

POETRY.

"REQUIESCAT."

[The following stanzas were translated from the German of Freiligrath, by Mary Howitt. They will command the respect and secure the homage of every lover of genuine poetry. We do not know when we have before read so beautiful a poem.]

Who'er the ponderous hammer wields;
 Who'er compels the earth to flourish;
 Or reaps the golden harvest fields,
 A wife and little ones to nourish;

Who'er guides the laden bark;
 Or, where the many wheels are turning,
 Toils at the loom till after dark,
 Food for his white haired children earning;

To be honored and renowned!
 Honor to handicraft and tillage;
 To every sweat-drop falling down,
 In crowded mills or lonesome village!

All honor to the plodding swain,
 Who holds the plough! Be'too awarded
 To him who toils with soul and brain,
 And starves! Pass him not unregarded.

Whether in chamber close and small,
 'Mid misty tomes he fancy smothers;
 Or of the trade the bandaged thrall,
 He drams writes and songs for others;

Or whether he, for wretched pay,
 Translate the trash which his despises;
 Or, learning's self, puts day by day,
 Dunce-crope through classic exercises.

He, also, is a prey to care,
 To him 'tis said, "Starve thou or borrow,"
 Grey grows betimes his raven hair,
 And to the grave peruses him sorrow,
 With hard compulsion and with need,
 He, like the rest, must strive untiring;
 And his young children's cry for bread
 Mains his free spirit's glad aspiring.

Ah! such a one to me was known,
 With heavenward aim his course ascending;
 Yet deep in dust and darkness prone,
 Care, sorrow care, his life attending
 An exile, and with bleeding breast,
 He groaned in his severest trial;
 Want goaded him to long unrest,
 And scourged him to bitterest self-dissal.

Thus, heart sick, wrote he line on line,
 With hollow cheek and eye of sadness;
 Whilst hyacinth and leafy vine
 Were fluttering in the morning's gladness.
 The thrush sang, and nightingale,
 The soaring lark hymned joy unending,
 Whilst thought's day laborer, worn and pale,
 Over his weary book was bending.

Yes, though his heart sent forth a cry,
 Still strove he for the great ideal;
 "For this," said he, "is poetry,
 And human life this fiery ordeal."
 And when his courage left him quite,
 One thought kept his heart alive in;
 "I have preserved my honor bright
 And for my dear ones I am striving!"

At length his spirit was upheld;
 The power to combat and endeavor
 Was gone, and his heroic mood
 Came on fitfully like fever.

The Muse's kiss, sometimes at night,
 Would set his pulses wildly beating;
 And his high soul soared towards the light,
 When night from morning was retreating.

He long has lain the turf beneath,
 The wild winds thro' the grass are sighing,
 No stone is there, no mourning wreath,
 To mark the spot where he is lying.
 Their faces glow'd with weeping forth
 His wife and children went—God save them!
 Young paupers, heir to naught on earth
 Save the pure name their father gave them.

To tell, all honor and renown!
 Honor to the handicraft and tillage;
 To every sweat-drop falling down,
 In crowded mills and lonely village!

All honor to the plodding swain
 That holds the plough! Be'too awarded
 To him who works with soul and brain,
 And starves! Pass him not unregarded.

The New York Day Book touches up some of the telegraphic reporters in a comical way. In the following the humor is rich, and the hit palpable:
 "Highly important from Washington."
 (By Special Telegraph, exclusively to all the papers.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13, 1850.
 The news from the White House continues to be exciting. It is now confidently asserted that Betty the chambermaid has been offered the post of third cook—an offer which she holds in abeyance.

LATER—Midnight.
 It is ascertained that Betty the cook has not been offered the post of third chambermaid. The announcement was therefore premature. The city is calm.

SPECIAL DISPATCH—From the Responsible Editor, Corv's, late at night.
 I have this moment ascertained that nothing has come to my knowledge respecting the movements at the White House. This you may rely on.

H. G.
 "Maks," said a southern negro, as he was examining the many renis in his brogans, "wonder where shoes come from?"
 "Oh, they grow at the North," was the reply.
 "Well, I guess he picked 'em he ripe them!"

Why is an alarm of fire in the night like a clothes brush?
 Because it spoils the nap.
 Why was the conqueror of canaan like a child whom nobody fathers?
 Because he was the son of Nun.

In the Limerick paper, an Irish gentleman whose wife had absconded from him, thus cautions the public against trusting her:

"My wife has eloped from me without rhyme or reason, and I desire no one will trust her on my account, for I am not married to her."

