

DEMOCRATIC POLITICIANS CONSPIRE TO DEFEAT THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE.

It is known, generally, that through this Senatorial District, and also throughout the entire State, the contest for Senator was regarded as a fair one. It was the result of a political complexion of the Senate, and therefore its importance could scarcely be over-estimated.

With the return of the nineteenth Senatorial district, having met at the Court House, in the borough of Carlisle, on October 12, 1871, to cast the same in said district, composed of Cumberland and Franklin counties, for a Senator therefrom, do certify that in the county returns it appears that in the county of Cumberland, J. M. Weakley had 4,258 votes, and that Henry K. Peffer had 4,114 votes, &c.

JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

The following is the vote for President Judge in the Ninth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Cumberland, Perry and Juniata:

Republican majority 10,000 voters of this district. Let all men read it.

York and Adams—Wm. M. Sherry, D., Somerset, Bedford and Fulton—H. Blain, Huntingdon, Centre, Mifflin and Perry—R. Bruce Patrickin, D., Dauphin, Centre, Adams and York—D. B. Westmoreland—Harry Whitte, R., York.

Not a success. The parties having performed to the best of their capacity, were not gratified with the large receipts they had, no doubt, hoped to amass during the exhibition. Cause—scarcity of stocks.

SOLD OUT.—Dr. W. Storer, in the rear of his liquor establishment, in the rear of the Court House, to Mr. G. T. Junkin, of Shippenburg, the new program has already taken charge of the establishment, and invites a share of public patronage.
