From the Germantown Telegraph.
Lime and Ashes as Manure.

Mr. Editor:—Your correspondents I think have recommended the use of lime and ashes as a stimulous for vegetables, and as I have had some experience in the use of the latter, I wish to add my testimony in their behalf, for I consider ashes both leached or unleached, as one of the most decidedly valuable applications that a farmer can make to his soil—I have applied them to corn, to wheat, beans, oats, peas, and indeed, to almost every variety of cultivated crop known to the farmer of modern days, and always with highly beneficial and lucrative results. As to lime I am not prepared by experimental knowledge, to endorse the high, and, as it seems to me, often extravagant estimate which many of my countrymen place upon it, although I assign it a high rank among mineral manures, and am even in the habit of applying greater or less quantities every year.

It has ever been by conviction since the first year I applied ashes, that for every bushel given to my corn crop, I received, in return, a bushel of sound corn. I have never failed to save all my ashes for this purpose, and when I can purchase them for the purpose I can obtain. On beans I require no other substance, and grass lands, liberally top-dressed with leached or unleached ashes, especially if the soil be of a cold nature, a little exhausted, and inclined to run to moss, will be more benefited than by three or four times the money's worth of the best manure.

Such lands are sterile, in part, from the exhaustion of its humate and silicate—the latter of which must be supplied by the addition of some energetic alkaline material which will disintegrate the silicate yet extant in the soil in an insoluble state, and reduce them to a condition capable of being appropriated and assimilated by plants. This is effected either by lime or ashes. The insoluble humus also, is rendered fit for nourishing vegetation by the action of either of these. On Long Island, great account is made of barrilla, ashes which have been in a great measure deprived of their alkaline properties, which are drawn for the use of the soap maker, and their application is productive of highly beneficial effects. They doubtless act both chemically and mechanically on the soil. To every farmer I would say save all your ashes: apply them to your lands and cultivate crops, and the result will demonstrate that they are the most valuable stimulus you can possibly procure.

A COUNTY FARMER.
Philadelphia Co., Dec. 4, 1850.

THE MILLER AND PAINTER.—A miller at L. who lately quitted his mill to keep a public house, sent for a painter to paint him a sign, on which he would have the mill.
"I must have the miller looking out of the window."
"It shall be done," said the painter.
"But as I was never seen to be idle you must make him pop in his head if any one looks at him."
This also the painter promised, and brought home the sign.
"It is well done, but where is the miller?"
"O," says the painter, the papper in his head when you looked."

An Irishwoman who had kept a little grocery, was brought to her death bed, and was on the point of breathing her last, when she called her husband to her bedside:
"Jamie," she faintly said, "there's Missus Mulloney—she owes me six shillings."
"Och!" exclaimed her husband, "Biddy darling, ye're sensible to the last!"
"Yis, dear-an' there's Missus McGraw I owe her a dollar."
"Och!" he jabbers, and ye're as foolish as ever!"

"What's the matter, pat?"
"Billy Mulloney has robbed me, and run away, the vilyan."
"Robbed you?"
"Yes, of the hundred dollars I owed the spalpeen, every cent of it."
"A sad loss, Mr. Kelley."
"Devil a worse ever overlook Pat Kelley since he came till Americon. If it was not for dying, I'd kill myself, I would."

Short of Bible.—A reverend gentleman, while visiting a parishioner, had occasion, in the course of conversation, to refer to the Bible, and on asking for it, the article, the master leaves of the und came back with the Bible, says he, "book in his hand. I'd do, House-I had no idea we were so near out."

"Hanse, are you hungry?"
"Yaw, by d—, I am so hungry I could eat a horse mit one hand, and drink red well dry mit a pump handles."

Great emergencies produce great men; great emergencies also give rise to the true cast of popular sentiment.

TAVERN.—A house kept for those who are not housekeepers.

ST. FRANCIS' ACADEMY FOR BOYS.

Loretto, Cambria county, Pa.
THIS Institution, in charge of the Franciscan Brothers, and distant four miles from the direct mail road between Philadelphia and Pittsburg, will, on the first Monday in September, be opened for the reception of pupils, who will be instructed in any of the following branches of an elementary and liberal education:—Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Ancient and Modern Geography, Use of Globes, Elements of Natural Philosophy, Ancient and Modern History, Book-Keeping, a full course of Mathematics, and of the Greek and Latin Classics, &c.
TERMS.
The Annual pension for Board Tuition, Washing, Mending of linen, and use of Bedding, (payable half yearly in advance,) is $100 00
Postage of letters, books and stationery, if not furnished by parents or guardians, will form an extra charge, as will also Medical attendance.
The Scholastic Year commencing as above, will close the 15th of July following.
Those remaining at the institution during the Summer vacation, will be charged $12 extra.
Each pupil must be provided with a sufficient supply of Names and Winter clothing; six shirts, six pocket handkerchiefs, six pairs of stockings, four pairs of drawers, six towels, and three pairs of boots or shoes.
The healthy location of the Establishment, together with picturesque scenery—the varied and extensive prospect all around, so beneficial to youthful minds—must render it desirable as a place of education.
The attention of the Brothers to the intellectual, moral and religious culture of boys entrusted to their care, will be unremitting; and to render that attention effective, the discipline will be exact, yet mild and parental.
A half yearly account of the health, conduct and literary progress of each pupil, will be transmitted to his parent or guardian.
All letters addressed (post-paid) to the Superior of the Franciscan Monastery, Loretto, will receive due attention.
References may be made to Rt. Rev. M. O' Connor, Bishop of Pittsburg, Rev. H. P. Galbraher Loretto, Cambria county,

McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT

Containing no Mercury or other Mineral, FOR TUMORS, ULCERS, and all kinds of SORES, it has NO EQUAL.
It is impossible to give the public an adequate idea of the great success which has attended the administration of the All-Healing Ointment for the past three years. It is perfectly astonishing to witness the effects and hear the praises bestowed on this medicine. No one could conceive that a single medicine possessed so much virtue, and had power to heal so many diseases. But since it has been known that tens of thousands have been cured, our friends will begin to realize the truth of our remarks in a former advertisement, viz that there would not be a single family in America, who would live a day without possessing a box of McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT. If they but know its virtues.

BURNS.—It is one of the best things in the world for burns.
WOUNDS AND NURSES know its value in cases of swollen or Sore Breasts and Sore Nipples, they would always apply it. In such cases, if used, according to the directions, it gives relief in a very few hours.
PILES.—Thousands are yearly cured by this Ointment. It acts like a charm in giving relief for the Piles.
RHEUMATISM.
It removes almost immediately, the inflammation and swelling, and the pain occasion.—Read the directions around the box.
HEADACHE.
The salve has cured persons of the headache who had it regularly every week for 12 years, so severe as to cause fainting.
The following testimonial was given by the celebrated Dr. W. Beach, the author of the great Medical work entitled "The American Practice of Medicine and Family Physician."
"Having been made acquainted with the ingredients which compose McALISTER'S ALL-HEALING OINTMENT, and having prescribed and tested it in several cases in my private practice, I have no hesitation in saying or certifying that it is a vegetable remedy, containing no mineral substance whatever, that its ingredients, combined as are, and used as directed by the Proprietor, are not only harmless but of great value, being truly a scientific remedy of great power; and cheerfully recommend it as a compound which has done much good, and which is adapted to the cure of a great variety of cases. Though I have never either recommended or engaged in the sale of secret medicines, regard for the truly honest, conscientious, and humane character of the Proprietor of the Ointment, and the value of his discovery obliges me to say thus much regarding it."
