CARLISLE, PENN'A., THURSDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 15, 1872.

tiod bless these my heartless children

Farewell to my dearest chi dren know that I raised 'om a I thrifty

I did just the lost I could,

But children will never listen ad maybe I wifinged 'em too ho last fond excuse was spoken,

The poor master sont the message

Been grumpy, and gidn't threve.

And so she had died that mornin'-

Would be builed that followin' eve-but Charles and his wife were draveling, and any might come to the funeral

While Thomas was 'shamed to go, and said that he never could stand it

And Savar "Would go it show also at then they wors usin' the horse-were the half from the poor house

Is buried by stranger: teday.

BEHIND THE VEH.

was not an unusual occurrence; and he vas disposed to be cros, that was also nothing new, so he retired behind the newspaper and devoured his eggs and toast without vouchsafing any reply to the remarks of the fresh looking little lady opposite. But she was gathering together her forces for the final onslaught, and when at lyngth Mr. Edge laid aside the newspaper, it came.

sible woman fo-wear-"

" Cau't you go alone !

up a little, if you please."

"No trouble-not a bit," said he, an-

Mrs. Edge-good, mack, slittle soul that she was--relapsed into obedient si-sigh, and presently began a now attack

"Henry will you go with me to aunt's

Along! from wasted a racing LEG

did not often parade itself-was aroused

You are so neglectful of those little at-furs to----" n-miσht 2''

con once did."

To hand the wit ter's wood."

To each of the children five ;

of the small had left the next ledy.

Their mother had somehow, rate lately

To half what taeir mother erys;

THE CARLISLE HERALD

Published every Thursday morning by WEAKLEY & WALLACE EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS. Office in Rheem's Hall, in rear of the Court House Torms--$2 00 per annum, in advance

RATES OF ADVERTISING: 1, sq | 2 sq | 3 sq | 4 sq | 1/4 c | 1/2 c | 1 col

12 lines constitute a square or Executors', and Administrators' Notices, $4.00 2.00 Announcements, acted for by the year. Business and Special Notices, 10 cents per line, ols column advertisements extra. Les of Marringes and Deaths published free.

DON'T QUARREL BOUT THE LITTLE FARM.

BY JOHN D. MISSIMER. " No, brothers, don't fall out 'bout it, or quarre You know as well as I do-that it's wrong this way

"Just wait, at least, (ill father's cold, just but day or two!

Have more respect for mother, for she's old and weak and sil. "Now. Freddie. "on're the oldest! You should got

For what's the good of quarieling, I'd really like (

I'll gladly give her all my share, that she may hav

"I don't know much about the law, for it, so I'm told,

' New I can't see how this is right; the carned a by 'Equire Lee And father often told us so

He hoped that she would suff Because his boys were rich enough, and therefore

But thought we here, with one accord, would give and not demur " Now I know I'm not a scholar, boys; few things of farming land; Yet this I know, ten acres with a house ' I'd like my little part of it-a great deal with it live long day. And for it got but board and clothes-that's more my brend;

And you needn't think because I plead, that I just want a home, No! No! I'll leave-though hard 'twill be, for her

"This living 'round with married s ns, ain't what around his capacious waist. it's thought to be!

And mother's old, near sixty years, and not us live in no one's way,

And be protected from harsh words, you all might Smith knows."

You're losing but a paltry sum-a little mite of Whoever's willing, a Lam, can raise his own right come into a large and unexpected in-And not a hand remained in place, but up they

how 'twee done'
All quarrel greated, the brothers knelt, and found the days, coursin John.' to them there!  IN THE WRONG HOUSE.

BY F. DELACY. Major . John Parkinson was a good looking bachelor, and had lived forty-quite a young.man. He had gone out to, India when only after a thirty years' absence, the possessor of an ample fortune, most of which and a string of enormous gold beads he had already sent to America for in- around her shriveled throat. The Major did not like boarding houses, and had, therefore, written to his agent in New York to purchase and have fitted up for him a comfortable residence in some good neighborhood, On a cold, rainy November evening the Chundarce entered the harbor, bringing the Major once more to his native land. He engorly hastened to the office of his agent for information regarding the location of his new home, determined to pass the first night of his arrival under his own roof. On reaching the office of Mr. Smith, his agent, he learned that he was absent, Clara, poor Clara?" chimed in the explanations and comments, and then but the key had been left for him, accompanied by a note, regretting that business in the country compelled the writer to re our hero. inquish the pleasure of personally greet after Clara."

The Major on his acrival, but assuring the Major on his arrival, but assuring him that he would find his house in complete order, with servants to admin able to met him personally, the Major glossy brown. made the best of it, and turned to the card attached to the key for instructions as to the location of his residence, and street; but what number, unfortunately. the card did not say! "However." muttered the Major, "I can't go very far wrong, as it says between Hudson and Vandam streets. At the worst it is only trying the doors along with my key un-

"Home, sweet home."

