

POBTRY.

THE COUNTRY LASSIE AND HER LOVER

BY RICHARD COE, JR.

"To-morrow, ma, I'm sweet sixteen, And Billy Grimes, the drover, Has popp'd the question to me, ma, And wants to be my lover; To-morrow morn, he says, mamma. He's coming here quite early, To take a pleasant walk with me Across the field of barley."

"You must not go, my gentle dear, There's no use now a talking; You shall not go across the field With Billy Grimes a-walking. To think of his presumption, too! The dirty, ugly drover, I wonder where your pride has gone, To think of such a rover!"

"Old Grimes is dead, you know, mamma, And Billy is so lonely! Besides, they say, to Grimes' estate That Billy is the only Surviving heir to all that's left; And that, they say, is nearly A good ten thousand dollars, ma-About six hundred yearly:"

"I did not hear, my daughter dear, Your last remark quite clearly, But Billy is a clever lad, And no doubt loves you dearly! Remember, then, to morrow morn, To be up bright and early, To take a pleasant walk with him Across the field of barley!"

IMAGINARY EVILS.

BY CHARLES SWAIN.

Let to morrow take care of to-morrow; · Leave things of the future to fate; What's the use to anticipate sorrow? Life's troubles come never too late. If too hope over much be an error, 'Tis one that the wise have preferred; And how often have hearts been in error Of evils that never occurred!

Have faith-and thy faith shall sustain thee; Permit not suspicion and care With invisible bonds to enchain thee, But bear what God gives thee to bear. By his spirit supported and gladden'd, Be ne'er by "forebodings" deterred; But think how oft hearts have been sadden'd By fear-of what never occurred!

Let to-morrow take care of to morrow, Short and dark as our life may appear, We may make it still darker by sorrow-Still shorter by sorrow and fear! . Half our troubles are half our invention, And often from blessings conferred, Have we shrunk in the wild appr chension Of evils-that never occurred!
