

POETRY. LABOR.

BY THE LATE MRS. FRANCIS S. OSGOOD.

Pause not to dream of the future before us; Pause not to weep the wild cares that come o'er us;

Hark! low creation's deep musical chorus, Unintermitting, goes up into heaven!
Never the ocean-wave falters in flowing;
Never the little seed stops in its growing;
More and more richly the rose heart keeps glowing.
Till from its nourishing stem it is given.

"Labor is worship!" the robin is singing;
"Labor is worship!" the wild bee is ringing; Listen! that eloquent whisper upspringing Speaks to my soul from out nature's great heart.

From the dark clouds flows the life-giving shower;
From the rough sod blows the soft-breathing flower;
From the small insect the rich coral bower;
Only man in the plan strinks from his part.

Labor is life! 'Tis the still water falleth; Idleness ever despoileth, bewalleth; Keep the watch wound, for the dark rust as-sailth;
Flowers droop and die in the stillness of noon.

Labor is glory, the flying cloud lightens;
Only the waving wing changes and brightens; Idle hearts only the dark future frightens; Play the sweet keys wouldst thou keep them in tune!

Labor is rest—from the sorrows that greet us;
Rest from all petty vexations that meet us;
Rest from sin promptings that ever entreat us;
Rest from world sorrows that lure us to ill.

Work—and pure slumbers shall wait on thy pillow;
Work—thou shalt ride over care's coming billow;
Lie not down wearied 'neath wo'e's weeping willow;

Work with a stout heart and resolute will.
Labor is health! Lo! the husbandman reaping—
How through his veins goes the life current leaping,
How his strong arm, in its stalwart pride sweeping!

True as a sunbeam the swift sickle guides, Labor is wealth—in the sea the pearl grows; Rich the queen's robe from the frail cocoon flows;
From the fine acorn the strong forest bloweth; Temple and statue the marble block hides.

Droop not, though shame, sin, and anguish are round thee!
Bravely fling off the cold chains that have bound thee!

Look to you pure heaven smiling beyond thee;
Rest not content in thy darkness—a cloud!
Work—for some good, be it ever so slowly; Cherish some flower, be it ever so lowly;

Labor! All labor is noble and holy;
Let thy great deeds be thy prayer to thy God.

A NEW WATCH.—A great improvement in the manufacture of watches has just been made in Geneva, by which watch keys are rendered unnecessary. By simply turning a screw in the handle, the watch is wound up, and another movement regulates the hands. The first watch manufactured with this improvement is intended for America, and its case is said to be a rich and curious specimen of art, and historically interesting, the ornamented border containing a view of the famous "Charter Oak" of Connecticut. "It is a good action thus to make a watch team with historic associations without destroying its ornamental beauty."

FREEDOM OF MIND.—I call that mind free which is not imprisoned in itself or in sect—which recognizes in all human beings the image of God, and sympathizes with sufferers wherever they are seen, which conquers pride and sloth, and offers itself up a willing victim to the cause of mankind.
I call that mind free which is not passively framed by outward circumstances, which is not the creature of accidental impulse, but which bends events to its own improvement; acts upon an inward spring from an immutable principle which it has deliberately espoused.

A Little Reasoner.—A little boy asked his mother how many gods there were.
A younger brother answered: "Why, one to be sure." "But how do you know that?" inquired the other. "Because," answered the younger, "God fills every place, so there is no room for any other."

To feed the land before it is hungry, to give it rest before it is weary, and to weed it before it becomes foul, are the best evidences of farming.

If a tallow candle be placed in a gun and shot at a door, it will go through without sustaining any injury, and if a musket ball be fired into water, it will not only rebound, but be flattened as if fired against a solid substance.

"Horse, where do you live?"
"I live among de back street, what de hills cross, as you come up mid de brewery in yer right hand."

AGRICULTURAL.

Crops among Fruit Trees.

The size and quality of an orchard depends much on the condition of the soil.
If the soil becomes exhausted through bad management of excessive cropping, we have no reason to expect much of good fruit from any trees. The question is often asked, what crops may be raised in an orchard without an injury to the trees and fruit? Mr. Cole in his American Fruit Book, thus remarks:—

"Some crops may be cultivated among fruit trees with profit. Others are injurious. Indian corn and all smaller grains, and crops generally that ripen their seeds, injure trees. Potatoes and other root crops are favorable, so are squashes, and vines generally. Clover, as pasturage, is favorable; as mowing, injurious. Pasturing orchards with small animals, such as hogs, calves, sheep, and poultry, have a good effect, as they destroy insects, and all. Sheep are good against canker-worms. The treading and rooting of animals destroy or annoy insects in the soil.

