

in the metropolis and in various parts of the United Kingdom, you will be enabled to make further progress in the removal of evils which affect the health and well-being of her subjects.

The favor of Divine Providence has hitherto preserved this kingdom from the wars and convulsions which, during the last two years have shaken so many of the states of the Continent of Europe.

Henry Clay, in his recent and really great speech on Slavery and the Union, draws the following eloquent picture of the past and present condition of our Republic.

"Sir, this Union is threatened with subversion. I want, Mr. President, to take a rapid glance at the course of the public measures in this Union presently.
