My sister got, that box from Mr. Birty she got the powders from him: Galisle; didn't tell Jacob Fair the conversation was in Dutch, it wasn't in Dutch.

John Kiehl is a full cousin of mine; on Sabbath Mr. Kiehl was arrested; Mr. Snyder, Mr. Smith, turnkey and I were in jail at Kiehl's cell. Snyder had started home and I called him back. Mr. Smith let us into the jail. We went up stairs, and were directed to the cell by some prisoners who were in the hall. Mr. Snyder came to the cell first. He called Mr. Kiehl by his first name three times, Kiehl did not come to the door of the cell. Then he stopped aside and I called him once and he came to the door I asked him if father had seen him. He said no. I told him he was in Carlisle, and wished to see him. Then I stepped back and Mr. Snyder stepped up and talked to him. While he was talking to him Mr. Skelley was there and I spoke to him Mr. Skelley was there and I spoke to him, S elley requested me to go into his (Skelley's) cell. During this time Snyper was talking with Kiehl, As I was cassing Mr. Snyder told me that he accused Mr. Kiehl of buying poison. He said Kiehl first denicebit, but afterwards said he bought poison, but that, it was for rats or mice, Kiehl was standing at the time with his face to the door and Snyder was on the step of the cell, with his face turned half round. It might have been 18 or 20 inches from Kiehl and Snyder. He spoke a little louder than auxual, on account of noise and continued. for rats or mice, Kiehl was standing at the time with his face to the door and Snyder was on the step of the cell, with his face turned half round. It might have been 18 or 20 inches from Kiehl and Snyder. He spoke a little louder than usual, on account of noise and confusion in the hall. Couldn't tell whether Mr. Kiehl could hear it or not. The back of Snyder's head was almost directly towards Kiehl when he said this.

Cross examined.

There was a good deal of confusion in the hall. There might have been five or six persons talking. There was great confusion owing to Kiehl's coming in.

In chief.

When I came out of Skelley's cell, Snyder told me, in Kiehl's presence, at Kiehl's cell door—that he said to Kiehl Kiehl's cell door—that he said to Kiehl "no, you didn't buy poison for rats or mice, but for your wife." Don't remember that he told me Kiehl's answer Then he stepped back from the cell and told me I should speak to Kiehl if I wished to. I told him I didn't wish to speak to him under the circumstances.