"I dare say she will," answered our til I come to the right one." And the Major strolled briskly off through the rain, humming to himself,

After much inquiry of policemen and consulting of directories at corner drugstores, and studying of cabalistic characters on the street lamps, our Major succeeded in discovering. Wakely street -a broad, handsome street, lined on each side with substantial looking brown-

"A very good neighborhood," thought the Major, approvingly; "very good, tal judge of real estate. Now I wonder which of these houses belong to me?" They were all painfully alike-all with andsome bay windows on the first floer; imposing flights of stone steps, and vestibules of blue and white checked marble. The Major crapt softly up the steps his ear.

of one and applied his key under the silver-plated knob. It wouldn't fit. This certainly could and the veil? not be the house; moreover he felt undeasantly like a burglar as he sneaked down the steps. He tried the second door, and then the third. Both obstructely declined to yield to the gentle persuasion of the key.

"This is beginning to get awkward though the perturbed Major, wiping the all orangetblossoms, weven in with tiny said :beady drops from his brow. "Suppose I green buds; but the cake! the cake should be obliged to spend the night out was a miniature mountain of icing, and here trying to get in! Besides, if I'm frosted flowers and cupids, chiseled in not careful, I shall be arrested, and sparkling white sugar, clinging around spend my first night for thirty years in the boquet of white flowers on the crest. my native land in the station house. I'll prove to be the right one, I'll go to the

He slipped the key into the keyhole it revolved noislessly, and the door swung softly open upon its polished hinges. "The right one at last, as I live the Governor General's, and nit lighted up, by Jove. That good-hearted rascal, Smitk, means to give me a surprise. 1 tend to be surprised at anything after

He looked around. The gaslights pingering idea of cold or wet; and there for our Clara, were groans of merry guests moving to place," thought Major Parkinson; "but he's a sly dog, is Smith !" He placed his dripping umbrella in the stand, and deliberately hung up his hat and overcoat on the elegant black walnut hall rack, and then he came and stood in under his coat tails, and a beaming smile | John Milward!" upon his countenance, which showed all the white feeth to a very good advantage. "Goodness gracious!" exclaimed a portly lady, in black velvet-" Who is over with him in the Ghundaree, and if that in the doorway?" "Aha." laughed Major Parkinson, splendid fellow for a cousin!

complacently rubbing his hands: "you grimly, failing to recognize the Major's think he had been so very much to there's room enough.

"Dear me, Aunt Rosa," chirped a have been more than eighteen, and was ded, maliciously. as fresh and blooming as a rosebud-

" and if I am the youngest one, with not a co-t tripping forward, "Don't you see it's humbly. cousin John?" The Major looked puzzled; but it of course, alter any one so completely, would have been rude for him to back she said; "and what can have become churlishly out, when such a ripe pair of cherry lips were put up for him to kiss,

She conducted him and such a dimpled pair of aims were where he made his excuses as fluently as

"Then let us give the home to her-come, who I give my share to mother, now! My hand is up ing him forward. Major Parkinson shook hands with them all around, feeling that he had just you came over in the same steamer with > heritance of relations. her hands. "We have been counting > after all," thought the perplexed Major. might be some awkward mistake here, but the Ghundarce settles matters." "Oh! here's mamma!" exclaimed the irresistible cherry lips, dancing back ward and forward like a pretty little speak to grandma, quick, John." And the Major was pulled along by fifteen years old, and was now returning the sleeve of his coat toward a silver-

> "Well, John, I do declare l" cried grandma. . "Who would have thought the climate of India would have changed you so? Why, you used to be so tall and slim like a bean pole; but I suppose it's hurricanes and earthquakes, and all that sort of things that has settled you down so short and stout. lady's hand, saying :

"How do you find yourself this evening, ma'am ?" . "And you haven't even asked after eighteen year old girl. "Oh, ah, pardon me?" stammered to a tall, and graceful girl in the bay vindow, not exactly young but still passing pleasant to look upon, with large Though forry the agent had not been gray eyes, and soft drooping curls of

"Clara!" she cried. "come, havn't you a word of welcome for cousin John?" But the graceful girl shrank' back, blushing and confused. " Don't mind her !" said the other one in an undertone. . "No, I won't," said the Major.

"But it's such nonsense !" went or the elf, whom the matrons addressed as that dear Major?" W Grace. 33

"Sho'll be all right presently."

you are to be married to him in less than a week l' Oho? This was beginning to grow ittle serious

Married! In less than a week! He, Major John Parkinson, who had lived a ife of contented celibacy for five and forty years!

In spite of his resolution not to allow himself to be surprised, the Major felt indeed. I don't object to this sort of the sensation rapidly creeping over him, thing at all. Smith is containly a capi. not only of surprise, but also a species of dismay! Married! He blushed more vividly than Clara's sell. Surely it was time for an explanation now; and he was just opening his lips, when Grace, whirled him round, standing on tiptoe to whisper knowingly in "Don't you want to see the wedding-cake, Cousin John, and the wreath? Without waiting for an answer, sh tiptoed him into another room, pulling him along by the coat tail. It was very embarrassing, to but then how pleasant it was!

