Wednesday's market opened very dull and slow, owing to an over supply being out the market. Salos were made from 4.5 to 7.3 and very few at the latter price, while most of the sales were made from 4.5 to 7.3 and very few at the latter price, while most of the sales were made from 6.5 to 7.4 the decline whs mostly on good grades and seemed to be about 2.5 tower than last week. About 7.5 head were lott aver and 2 loads salpped cast. Washington butchers bought 160 head.

 1008.—The arrivals have been so much in excess of the demand as to cause a decline of about 26c per 100lb, and a considerable number will remain ever, as most of our butchers are supplied for the work. We quote corn-fed hogs from 6 to 6.5 and 1.5 along the sale from 1.5 to 8 ort, $1.40 to 4.50 gross. We advise you to be careful, as an increase to the number -pow on land, will have a depressing effect on the market which is now extremely dull.

- It is one of the remarkable facts of this remarkable age, not merely that so many persons are the victims of dyspopsia or indigestion, but its willing victims. Now, we would not be uniforsteed to say that any one regards dyspepsia with favor, or feels and the say that any one regards dyspepsia with favor, or feels would socut such an idea. All dread it, and would gladly dispense with its unpleasant familiarities, Mark Tapley, who was jolly under all the trying circumstances in which he was placed, never had an attack of dyspepsia, or his jollity would know speedily forsaken him. Men and symon semetings suffer its tortures uncomplainingly, but whoever heard of a person who enjoyed them?

 Of all the multifactions discusses to which the juntam system is liable, there is perhaps no one so generally prevalent as dysperally in the property of the provention of the property of the provincial states of dyspersions of the provincial states of dyspersions of the provincial states of dyspersions of the industrial more frequential to the industrial and so positively distressing to the industrial and separatively distressing to the industrial states and wretched being in the world it is

To doeseribe them truthfully is sim-ply an impossibility, but it is possible to point out a truckly. We have said that dyspopsis is perhaps in next universal of human discusses. This is, con-plantically the case in the United States. Whether this general prevalence is due to the character-of the food, the method of its preparation, or the basty manner in which it is neually swallowed, is not our province to explain. The great fact with which we are called to deal is this:
- DYSPEPSIA PREVAILS

 Nearly every other person you meet is a victim, an apparently willing one; for were this not the care, why so many sufferers, when a certain, ependy and safe remedy is within the easy reach of all who derive to avail themselves of it? But the mighrity will not. Blinded by the prejudice, or deterred by some other mexphained influence, they refuse to accept the relief profared them. They turn a frear to the testimony of the thousands whose suferings have been alleviated, and with strateger minion to their rathless tormentor with desperate determination to their rathless tormentor to their rathless tormentor to be with desperate determination of the strategy of the control of the strategy of the acoust of thousands and is to-day carrying comfort and encouragement to thousands of others.  They are not alcoholic in any series of the torm. They are composed wholly of the pure jude or viril principle of roots. This is not a mere assertion prepared by one at the strength of the properties of the transfer, they are wholly from a price to the market, they are wholly from a price on the prepared by the properties which hold with so much free again, the properties of this close, namely—that a desire for motivating drinks as stimulated by their use, are not valid in the case of the German Bitters. So far from, encouraging or incubating a task or desire for in-brighting beverages, it may be confidently secreted that their tendency is in a diametrically apposite direction. Their offects can be
