

ANDREW J. RHEY, EDITOR. and a sorrow o'er thy brow Its darkened shadows fling, And hopes that cheer thee now Die in their early spring ! Should pleasure, at its birth, Fade like the hues of even, Turn thou away from earth, There's rest for thee in Heaven

> If ever life shall seem To thee a toilsome way, And gladness cease to beam Upon its clouded day. If, like the weary dove, On shoreless ocean driven, Raise thou thine eyes above. There's rest for thee in heaven.

But, O, if thornless flowers Throughout thy pathway bloom, And gaily fleet the hours Unstained by early gloom ; Still let not every thought To this dull world be given, Nor always, always be forgot Thy better rest in heaven.

When sickness pales thy check. And dims thy lustrous eye, And pulses, low and weak, Tell of a time to die ! Sweet Hope shall whisper then. Though thou from earth be driven There's bliss beyond the skies, There's rest for thee in heaven ! New York, March 1851.