The veil was a heap of snowy lace, like a cloud of vapor; the wreath was Arriving in New York, Colonel Jack "Only think of it," said Grace, a little But Colonel Jack said: try one more door, and if that doesn't thoughtfully, as she pulled an orange dossom into its place in the chaplet to have the wedding day so near after in engagement of fifteen years! Oh,

Cousin John, you ought to be a very happy man !" chuckled the Major. "Furnished like dered Major, breaking into a cold perspi-"Yes," he began aloud, "but

"You'll show me the ring, won,t see through it all now; but I don't in- you?" coaxed Grace, as if with a sudden thought. pocket. And what have you brought were burning brightly in hall, reception for Clara? An India shawl; of course; cutting a swell like this in New York? room and parlors; the soft summer-like and I hope it's very, very splendid, for atmo-phere of a furnace dispelled any there's nothing in all the world too good

"Grace," said the Maior, confiden and firsto the inspiring notes of a grand tially taking her hand in his, "I want to your's truly, you bet! I want this shetell you something. It's very awkward, "Smith never fold me a ,word of the hut it really isn't my fault, and I'm sure you will forgive me when you come to it's a good idea - a capital idea. Called hear how entirely I have been the victim unexpectedly into the country, ch? Ah, of circumstances." Grace's blue eyes grew hig ; her cherry lips parted—what could it be? "Well," she efaculated, breathlessly,

"I'm not Cousin John at all!" said the Major with a jerk. ""It's a mistake! the doorway, both hands serenely joined | I'm Major Parkinson!" You-are-not "No, I'm nothing of the sort," said our Major, visibly brightening up. "But I know John Milward very well. I came he's your Cousin John, you've got a And then the Major told Grace jus intended to surprise me, but you didn't exactly how it all happened, and she after all. My dear madam, how do you blushed and laughed, and wondered how his elbow. do?" Sir, I don't know who you are," they could all have been so stupid, and said the lady of black velvet, rather confessed that "after all, she didn't her ride if she wants to. Gracious, younger lady-she certainly could not kissed me back so heartily," Grace ad-

"Except that you oughtn't to have

"I won't next time," said the Major umbiy. "But fifteen years in India—it would

She conducted him back to the parlor he could. Grandma was a little in "I never knew that I had such a clined to be offended at first, and Stepretty cousin," was the Major's internal phen, a muscular young man, muttered reflection; "but I dare say it's all right, some half inaudible words about punching the Major's head for him. But fuller "And here's cousin George and Ste- explanations restored a friendly feeling phen, and Margaret, and her girls?" cried once more, and the pater familias, senthe cherry-lipped damsel, eagerly pull- sible man, insisted on the Major remain-him, and that ought to insure you a wel- Jack; don't mind "s. This is a free was." come," he said cheerily. "So sit down, "I knew the Ghundaree would be in sit down, Major. You are the rich East to-night," cried one of the girls, clapping India nabob, then, who has bought the don't reckon-it ain't no name for it. house next door! We've teased Gracie a good deal about setting her cap for "The Ghundaree! Then I'm all right, the new neighbor, haven't we, Grace?' "Papa !" remonstrated Gracie, color-"I was beginning to think that there ing up as bright a searlet as a flamingo's wing.

ng.

ance," went on the comfortable old gentleman, "even if the manner isn't quite o formal, as etiquette books insist on! circle and friends!"

haired old lady, with-a white lace cap, false position, was made cordially at they'd tackle a heavise, if it was going iniquity into the southwest corner of the home, in the merry party and exceed- their way. ingly snug and jolly he found it. Presently a ring at the door bell an nounced a new arrival, and the real genuine cousin John rushed in, all aglow with his rapid walk, and dripping from head to foot with rain drops. "Had no end of trouble at the custom iouse with my luggage—couldn't come a second sooner !" he explained, hugging Major Parkinson did not know exactly grandma and Clara, and Grace all at what to say to this, so he shook the old once, with two or three little ones swarming over his back and legs the while: "Why hallon! Major Parkinson, how the douce came you here?" Then of course ensued a third edition of they were merrior than ever. "Of course the Major will stay here," cried Mr. Corey, when finally his guest "I was just going to inquire made a move to go. "To-night, at least !" "Of course, of course !" echoed. John Milward. " Mustn't he, Grace?" "He must do as he pleases," said that young lady demurely.

"Yes," said the Major, "I will. And he sat down again.
- Major Parkinson attended the wedding the next week, and he helped to decorate the drawing room with flowers. and he carried chairs back and forth, and went on errands, losing himself invariably, on their way, and he sent the bride a solid silver tea service, and altogether he made himself so useful that Mrs. Corey said, feelingly :

Now, Clara, you know it is, when him cousin John just the same as ever; them.

but from all appearance there will be an- OVER THE HILL FROM THE other wedding before the year is out in the Corey family, and Major Parkinson's brown stone house will be graced by the mistress who was first seen by the Major in the wrong house.

MIGHTY SOCIABLE. The following extract is from Mark

Twain's new book, entitled "Roughing It," now in process of publication. is an amusing illustration of a back settler's view of New York Life: In Nevada there used to be curren the story of an adventure of two of her nabobs, which may or may not have occurred. I give it for what it is worth:

Colonel Jim had seen somewhat of the world, and knew more or less of its ways; but Colonel Jack was from the back settlements of the States, had led a life of arduous toil, and had never seen a city. These two, blessed with sudden wealth, projected a visit to New York-Colonel Jack to see the sights, and Colonel Jim to guard his unsophistication from misfortune. They reached San Francisco in the night, and sailed in the morning.

I've heard tell of carriages all my life, and now I mean to have a ride in one; I don't care what it costs. Come along. They stepped out on the sidewalk and Colonel Jim called a stylish barouche.

