

Dreadful Steamboat Explosion.
Great Loss of Life—Many Wounded and Missing, &c.
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 13, P. M.—The new and beautiful steamer Anglo-Norman went out on an experiment trip to-day, with a large pleasure party, consisting of two hundred and ten souls on board. After she had proceeded some distance, and, as I learn, was returning to the city, towards evening, her boilers exploded, greatly shattering the boat, and killing and wounding a large number. From seventy-five to one hundred persons are numbered, as far as at present ascertained, among the killed, wounded and missing.

Mr. Perry, a gentleman attached to the office of the New Orleans Bulletin, was one of the party, and lost his life by the fatal disaster. He was a gentleman well known and much esteemed. Mr. Kidd, of the Daily Crescent, and Mr. Bigna, of the Delta, were wounded, but not seriously.

Mr. Nathan Jarvis, Mr. Stillman, and Mr. Storm, of the New York Novelty Works, were aboard, and all of them believed to be mortally wounded.
Captain Amnibol, and Captain Thompson, of the ship Lexington, and others, were badly injured.

The Hon. Junius Beebe, a member of the State Senate, was on board, and is believed to have been killed.

It is impossible yet to ascertain the precise number of killed wounded and missing—or their names—but the supposition is that they cannot vary much from one hundred.

The Colored Race.
The recent amendment of the Constitution of Indiana, which prohibits negroes from emigrating into that State, and which will in a short time free it from all vestiges of the African race, has been thought by many persons a harsh and cruel measure; but the reasons for its adoption are not generally known. In fact, it is but a modification of laws adopted by other Western States, only more stringent. The prejudices of the whites are generally strong against associating with people of color; and particularly those who are forced upon them by the action of the slave States. The question is now being discussed in Virginia, for the removal of the entire class of free negroes from that State, without regard to character or condition.

Gov. Floyd suggests, in his Message, expatriation as a punishment for every conviction of a free negro for petty larceny; and, moreover, that a bounty be held out to every free negro to induce him to leave the State. It is to guard against these persons that Indiana is erecting her constitutional barriers. If, then, the free negroes of the South are to be expatriated, where will they go? The free Western States refuse their admission into their territory, except upon conditions which it will be impossible for them to comply with. Pennsylvania stands now with her doors open. But we think, from the aspect of the times, that it will not be long before the question of "keeping the latch-string out" will be discussed here.

For Sale or Rent.
THE subscriber offers for sale to the 31st of December next, and if not sold by that time will rent on advantageous terms the "Stony Massion House."

This fine House is located ten miles from Hollidaysburg and not miles from Ebsenburg at a point where the Turnpike Road leading from Hollidaysburg to Pittsburg crosses the Allegheny Portage Rail Road, and consequently receives the patronage of the travelling public that crosses either of these thoroughfares to Philadelphia or Pittsburg. Four trains of passenger cars stop at the door daily in the business season, and from five to ten coaches in the winter.

The pure atmosphere, pure water, and delightful scenery of the Allegheny Mountains, make this a most desirable summer resort for citizens of Philadelphia and Pittsburg, and as many permanent visitors can be had as the House will accommodate.

The building is spacious and admirably arranged for a Hotel and has been recently refitted, painted and enlarged. An excellent stable, carriage house, wash house and convenient out-door buildings are on the premises and also a neat tenant house for servants.

If the premises are sold, a clear and indisputable title will be made, and possession given on the first day of April next.

The undersigned begs leave through this advertisement to return his hearty acknowledgments to his numerous friends for the many favors bestowed on him and assures them that nothing but success in his family has induced him to relinquish a claim to their patronage.
