

From the Knickerbocker.

The Bloomer.

The saucy maid may toss her head, When she her bustle hitches on ; Be mine to praise in artless lays, The graceful girl with breeches on.

The petticoat no more shall float, On limbs whose shape bewitches one; But in its place, with modest grace, Those limbs shall hold the breeches on.

The bucks and beaus turn up their nose At costly robes with patches on But goodness me! what if they see Such beauty spots the breeches on.

Ye muslin dresses, white and thin, With fairy finger'd stitches on, I fear your day has passed away Since woman put the breeches on.

Ah! well-a-day, the Bard may say, Shall one bestow his kisses on A shameless maid who's not afraid To put a pair of breeches on.

She'll make him feel from head to heel, Whatever else he hitches on, He has no right, by day or night, To put a pair of breeches on?

We always see the graces three Without a rag the witches on, But O! Gad Zooks, how would it look Should each one put the breeches on!

When woman's wit is stirred a bit, The first reform she pitches on, Is how she may, with least delay, Just draw a pair of breeches on !

General Kossuth.

General Kossuth has written a long and ele quent letter addressed to the Charge d'Affaires of the United States at Constantinople, in which he speaks in very sad terms of his present situation, of the treacherous and cruel manner in ing-house possessed by but few teachers of which Turkey has dealt towards him, and of Book-keeping in the country, and all who aspregnant passage:

murder of a young lady whom he loved. Briefly Lime at a reduced price, (10 cents a bushel, the circumstances are these :- The prisoner was delivered at the Kiln,) and respectfully solicits a servant in the family of Mr. Scholten, and became enamoured of his daughter. He declared before, as the testimony shows, that he intended to make a declaration of his love, and if not received, he would shoot the lady. He made his declaration of love-the lady indignantly repulsed him. He went and got a double barrel gun, came into the house where the lady and her mother were, told her he had a present for by her, pointing to the gun. Said she, "you are not going to shoot, surely." He replied, "I am"-firing one barrel, and afterwards the other, the loads taking effect in the head, scattering her brains all over the room. The young lady was beautiful and accomplished. The Petroleum or Rock Oil is procured from a well in Allegheny county, at a depth of four hundred feet, is a pure unadulterated article, without any chemical change, but just as it flows of diseases, is no longer a matter of uncertainty. There are many things in the arena of nature, which, if known, might be of vast usefulness in alleviating suffering and restoring the bloom of health and vigor to many a sufferer. Long be-fore the proprietor thought of putting it up in bottles, it had a reputation for the cure of disease. The constantly and daily increasing calls for it, and several remarkable cures it has performed, is a sure indication of its future popularity and wide spread application in the cure of disease.