No, sir! None of your cheap John irnouts for me. I'm here to have a good time, and money ain't any object. I mean to have the noblest rig that's going. Now, here comes the very trick. Stop that yaller one with the pictures on "I will explain," thought the bewil- it-don't you fret-I'll stand all expen-

> So Colonel Jim stopped the empty omnibus and they got in. Said Colonel Jack Ain't it gay, though? Oh, ne, I reck-"That's 'a darling! for of on not! Cushions, and windows, and ourse you have got it in your vest pictures, till you can't rest. What would the boys say if they could see us By George, I wish they could see us. Then he put his head out of the win dow, and shouted to the driver-Say, Johnny, this suits me!-suits bang all day. I'm an it, old man! Let em out! Make 'em go! We'll make it all right with you, sonny ! The driver put his hand through the strap-hole, and tapped for his fare. It was before the gongs came into commo use. Colonel Jack took the hand, and shook it cordially. He said: You twig me, old paid! All between gents. Smell of that and see how you like it! And he put his twenty dollar gold biece into the driver's band. After a moment the driver said he could make change.

Bother the change! Ride it out t in your pocket. The oninibus stopped and a young lally got in. Colonal Jack started for a moment, then nudged Colonel Jim with Don't My a word, he whispered. Let ounais and handed her fare to Colonel Jack. What's this for? said he.

Give it to the driver, please.

Take bäck your money, madame. We an't allow it. You're welcome to ride Edge here as long as you please, but this shebang's chartered We shan't let you pay a cent. The girl shrunk into a corner, bewilered. An old lady with a basket climed in, and proffered her fare. you care for me as much as you used Excuse me, said Colonel Jack. ire perfectly welcome here, madame, but pretty with tears in her blue eyes and re can't allow you to pay. Set right, the quiver on her round, rosy lips. down there, muin, and don't be the least "Pshaw," said her husband, prevish unensy. Make yourself as free as if ly. "Now don't be silly, Maria." you were in your own turnout. Within two minutes, three gentlemen, never asked me if I was warm, or put two fat women and a comple of children "For if you are not our cousin John, entered. Come right along Triends, said Colonel blow out. Then he whispered to Colonel Jim, New York ain't no sociable place; I fools," said Harry, as he drew on his into a clearing, in the fiddle of which forty one, answered the witness, read-historians are to be credited, could re-faces," said a maiden lady to her little He resisted every effort to pass fares to the driver, and made everybody cor- of a man to make a nimy of myself doslially welcome. The situation dawned ing the polite to any sort of a female on the people, and they pocketed their creature? Did you ever know me to be money, and delivered themselves up to conscious whether a woman had on a covert enjoyment of the episode. Half shawl or a swallow-tailed coat?" "I'm glad to make your acquaint a dozen more passengers entered . Maria eclipsed the blue eyes behind Oh, there is piculy of room, said a little pocket handkerchief, and Henry, Colonel Jack. Walk right in and make the savage, banged the door loud enough yourself at home. A blow-out ain't any- to give Betty in the kitchen, a nervous five years, but one who had taken such Dervish. "Granma, he's come. I knew My name is Corey—Peter Corey—and thing as a blow-out unless a body has start good care of himself that he was really he would be here to night. Come and now let me introduce you to our family company. Then in a whisper to Calonel "Raining again! I do believe we are Jim, But ain't these New Yorkers going to have a second edition of the So in less than five minutes, the Major, friendly? And ain't they cool about it, deluge," said Mr. Edge to bimself that entirely free from the trammels of his too? leebergs ain't anywhere. I recken evening, as he enseeneed his six feet of More passengers got in, more yet, and can't you see we are full, and it is dark still more. Both stats were filled, and already?" a file of men were standing, up holding on to the cleats overliead. Parties with ductor, as he helped a little woman, with baskets and bundles were climbing up a basket, on board. "Now, sir, move on the roof. Half-suppressed laughter rippled up from all sides.

Mr. Edga was exceedingly comfortable well, for clean, cool, out and out and did not want to move, but the light cheek, if this don't bang anything that of the lamp ranning on one poarty, seever I saw, I'm an Injun, whispored head, and shining golden hair of the new head, and shining golden hair of the new of the shanty.

"All these your children," I said. A Chinaman crowded his way in.

up.

"What lovely eyes," quoth he, men-I weaken, said Colonel Jack. Hold on, driver! Keep your seats, ladies and tally, as she bestowed a single acknowlgents. Just make yourselves free- edging smile. "Real violet, the very drow roin, and left immediately. everything's paid for Driver, rustle color I most admire! Bless me! what hese folks around just as long as they're business have married men like me to be mind to go-friends of ours, you know. Take them anywheres; and if you want drawn a confounded veil over her face, and we'll make it all right. Pleasant but those are pretty eyes!"

justinis long as you please—it shan't shivered slightly, and she drew her man, tilla close around her shoulders. cost vou'a cent. waltzed in as comfortable as anybody. will be trying to sleep with us. ____

THE three hotels of Grand Lodge, Michigan, have all taken down their fare to the conductor, he said to himself hind their backs, If they are ugly, or signs, and shut up their houses against hair and eyes-power may be, did not take possession ·POOR HOUSE. of the veil, so Mr. Edge's curiosity about Sequel to Over the Hill to the Poor the blue eyed damsel remained unsatis BY BACHEL A. SMITH.

