John Kiehl has been indicted for the vilful and deliberate murder of his wife, Sarah Ar*Kiehl, by the administration of poison, on the seventh day of May last, and at other times subsequent thereto. The facts on which this charge against him is based are, as I believe the evidence

About eight years' since John Kichl was married to Sarah E. Doner, who made him a patient, dutiful, industrious, frugal, and an affectionate wife. After ome years of earnest striving, they accumulated some money, and purchased a home in the vicinity of Shippensburg, to which they removed in the Spring of 1870. Prior to this time, they had lived in perfect accord, and with proper fidel-These facts will show, conclusively, first, that Mrs. Kichl died from the ad-ministration of arseuic in poisonous home about 11 o'clock; don't remember ity to each other. Soon afer removing to their new home, John became intimate with, and enamored of a girl residloses, secondly, that it was adminis ing in the neighborhood, named Kate Myers, and gave to her the attention which should have been bestowed upon an uncomplaining wife. This attachment grew more intense on his part, and he finally saw no obstacle to the embraces of his new love, but his wife, and soon determined that she must be removed out of the way. Kate Myers was delivered of a bastard child some years' since. Mrs. Kiehl was childless., Dur ing some months prior to her death she had been in delicate health, but had reason, and asks that Justice, and nothvery materially recovered. She had been taking medicine from Dr. Zitzer for some time, and was, also, prescribed for, on the first day of May, by Dr. Bixler. who gave her a box of powders and a bottle containing a liquid. This box and bottle were kept in a cupboard in Kiehl's kitchen. For a number of weeks, prior to Mrs.

Kichl's death, she had been doing her own housework, scrubbing, washing, tered as our Legislators make them, and the execution of the penalties, annexed for their violation, devolve upon other then and there well knowing the said men. On Sunday, May 7, she took at persons than yourselves. Society has found, after centuries of xperience, that punishment must as rely be inflicted on the guilty as that

"that he had bought it for his wife," he did not deny it: His wife was hardly dead until he asked a neighboring wo-man "whether they were going to ar-rest him for poisoning Sarah ?" begging her, for God's sake, to tell him; if she would hear of that intention. On no other theory can his preparation of the public mind for her sudden death, his brutality, and his falsehoods during hor illness, be accounted for, than upon that of his guilt. his brutality, and his falsehoods during hor illness, be accounted for, than upon that of his guilt. Gentlemen, John Kiehl 'will, as a matter of right, demand a fair and im-partial trial at your hands, and that you shall bring unbiased minds to the con-sideration of this case, and the Common-wealth comes to you with no weaker reason, and asks that Justice, and noth-