"Knowledge is power," wrote the great Lord Bacon. "Knowledge is power," complacently exclaimed a dandy the other day, when strong men having failed, he released a lap-dog from the teeth of a huge mastiff, by quietly administering to the latter a pinch of snuff!

The following laughable anecdote of the funeral of a Bristol Alderman, is told by Southey:

"As soon as he found his case was desperate, he called together all the persons to whom he was indebted in his mercantile concerns—"Gentlemen," said he, "I am going to die, and my death will be an inconvenience to you because it will be some time before you can get your accounts settled with my executors; now if you will allow me a handsome discount, I'll settle them myself at once." They came into the proposal, and the old Alderman turned his death into nine hundred pounds profit."

DOCTOR YOURSELF!
 For 25 cents!!!
 BY MEANS OF THE POCKET ESCULAPIUS,
 or Every man his own Physician; twenty-fourth edition, with upwards of a hundred engravings showing private diseases in every shape and form, and malformations of the generative system, by
W. M. YOUNG, M. D.
 The time has now arrived, that persons suffering from secret diseases, need no more become the victims of quackery, as by the prescriptions contained in this book any one may cure himself, without hindrance to business, or the knowledge of the most intimate friend, and with one tenth the usual expense. In addition to the general routine of private disease, it fully explains the cause of manhood's early decline, with observations on marriage—besides many other arrangements which it would not be proper to enumerate in the public prints.
 Any person sending twenty five cents enclosed in a letter, will receive one copy of this book, by mail, or five copies will be sent for one dollar. Address, "DR. W. M. YOUNG No. 152 SPRUCE STREET PHILADELPHIA," Post paid.
 DR. YOUNG can be consulted on any of the Diseases described in his different publications, at his Office, 152 Spruce Street, every day between 9 and 3 o'clock, (Sundays excepted).

McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT.
 CONTAINING NO MERCURY OR OTHER MINERAL, FOR TUMORS, ULCERS, and all kinds of SORES, it has NO EQUAL.
 It is impossible to give the public an adequate idea of the great success which has attended the administration of the All-Healing Ointment for the past three years. It is perfectly astonishing to witness the effects and hear the praises bestowed on this medicine. No one could conceive that a single medicine possessed so much virtue, and had power to heal so many diseases. But since it has been known that tens of thousands have been cured, our friends will begin to realize the truth of our remarks in a former advertisement, viz: that there would not be a single family in America, who would live a day without possessing a box of
McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT.

If they but knew its virtues.
BURNS.—It is one of the best things in the world for burns.
 If MOTHERS and NURSES knew its value in cases of swollen Sore Breasts and Steeple, they would always apply it. In such cases, it used, according to the directions, gives relief in a very few hours.
WOUNDS.—Thousands are yearly cured by this Ointment. It never fails in giving relief for the Piles.
RHEUMATISM.
 It removes, almost immediately, the inflammation and swelling, and the pain ceases. Read the directions around the box.
HEADACHE.
 The salve has cured persons of the headache who had it regularly every week for 12 years, so severe as to cause vomiting.

The following testimonial was given by the celebrated Dr. Wooster Beach, the author of the great Medical work entitled "The American Practice of Medicine and Family Physician."
 "Having been made acquainted with the ingredients which compose McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT, and having prescribed and tested it in several cases in my private practice, I have no hesitation in saying or certifying that it is a vegetable remedy, containing no mineral substance whatever, that its ingredients, combined as are, and used as directed by the Proprietor, are not only harmless but of great value, being truly a scientific remedy of great power; and cheerfully recommend it as a compound which has done much good, and which is adapted to the cure of a great variety of cases. Though I have never either recommended or engaged in the sale of secret medicines, regard for the truly honest, conscientious, and humane character of the Proprietor of the Ointment, and the value of his discovery obliges me to say thus much regarding it."

W. BEACH, M. D.
 New York April 23d 1846.
 ABOUT THE BOX ARE DIRECTIONS FOR USING McALISTER'S OINTMENT FOR SCROFULA, LIVER COMPLAINT, ERISIPELAS, TETTER, CHILBLAINS, SCALP HEAD, SORE EYES, SORE THROAT, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, PAINS, HEADACHE, DEAFNESS, EARACHE, BURNS, SORE LIPS, TUMORS, &c., RHEUMATISM, PILES, SWELLED OR BROKEN BREAST, TOOTHACHE AGUE IN THE FACE, &c., &c.
 This Ointment is good for any part of the body or limbs which is inflamed. In some cases it should be applied often.
 JAMES McALISTER,
 Sole Proprietor of the above Medicine.