over the hill at the poor house, closer to me." Ill alone in the sick ward, With nobody near to aid, and no one to care but Que Father, Who heareth the prayer she said;

When they look at the shroud and white windin That cover my stiff and corpse. ort of way. They'll some on 'em conft to the fu My Charley and his pretty wife-

"Allow me to carry your basket, Miss, as our path lies in the same direction," said Mr. Edge, courteously relieving her of her burden, as he spoke and-and-maybe you'll find less diffiulty if you take my arm?

forgot the wet streets and pitchy darkess-he thought he was walking on oses. Only as he approached his door be began to feel a little nervous, and wished the little incognite would not iold on so tight. Suppose Maria would be at the window, on the lookout, as she often was, how would she interpret matters? He couldn't make her believe that he only wanted to be polite to the fair traveler. Besides, his sweeping declarations in the morning-she will be sure to recall them. As he stopped Mr. Edge was late at breakfast; that at the right number and bade her adieu, last witness was about to leave the wit-> run up the steps to enter. Gracious Apollo! He burst into a dold prespiration at the idea of the young lady's "I think you must have made a mis ake, Miss, this can't be your house." n the brilliantly lighted hall, and furn-had got down to the last paragraph, and ing round threw off her dripping habili nents and made a low courtesy. "Dear, didn't you say you were going to have a hundred dollags for my new "What furs?" rather sharply was this poken. "Oh, pshaw! What is the ise of being extravagant? I have no noney to lay out in useless follies. The old ones are good enough for any senlence. She only sighed a soft inward "Well," he said in the most sheepisl of tones, " It's the first time I was ever polite to a lady in the cars, and hang me if it shan't be the very last." E's temper-for she had one, though it never walk with me, nor ever 'pick up my handkerchief," nor notice my drers as never hear the last of "it," said Edge, m "Well, a feliow can't be ever waiting desperation. m a woman, canche?" growled Mr. 'Very probable," was the provoking reply of his wife. "You could be polite enough to Mrs Waters last night, when you never even thought to ask whether I wanted anything, though you knew perfectly well that I had a headache. I don't believe Maria, you shall have the prettiest furs o"-and Mrs. Edge looked extremely -von shall, upon my honor." "And in the stage yesterday, you my shawl around me, while Mr. Brown husband ever since. mortifying enough, Henry; indeed it A STUPID HUSBAND.-Riding horse "" didn't know women were such overcoat, to escape the tempest which > "Good evening, sir," said L. "Good evening."

drink?" woman.

.By this time his wife was standing by his side. While drinking it I asked; the old woman—she can tell." "I guess we shall get one righ ear at City Hall. "Go alread conductor, way," said the wife. Again Lasked: "How much land have you go "In one minute, sir," said the con-

> "About nincteon acres," said sh again answering. Just then, a troop of children cam

> > "Don't know. Ask the old woman -slie knows best. " - 7-" I did not wait to hear her reply, bu THE "SILVER RULE,"-You all know journey to you, ladies and gents; go it The fair possessor of those blue eyes solf, and becaute of its value, call it the "Silver Rule." - "Think and say all you can of the good qualities of others; for-The two comrades got out, and Colonel Jack said—Jimmy, it's the sociablest makes the control of the concerning their bad qualities. The concerning their bad qualities from an intermediate makes the concerning their bad qualities. The concerning their bad qualities from an intermediate makes the concerning their bad qualities. The concerning their bad qualities from an intermediate makes the concerning their bad qualities. She did not refuse—she murmitired own happiness, and raise you in the es B'Goorge, we'll have to barricade our some faint apology for troubling him, teem of your mates. Did you ever think doors to night or some of these ducks but it was not a refusal. any more of a boy or girl because he or she found fault with others? Never ranging it on her tempting shoulders; call your schoolmates or playmates ugly, and then as the young lady handed her or cross, neither to their faces, nor be-

But "plague," whoever that mystical THE RIGHT TESTIMONY. The case pending before our court interested the people deeply. A few months previously Jacob Ames had died, made a will, as he had often been heard to remark that making a will scemed like a preparation for death, and as James Arnold presented a will for probate, said to be the Last Will and Testament of Jacob Ames, made several years before. This Arnold was a nephwhen he caused the will to be presented, to make the matter sure, two witnesses their heads at this, for these two wit-money would buy them, body and soul.

erdict against Arnold's claim.

paper maker start and tremble.

whisper, for I stood close by.

was on the tapis.

will in his hands...

unine that document!

I have done so, sir.

"Have you room enough, Miss? I fear you are crowded. Pray sit a little eighty-seven-had died without having

"I thank you sir," was the soft reply oming from behind the veil-as Mr. Edge reflected-like an angel from a dark cloud. And his heart gave a large thump as the pretty shoulders touched his own shaggy overcoat in a hesitating

"Decidedly, this is getting quite omantic," thought he, and then with an audible whisper, "what would Maria

The rest of that long dreary ride was the undivided care and attention of the own. How gallantly he jumped up to pull the strap for her-by some streak it happened to be in the very street thus grandly provided for, a man named where he intended to stop: And under the circumstances we hardly blame him, when the cars stopped too suddenly that she caught at his arm, for the squeeze of sense would have done the same-it was such an inviting little lily.

