The Invasion of Cuba.
The rumors respecting the movement on this beautiful island thicken. We find in the New York Herald, the following from New Orleans, May 8.

Of the crowds of Mississippians and Tennesseans who have for the past week, been hanging about the Veranda, and other public houses, this morning, not one of them are to be seen.
The military-looking, mustachioed gentlemen, who were in hourly communication with the Ows, are also amongst the missing. I have no doubt that they must have left the city, if not the country, last night, for the promised land, although there is no clearance for Chagres reported in the morning papers. The fact is, that the whole affair is managed with so much secrecy and caution by the leaders, that it is almost next to an impossibility to find out what is going on.

I have learned that one house here sold 3000 blankets to a gentleman, who is suspected to be engaged in the cause. I learn that the gentleman, by the name of Pickett, formerly U. S. Consul at one of the West India Islands, is to have a command in one of the regiments. Pickett, you will recollect, was General Lopez's right hand man last summer in New York. A Gen. Cooper, from Miss., is also here, figuring amongst the boys. It is reported that the steamer Creole had been purchased for the expedition. She is being repaired across the river. Gen. Henderson is daily seen about her, inspecting the repairs. She is advertised for Chagres, on Saturday next, and only in one paper—the Delta.

It is reported that the Ows have 50,000 stand of arms, and a fine park of artillery, secreted at a point in the Gulf of Mexico; also, an immense amount of ammunition.

The New Orleans correspondent of the New York Enquirer, writes:

The men—I mean the rank and file—engaged in this expedition, are of a far superior grade to the tagrag and bobtail which were collected last season for the same object. The whole of them are equipped at their own expense, and receive no money, being supplied only with a free passage, with the needful provisions and stores for the trip. A large portion of these men have been volunteers in the Mexican war, and will be very hard customers, as, indeed, all of them will be, as they are, "true grit." As a whole, they probably are fully equal, if not superior, to the volunteers for Mexico in the late war. Their pay is to be very liberal, but only in case of success. In some instances with officers, this pay has been secured to them by highly responsible names in this country connected with Cuba. In instances that I have heard of, $5000 to a captain, and $3000 to a lieutenant—the usual promise to the rank and file is $1000 each. But I truly believe that with a large portion of the men, it is the love of excitement and wild adventure, which has been a greater inducement than any pecuniary motive. Where all the money needful for the expedition comes from, I am entirely unable to say; but certainly a heavy sum has been expended for provisions; and stores, and arms and ammunition cannot be had without cash. nor can steamboats and ships be employed without either the cash or a very sure paymaster in this country, independent of all contingencies as to success.

It is reported to-day that General Quitman has resigned as Governor of Mississippi for the purpose of joining the expedition as its commander, though it was recently understood that he had declined having anything to do with it, in consequence of the remonstrance of his friends. The actual attempt will be made between this and the 25th inst; indeed I heard to-day that they would be on the Island by the 14th, as the main body were all collected, and only waiting those who departed to-day and they go by a steamer. There will be, I fear, a terrible catastrophe, which will create a tremendous excitement in the United States.

From the Baltimore Sun.

Increase of Cholera—Expedition of Lopez.
The New York papers have various letters and private advices from Havana by the Isabel. The Sun says it has received an important political dispatch by a special hand from Charleston, and we quote from that paper as follows:
"The cholera is making dreadful havoc among the soldiery. The deaths, up to the date of our dispatches, May 8th, are averaged at two thousand! There are more than a thousand invalids confined to the hospitals. Our correspondent says the disease is not properly cholera, but a complication of it with the yellow fever. It is peculiarly fatal to Europeans."
"The Government perseveres in its infernal policy of charging that the disease is poison, given by the people, but the wicked charge produces no effect."
"The Spanish ship Esyzeranza arrived at Havana on the 7th. The Government and Spaniard expected the Count Mariscal in her, but he did not come. So the Cubans say that Hope (Esperanza) has brought disappointment to those who expected their Saviour.

"The Cuban people are in high hope, considering the time most propitious for the landing of the expedition from the United States. They are burning with anxiety to know if the General Lopez is acting punctually to his arrangements. They are now determined to strike the blow whether he fails or succeeds!"

The Invasion of Cuba.

Previous to the departure of the first regiment of the Patriots for Cuba, they were addressed by their Commander-in-Chief in the following manner:

GENERAL LOPEZ'S ADDRESS TO THE PATRIOTS.

Soldiers of the Liberating Army of Cuba: The noble mission on which we have started to gether, is one which would alone suffice to nerve to heroism the arm of every one holding a place in our ranks, even if you were not already the men of the fields of Palo Alto and Cherubusco, or brethren and worthy peers of the men of those immortal victories.

