the principal inferers, we lay before our readers Between 12 and 1 o'clock on Monday morning last, a fire broke out in the stable of C. C. Stevick, esq., the flames then communicated to the stables of · Henry Clippinger, Daniel McCoy, George Gilbert and C. Hartzell. Six stables in all were burned to the ground, two of which were owned by Mr. McCoy. The outbuildings attached to the different properties, excepting one, were burned down.

The firs was supposed to have been seen first by Dr Burge, but as he is speechless, considerable time elapsed before the citizens were awakened. . After being thoroughly aroused, the citizens worked heroically and unceasingly, until they were almost exhausted, being destitute of a fire engine, they were compelled to carry water in buckets, from the neighboring wells and pumps. Fortunately there was no wind at the time, or the little village, along the mountain side, might have been laid in ashes. As it was, great difficulty was experienced in preventing the flames from communicating to the residences of the citizens. The roofs of six different lhouses were on fire, but soon extinguished. A-barn belonging to Captain Carson, at the upper end of the village, was on fire, but the flames were subduce before any serious damage was done.

The fire continued to burn until noon of Monday, nothwithstanding teams were busily engaged an hauling water from the neighboring stream. When the fire was first discovered, the bells on the school houses and churches were rung, and the people for miles around soon began to arrive and assist in checking the devastating flames.

The entire loss is estimated at from $3,000 to $4,000; some of the properties are insured in the Lurgan Insurance Company of Franklin county. Mr. C. C. Stevick, cabinetmaker, lost a horse valued at $150; a cow worth, at modium of Demutin's Anti-Desperie Stomacu Bitters least $75; a hearse, valued at $150; and 6 fine hogs, together with several hundred feet of lumber, worth about $200.

Mr. C's loss is fully $1,000, partly insured. George Gilbert lost 3 large hogs.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is very generally conceded to have been the work of the incondinry, in a from MIASMATA, it is the only reliable preventive an spirit of revenge. This is not the first remedy known. fire that has visited Newburg. On the seventeenth of March last, a large barn S. "SAFE, SPEEDY, AND SURE." was destroyed by fire. Two years since, the large bank barn and stable of Mr.

McCoy, was burned to the ground, and in the present conflagration, Mr. M. loses a bank barn; and a new frame stable. Our informant also tells us that stable. Our informant also tells us that threats to fire other properties, have since been made.

Another Fire. Three stables were destroyed by fire, on Saturday evening last, in Orrstown. A valuable cow was consumed in the flames. It is said to have been the work of an incendiary.

STILL ANOTHER FIRE. The stables of or making the simple remedy by which he was Messrs. George B. Cole and Robert Law-ton, of Shippensburg, were destroyed by fire last night (Tuesday.) We did not learn the particulars.

We did not way 7-70-ly. Court of the second learn the particulars,