Well, wasn't it delightful! Mr. Edge was astonished to see her likewise

But he was too late-she was already

"Why .it's my wife!" gasped Mi "And I am happy to see that yo have not forgotten all your gallantry tovards us ladies," pursued the merciless little, puss, her blue eyes (they were pretty) all in a dance with suppression of rognery. Edge looked from ceiling to floor in search for a loop hole to retreat, but in

"You see, my dear," said the eestatic little lade, "I didn't expect to,be delayed so long and had not any idea I should niget with such attention in the that from my husband too Goodness, gracious, how Aunt Priscilla will enjoy the joke I" "If you tell that old harpy, I will

"Now, look here, darling," said Mr. Edge, coaxingly, "you won't say anything, will you? A fellow don't want to laughed at by all the world. I say, in New York, if you will only keep quiet The term's were satisfactory, and Ma ria capitulated---who wouldn't? And that is the way she got those fine fury that filled the hearts of all her female friends with envy. And perhaps it was what made Mr. Edge such a courteous back just at night through the woods in Sacinaw tounty, Michigan, I camb stood a log house, the owner sitting in was fast approaching. "Am I the sort the open door smoking his pipe. Stoping from the instrument. ping my horse before him the following onversation ensued:

> "Can I get a glass of milk of you to Well, I don't know. Ask the old

"Think we are going to get a storm ! "Well, I really don't know. Asl cleared here?" "Well! I don't really know. Ask the old woman-she knows."

unning and shouting around the corne thinking about eyes? There, she has the golden rule: "Do unto others as you would wish them to do to you.", Here more money, come to the St. Nicholas, and the light is as dim as a tallow dip; is a rule which is almost a part of the golden rule, but which we will put by it-Judge and bar were in a state of fer-

"What a slender little hand! If there stingy, or cross, it does not make them is anything I admire in a woman, it is a better to talk or think about it, while Corey said, feelingly?

What should we have done without that dear Major?

Grace, the gipssy, insisted on calling little longer, and we knew that the or lished heirs to Jacob Ames' fortune. leaving property to the amount of fifty to sixty thousand dollars, all of which was readily available. At first it was supposed that the old man-he was there could be no question about the in-FEATS OF MEMORY. heritance of his property, he did not choose to make any such, to him, ghostly testament. His direct and only legitimate heirs were two orphans, both girls, children of his only daughter. One of them was a cripple, requiring almost delicious with the shoulder against his other, and both were beloved by all who and a weak one for others; why illness knewthem. While people were feeling glad that the orphan sisters were to be

The memory for figures, or power of us, either by its presence or its absence. be gave the plump, rosy hand—any man | ew-in-law of old Jacob, the child of a | Jedediah Buxton, George Parker Bidder | came last year to the dead letter office. wife's sister, and had for several years and Zerah Colburn, are instances too been employed as business agent and general accountant of the deceased; and George Watson, the Sussex calculator, could tell the dates of every day since he scrape more acquaintances. he produced a number of witnesses who was a child and what he was doing on that day; he could show many other kindly, but not cordially.

declared that they had often heard old Ames say that he had made the only strange freaks of memory, but was a will he should make, and that James vain of his one acquirement. Arnold was his heir: and what seemed The memory of languages is quite a to the will, former servants or employes listinct faculty, so far as can be judged f the testator, swore point blank to having seen, Ames place his signature to we are told, could converse in his own language to the natives of twenty-three the document, after which they signed their own names. Honest people shook countries which were under his sway. esses-a man and his wife-were not this faculty in a stronger degree than above suspicion. In fact it was generally believed that a small sum of ready educating for the priesthood he learned I entered the court room late in the French, German and Swedish, As a afternoon of the third day, just as the unfil at the age of forty-three he could

ness box; and this witness was Thomas Cloudman, the servant just alluded to. read in twenty languages and converse He had been questioned by a juryman, and had made a plain statement. Everyty-seven years old, he was as well acthing was against the poor deserving orphans, and all in favor of the despised nephew. In fact, no honest man, under mian, Servian, Magyar, Turkish, Isish, the evidence, could have brought in a Welsh, Wallachian, Albanian, Bulga-The juryman who had questioned this the languages which he had first learned; close to him, among the spectators, stood | Sanscrit, Koordis, Georgian, Syric, Challof, $216,000. old Harvey Goodrich, who was at that dec, Samaritan, Chinese, Coptic. Ethiime engaged in the paper mill of Day opic, Abyssinian, and other Asiatic and which formerly belonged to one of the

Let me look at that! I heard him The juror, without considering, handed sel could interpose and regain it Goodrich had seen all he desired, and his first was to hasten to the side of the orphan's Dillon could repeat in the morning six excitedly, in his ear. I saw the attor- read over night. During the repeal ney, whose name was Shipman, bendhis bates in the house of commons thirtyhead attentively, and start to his feet. seven years ago one of the members What was it? In those few brief mo- wrote out his speech, sent it to the news- says the Mobile Register. ments the whole audience had caught papers and repeated it to the house in the fever of excitement, for it was clearly evident that something of importance written out. John Fuller, a land agent