Citizens of the great Republic, you are going to give to Cuba that freedom for which your example has taught her to sigh, to strike from the beautiful limbs of the Queen of the Antilles the chains which have too long degraded her, in subjection to a foreign tyranny which is an outrage upon the age to do for your Cuban brethren, what at La Fayette, a Steuten, a Kosciusko a Pulaski are deathless in history for having added to do for you; and eventually to add another glorious star to the banner which already waves, to the admiration of the whole world, over "The land of the Free, and the home of the Brave."

The people of Cuba would not need that the first guard of honor around the flag of her nascent independence should be mainly composed of their future fellow citizens from the United States, but for the peculiar circumstances which have hitherto given to her tyrants a paralyzing clutch upon the throat of her prostrate victim.

Unarmed, and unable to effect the first beginning of organization for insurrection, and menaced by Spain's perpetual threat of converting into worse than San Domingo, the richest and the loveliest of Islands beneath the sun—your Cuban brethren have been compelled to wait and long for the hour, when a first nucleus for their revolution shall be afforded them by a gallant band of sympathizing friends, like that which I esteem it now the highest honor of my life to lead to this brilliant enterprise.

The flag on which you behold the tricolor of Liberty, the triangle of Strength and Order, the star of the future State, the stripes of the three departments of Cuba, once unfurled to the wind on her shores, and guarded by a legion of choice spirits amply powerful to deal Buena Vista fashion with any force which the detested Spanish Government, Cuba will be able to bring against it.

The patriotic people of Cuba will rally in joy and exultation to its support; while you leave behind you untold thousands, eager to tread in your glorious track under the lead of one of the most eminent Chiefs of the unparalleled Mexican campaigns, unless indeed we anticipate them by consummating our splendid task before they have time to follow.

Soldiers of the Liberating Expedition of Cuba! Our first act on arrival, shall be the establishment of a Provisional Constitution, founded on American principles, and adapted to the emergencies of the occasion. This Constitution you will unite with your brethren in Cuba in swearing to support, in its principles as well as on the field of battle. You have all been chosen by your officers as men individually worthy of so honorable an undertaking.

I rely implicitly on your presenting to Cuba and the world a signal example of all the virtues, as well as the valor, of the American citizen soldier; and cannot be deceived in my confidence that by your discipline, good order and moderation in victory, and sacred respect for all private rights, you will put to shame every insolent calumny of your enemies. And when the hour arrives for repose on the laurels which await your grasp, you will all, I trust, establish permanent and happy homes, on the bountiful soil of the Island you go to free, and there long enjoy the gratitude which Cuba will never fail generously to bestow on those to whom she will owe the sacred and immeasurable debt of her Liberty. NARCISO LOPEZ.

Prosperity of the United States.

The London Examiner discoursing upon this subject, has the following:
"The prosperity is attractive, and it is the boast of some of the journals, that while the members of Congress are daily threatening a dissolution of the Union neighboring States and countries are anxious to be admitted members of it. Canada talks of annexation; California is pressing for admission; Cuba is ready to join it, and is only withheld by the power of Spain, and the modesty and integrity of the United States in refusing to accede to its wishes, and to grant some assistance to accomplish them. Mexico has laid aside it is said, its hostile feelings, and its people are looking forward earnestly and anxiously to incorporation. Central America too, is soliciting a closer connexion, and hoping for the time to come when it shall form a part of the great republic that is to stretch over the whole continent. Events are advancing rapidly though the Congress may stand still. Society will not wait for its leave to live, and thrive and grow, and will, in some way or other, settle the slavery question; perhaps before Congress has done talking about it. In America it is seen more clearly than in Europe that society moves faster than legislation, and does not depend on that to regulate its future existence. Thus, while members of Congress are threatening dismemberment, there is gathering round the States as a nucleus other States ready to adhere to it and increase it on every side. It is swelling, too, by immigration from every quarter, and exhibiting the extraordinary spectacle of men of nearly every lineage of the earth being harmoniously absorbed by the great Anglo-Saxon family, and becoming one with it. The reverse of the phenomenon that occurred on the plains of Babel seems there in progress, and many, if not branches of all the various nations of the earth, are uniting to use one tongue and live under one law.

There is a man up the country who always pays for his paper in advance. He has never had a sick day in his life, never had any corns or tooth ache, his potatoes never rot, the weevil never eats his wheat the frost never kills his corn and beans, his babies never cry in the night and his wife never scolds.

Laus Deo!—The British Parliament has decided that a man may marry his deceased wife's sister. Let it be understood however, that it is contrary to the canon for a man to marry his great grandmother!