"It is much more economical to manure liberally and take off crops, as the constituents of vegetables are generally different from those of trees; but when the trees nearly cover the land, it should be wholly devoted to them, and the manuring and culture continued, as the extra produce and superior quality of the fruit will amply repay the cost. The finest orchard in the country has produced large crops of vegetables that have paid nearly all the expenditures."

Rolling Stones Gather no Moss.

Neither does the uneasy farmer, who is constantly moving or talking about moving, somewhere to find rich land. Generally speaking the migrating man belongs to that class who are careless about the soil, exhaust it for present crops, without an eye to the future. His land is heavily taxed by injudicious management, and before he has secured the value of the labor bestowed in clearing them, he is left with a crippled plantation, yielding but a poor crop. To move in quest of the virgin soil again is but incurring heavy expenses, hard labor, loss of time, deprivations innumerable, besides parting with the old homestead for a mere trifle, when he could soon make it rich and productive, if he would but feed it with half the care that he feeds his own imagination upon some visionary scheme of growing rich in "El Dorado," to which he is about to emigrate.

Bounty Lands.

The correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, reviewing the proceedings, of Congress, speaks as follows, in relation to the Bounty Land bill, which is now a law:

To return to the action of the last days of the session. I would mention the passage of a law by which the surviving officers and soldiers of all the wars in which the United States have been engaged, will receive bounty land; and in certain cases their widows and children. The administration of the law, (for it is now a law, having been signed by the President,) will absorb nearly 60,000,000 of the public domain to those intended to be benefited, or to speculators. It will deprive the government of any accruing revenue from the sale of public lands for ten or fifteen years to come.—The rules of evidence will be such, no doubt, as to deprive the departments of the ability to issue warrants to cover more than 5,000,000 acres per annum.

Should this amount issue, it will bring down the price of the warrants much lower than the government prices for the land; and thus enable speculators to understand the government at the doors of the several land offices where the greatest amount of public lands are entered. Purchasers of land instead of paying the government cash will make their entries with these warrants, while they will be able to buy at 25 or even 50 per cent lower than the government minimum price.— The only moneys that the Government will be for payments from actual pre-emptors; and it will not receive any from this class of purchasers; these warrants be made receivable in payment of entries by pre-emptors.

Thus you see, that whilst the appropriations of this year amount to some 41-000,000, (independent of the appropriations to the Post Office department—which department is presumed to support itself,) —the policy of the present Congress has been to cut off a great source of revenue —the public lands—and to add that much to the deficit in the revenues. I foresee that the Whig party will not only have a pretext for raising the tariff the next session, but a show of actual necessity for it, upon articles which will bear an increased duty without cutting off the importation, to replenish the Treasury, and enable the Government to get along.

A New Platform.—An aspirant for a country office being asked what his political principles were, announced his platform:
—"I am sir, in favor of the next war —opposed to the cholera—in favor of high salaries—opposed to uncurrent funds and poor brandy."

McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT

Containing no Mercury or other Mineral, OR TUMORS, SLEERS, and all kinds of SORES, it has NO EQUAL.

It is impossible to give the public an adequate idea of the great success which has attended the administration of the All-Healing Ointment for the past three years. It is perfectly astonishing to witness the effects and hear the praises bestowed on this medicine. No one could conceive that a single medicine possessed so much virtue, and had power to heal so many diseases. But since it has been known that tens of thousands have been cured, our friends will begin to realize the truth of our remarks in a former advertisement, viz that there would not be a single family in America, who would live a day without pos-siding a box of McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINT.

if they but knew its VIRTUE.
BURNS.—It is one of the best things in the world for burns.

IT MOTHERS and NURSES know its value in cases of swollen or Sore Breasts and Sore Nipples, they would always apply it. In such cases, if used, according to the directions, it gives relief in a very few hours.

PLEAS.—Thousands are yearly cured by this Ointment. It never fails in giving relief for the Piles.

RHEUMATISM.
It removes, almost immediately, the inflammation and swelling, and the pain ceases.— Read the directions around the box.

HEADACHE.
The salve has cured persons of the headache who had it regularly every week for 12 years, so severe as to cause vomiting.

The following testimonial was given by the celebrated Dr. Wooster Beach, the author of the great Medical work entitled "The American Practice of Medicine and Family Physician":

"Having been made acquainted with the ingredients which compose McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT, and having prescribed and tested it in several cases in my private practice, I have no hesitation in saying or certifying that it is a vegetable remedy, containing no mineral substance whatever, that its ingredients, combined as are, and used as directed by the Proprietor, are not only harmless but of great value, being truly a scientific remedy of great power, and one fully recommended it as a compound which has done much good, and which is adapted to the cure of a great variety of cases. Though I have never officially recommended or engaged in the sale of either medicines, regard for the truly honest, conscientious, and humane character of the Proprietor of the Ointment, and the value of his discovery obliges me to say thus much regarding it.