May it please your hohor, said Ship-in Norfolk, could remember every word man, very quietly—so calmly and so of a sermon, and write it out correctly butter-fly. quietly that we feared it could be noth- after going home; this was tested by ing of importance, after all -I must ask comparing his written account with the the indulgence of the court. I wish to clergyman's manuscript. Scaliger could history" is-kerosene. present new and important testimony. repeat a hundred verses or more after There was a slight war of words be tween the opposing counsel; after which, could repeat 2,000 words after hearing not scratch? A yard-stick. by permission of the court, the old pa-. them once. Magliabechi, who had a per maker took the witness box. He gave his name, residence, occupation, severe test. A gentleman lent him a must come the dust. etc., and then Mr. Shipman placed the manuscript, which was read and re

Mr. Goodrich, will you_please exprotending he had lost it, begged Mag- ple now-a-days. liabechl to write out as much as he could What is the written date of that will? Now, Mr. Goodrich, will you please paper which you hold in your hand, that | they were dictated, and then repeat them | than | castor | oil | would | have upon a , would positively affect the reliability of in the reversal order without making as graven image. that written date. Make your own single mistake - A physician of Massastatement, in your own way, only make chusetts, about half a century ago, could crable turkey-gobbler who has built it concise and clear. Your honor, and gentlemon of the out mistake, although he had not read upon four apples jury, commenced the witness, this piece it for twenty years. Euler, the great of paper which I now hold in my hand mathematician, when he became blind, bit of the thumb of her faithless lover. was manufactured by myself and was could repeat the whole of Virgil's She probably wanted to secure as much calculored upon a machine of my own Encide, and could remember the first of his hand as resible invention. The water-lines, in place of line and last line in every page of the the ordinary blue ruling, was included particular edition which he had been ac- members of his church were united: 'He in my improvement. You will also ob- customed to read before he became blind.

considered as the result of sheer hard work, a determination towards one particular achievement, without reference nform the jury, and the court, if you boy who could rehearse forty thousand marks. Your Honor can examine it for yourself. eld it up against the strong light; and persons in humble life in regard to the oxact meaning is that he hed." involuntarily he read aloud, so as to be Bible. An old beggar man in Stirling, heard by all in the room—for every known some forty years ago as Illind great carjecturist is thus described by breath was hushed—II. Goodrich's Alick, afforded an instance of this. He Patent. Highteen hundred and forty—knew the whole of the Bible by heart; "Nast is a man about thirty-four serve, upon close inspection-though the ink upon the surface has somewhat obscured it-my own stamp in water-the balance. I can solemnly swear that verse were named, he could give the ex- hair, and is dapper and neat in his perthat sheet of paper was not made until act words. A gentleman, to test him, son. I think he was born in Breslan at least two years after the date of the instrument which has been written upon verbal inaccuracy; Alick hesitated, was about three years of age. His father The paper was given to the jury, who be found, but at the same time pointed already betrethed to art. Frank Leslie, to and fro in eager, painful, suspense, All the Year Rounds Would this old man's testimony have its legitimate weight?

and the Judge gave his charge-about as brief a charge as I ever heard. A phans were the true and legally estab will not attempt to describe the scen that followed, Suffice it for me to say, that the perjured parties were severely published, while the sun of joy and glad dess cast its gracious beams upon the beloved and deserving sisters.

.......

Memory is nearly as much a puzzle a ever. Willy in some men memory should be strong and in others weak; why the memory should be stronger at one time than another; why the same man should have a strong memory for some subjects, pletely from the mind-are problems still undergoing patient and attentive mental calculation, is well-known to all heavy, ignorant fellow generally, very the hall of the lowa Legislature. from recorded instances. Mithridates, own poems to California audiences. Cardinal Mezzofanti appears to have had | Boap is next to charity. any other person that ever lived. While fondness for lyceums and pies. Latin, Greek, Hebrew, Arabic, Spanish, and yet there is only one party to it. professor at some of the italian univer- lady's roan horse, because it is not her sities he constantly added to his store, own. in eighteeh. In 1841, when he was six- state?

quainted with Portugese, English, with you; a rich one, and she'll go Dutch, Danish, Russian, Polish, Bohe- down with you. last a year, and you can't advertise on rian, Illyrian, Lettish, Lappish, as with that plan either. ritness sat at the end of the box; and while to Arabic he added Persian, Paterson, have caused an aggregate loss & Lyon, at Portland. I had known African tongues. At the time of his Pharoalis. him years before, when he worked for death, in 1849, Mezzofanti could write Ax English pickle maker does a busi Rice, of Newport. The juror held the eloquently and converse fluently in more ness of three millions a year, and no one will in his hand, open, and Goodrich then seventy languages. the fatter for it. cast his eye upon it a I saw the old Willie other accounts of memory for John Wester, when a schild, was words are poor compared with this ; nev- rescued from a burning house just t ertheless, many of them are sufficiently fore the roof fell in. remarkable. John Kemble used to say that he could learn a whole number of leave to-morrow for the country hog him the document; and before the counth the Morning Post in four days, and Gen- show, and hope to take the prize. CHARLES LAMB says: "A laugh is eral Christic made a similar assertion: but it is not known how far either of worth a hundred groans in any state of movement, after relinquishing the will, them verified this statement. Robert the market." attorney, and whispered, hurriedly and columns of a newspaper which he had exactly like a tallow candle, because he > to apply to a fashionable woman's figure An Indiana youngster mischievously the evening; it-was found to be the set the family piano on fire. By playing same verbatim as that which he had on it vigorously it was extinguished. Wuy is hot bread like caterpillars;

'last scene of all this strange,' eventful WHAT is that which has three feet having read them a single time. Seneca and cannot walk, sixteen nails and can-

THE Christian maxim, "live and let turned; the owner sometime afterwards, live," is ignored by many selfish peomember the name of every soldier in his nicec. "Did you make faces when you immense army. There was a Corsican were a girl, aunty?"

repeat the whole of Paradise Lost with, himself a nest, and is gravely sitting An Indiana girl, who had been jilted.

