OBITUARY,

JAMES CORNON BENNETT. NEW YORK, June 1 .- James Gordon Bennett died this afternoon (at 5.20 o'clock. The New York Herald in announcing the death of Mr. Bennett says: "Five yeas ago Mr. Bennett entirely withdrew from the management of the Herald, but although feeble in frame his general health had been remarkably good, while all his fine intellect remained unimpaired, and his interest in events of the day continued unabated up to the moment of his fatal illness. About half-past five o'clock last Saturday afternoon Mr. Bennett suffered a slight convulsive attack accompanied by epileptic symptoms, but not sufficiently marked or violent to excite apprehension of immediate danger. At 10.30 last Sunday morning the attack was repeated with greater severity. From that time the end became evident, although the constant attendance of Drs. Ceccarini, Ham mond and Lusk insured the exhaustion of all within the reach of human effort to avert a fatal result. A fively warfare is just now in progress between the Wileya & Gibbs Sowing machine Co., and a combination of the older lock-statch companies who have been greatly aggreeved, because the former recently sold at public sale a large number of lock-statch machines at price-avarying from five to thirty dollars, that had been brought to their establishment for exchange. This desire, especially by families, to secure the Wileox & Gibbs machines in place of the various old styles, is the worse hit their opponents have received, and a Waterloo fight has been going on much to the profit of the press. Judging from the battalions of these little automate, wearing every manner of sewing machine uniform, that have been surrendered for the Wileox & Gibbs and half away for another autition, the aggravation of the "lock-stitchers" is excusable.
