DEATH OF COL. STANTON.

The people of the entire State were shocked with the announcement in the daily papers of Monday, of the death of Col. David Stanton, the recently elected Auditor General...

Col. Stanton was, by profession, a physician, and had practiced medicine in New Brighton for twenty years, except during the time when he devoted all his time, energy and skill to the service of his country. He was a gentleman of unblemished character, great ability, and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all who knew him.

Mr. Stanton's death has caused considerable discussion as to the manner of filling the vacancy, which will exist at the close of General Hartranft's term. The law provides that in case of the death of the Auditor General, the Governor shall appoint a person, who shall serve for the unexpired term of his "predecessor."

There appears to be some truth now in the oft-repeated story of Secretary Fish. It is now believed that he will retire from the Presidency of the National Bank in the near future, and that the office of Auditor General will be filled by the Governor...

THE OPINION OF HON. B. H. HILL. A correspondent of a Cincinnati newspaper who has been interviewing "Ben Hill" of Georgia, reports that able Senator...

THE SHIPPENSBURG SENTINEL has the following somewhat astonishing information: "The administration journals which have made such loud boasts of the 'economy' practiced at Washington, and the 'small' large reduction of the public debt, are discredited by the announcement made by the Republican Secretary of the Treasury that receipts amounting to nearly five thousand millions of dollars, in five years and four months, the debt has only been reduced sixty-six millions. Four thousand nine hundred and thirty-four million spent."

WE suspect pretty strongly that Secretary Boutwell, never made any such statement, at least in public.

A FEW men can find employment at 21 West Main street, Carlisle. MADAME TRUMAN says that the "hardest man" in Pennsylvania will hardly take up his temporary abode in our borough. Ladies, he is a single gentleman, and just please remember that next year is Leap Year.

WE hear from all quarters that at Ogilby's 47 West Main street, Carlisle, Pa., in all kinds of goods are being sold, in fact prices are named for certain articles that are being sold. The stock is large and full in every department.