> A CLERGYMAN was asked whether the answered that they were perfectly united

One kind of retentive memory may be -frozen together. "You say," said a judge to a witness, "that the plaintiff resorted to an ingemous use of circumstantial evidences; either to cultivation or memory on other state just exactly what you mean by The Judge took the document, and subjects. This is frequently shown by that." "Well, said the witness, my whose professional integrity was now in and verse; or, if the book, chapter and eye, and a good German face, has black Judgo and there were in a state of fermont; while the dense audience swayed count for in eager, painful, suspense. All the Year Round.—

Let a very limit broke out the Harpers sent him South to sketch battle to sketch battle.

Let a very limit broke out the Harpers sent him South to sketch battle.

Let a very limit broke out the Harpers sent him South to sketch battle.

Let a very limit broke out the Harpers sent him South to sketch battle.

Let a very limit broke out the Harpers sent him South to sketch battle.

Let a very limit broke out the Harpers sent him South to sketch battle.

modest frame-house. His wife and All low could it be otherwise? In Illinois there is a child, now three sons constitute his family. They There was a witness more potent to, an months old, weighing but two pounds. have no servants. At the end of the intelligent court and jury than speech of Its length is but seven inches, and its lot on which his house stands is a onetongue. The contested will bore in its face about the size of a watch crystal. story brick building, where he does his innermost heart—in its "heart of hearts" its tiny arms are so slender that a small work. He has there the quaintest colstory brick building, where he does his -the emphatic evidence of the base lie finger ring may be slipped on either of lection of curiosities, chiefly of art, that upon its written face, Other witnesses them up to the shoulder. This little could be imagined. His wife is a lady,

NUMBER 7.

WISE AND OTHER WISE. A Non Fellow-Mornheus IRREDEEMABLE bonds-Yagabonds. THE land of Nod-An auction shop. Chicago taxes one cent on a dollar.

Firty American solleges admit wo-MUTUAL friends -Kerosene and coro-

A good wife and health, is man's best vealth Good musicians execute their music the bad ones murder it. Room for improvement is probably he largest room in the world. CLERGYMEN, like brakemen, do a good deal of coupling.

Why is old age like a dog's tail? ecause it is in-firm A nar that frequently flies in the day me—a brick bat.

Woman first tempted man to cat. 'Ile took to drinking on his own account. What can a man have in his pocket when it is empty? A big hole.

History your business or your business will not honor you.
Three million of dollars in letters, THE greatest curiosity in the world has at last been found. It is a woman's. BARBERS make many friends but

HINT to mothers, treat vour baby . The use of tobacco is prohibited in A GRAZLER in Sumner county, Kansas has fifty-one thousand head of cattle. MR. JOAQUIN MILLER is reading his

In this country there are over 60,000 inisters, one to every 600 people. Cleaniness is next to godfiness, and AMERICANS are said to have a strange RHEUMATISM is always a joint affair

One fady ought not to envy another WHEN a vessel has a full compliment of men, can she be said to be in a crewed MARRY a poor girl and she will go up You can't cat enough in one week to

FIFTEEN fires within four months at THE British Museum has an anvil

An Indiana editor announces: "We

Mrs. Gubbins says her husband is always will smoke when he is going out

Because it is the grub that makes the In too many lamentable instances the

Why is a lawyer like a sawyer? Be prodigious memory, was once put to a cause whichever way he turns, down

A LAD crawled into a sugar hogsremember; whereupon the latter, ap- head, and his first exclamation was, pealing to his memory, wrote out the "Oh, for a thousand tongues?" Soptember fifth, eighteen hundred and whole essay. Cyrus, if some of the old "You'll grow up ugly if you make

Josh Billings says that opera music observe anything else, in or upon that words, whether sense or nonsense, as don't have any more effect upon him Christiansburg, Virginia, has a ver

THOMAS NAST .- Thomas Nast, the

insomuch that, if a sontence were read years of age, and about five feet seven Yes, your Honor, broke in Goodrich, to him, he could name book, chapter inches in height. He has a keen, sharp. named the place where the passage is to wanted him to be a jeweler; but he was were all upon their feet. Ar nold's out the verbal error. The same gentle- I think brought him out first, at the counsel demanded to see it. Mr. Cloud-man asked him to repeat the minetieth time he sent him to England to make man and his wife get up, and tried to verse of the seventh chapter of the book pictures of the great Heenan-Sayers leave the room, but were prevented, of 'Numbers. Alfek almost instantly prize fight. And then when the war

Twenty-fifth street, New York, in a