

ence to the committee to whom the protest had been referred.

Mr. Reilly moved as an amendment to his own motion, "that as the minority had been decently treated, they now submit like men." (Great Applause.)

Mr. Reilly then withdrew his motion. He subsequently renewed the original motion, which was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Marshall, it was Resolved, That the Secretaries be requested to procure a book to keep a regular record of the proceedings of Conventions hereafter.

On motion of David D. Wagner, Esq., it was Resolved, That the proceeding of this Convention be published in all the Democratic papers of the State.

A motion being made that the convention adjourn sine die.

The President addressed the convention as follows:

Gentlemen Delegates:—Having completed our labors, we are now about to separate and return to our constituents. Before pronouncing the Convention adjourned sine die, allow me to return to you my sincere thanks for your gentlemanly conduct towards the Chair during our deliberations. When I assumed the duties of the position assigned me by your partiality, I did so under the belief, as I then expressed it, that any lack of mine would be supplied by your kind forbearance. The result has shown that I was not mistaken. Your entire demeanor has been characterized by the strictest decorum. That questions would arise upon which an honest difference of opinion would exist, was to be expected; but it is one of the beauties of our free institutions, that majorities are always allowed to settle those differences. It is right that it should be so. Were it otherwise, instead of having harmony in our deliberations, anarchy and insubordination would reign, and our political organizations would be annihilated. It is admitted that majorities may sometimes err—may by their numerical strength do acts, which to the minorities, may seem to be oppressive; but, after all, I respectfully submit, whether it is not safer for the rights of all to confide our political interest to the hands of the former, rather than the latter.

In these remarks let me not be misunderstood. I wish them to be regarded as of a general character, without reference to anything that has transpired here. For one, I am willing to tender to others that which I claim for myself, viz: honesty of purpose. Should any thing have occurred in the progress of our deliberations, which has wounded the feelings of any one, let it be forgotten—let us separate as a band of brothers—let no unkind impression be permitted to remain in the breast of any one member of the Convention, towards another—let us all remember that the approaching presidential election will be an important and spirited one—that to be successful, we must be united—let us then, in a word, leave this Hall with the patriotic determination to support that nominee of the Baltimore Convention. To that tribunal we have all agreed to submit our personal preferences. To their decision we must bow, if not with Christian, at least with Democratic resignation.

After again thanking you for your gentlemanly deportment, as well as for the very flattering resolution which you have been pleased to adopt in reference to the occupant of the chair and the other officers of the Convention, I bid you one and all an affectionate farewell, and may a kind Providence grant you a safe return to your respective homes.

The Convention then adjourned sine die.

LOUISVILLE, March 4.
There has been a heavy rain all day, and the contemplated Kosuth procession failed in consequence. He delivered a speech in the Farmer's Tobacco warehouse, last night, the largest place in the city, which was very much crowded. The burthen of his speech was complimentary to Kentucky and Kentuckians, whom he had often been told by spirits, were noble hearted and generous—bold and brave—and world-renowned for never missing their aim.

He then went into a metaphysical dissertation upon the difference between principle and policy. The speech contains no new positions of views.

Cholera Morbus.

READ THE FOLLOWING EXTRAORDINARY CURE. I hereby certify that about two weeks ago I was seized with a violent attack of vomiting and Purging, (Cholera Morbus,) with very distressing pains in the stomach and bowels, which was completely removed by two tea-spoonful doses of the Petroleum, taken in a little water. After having taken the first dose, I slept soundly and comfortably for three hours.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY imparts new vigor to vital action, and relieves the system by opening the pores of the skin, and promoting the secretion of mucous matter. Its action is sudorific, sedative and expectorant, by opening the pores, allaying irritation, and by rendering the expulsion of mucous matter easy. Those who take the Balsam will feel immediate relief from the distressing irritations that accompany affections of the respiratory organs. The pores have been closed, the Balsam opens them, the Lungs suffer from irritation, the irritation is soothed; the pulse is violent and feverish, they are softened, and the mucous membrane relieved of its engorgement with rapidity and ease. All by the use of this delightful remedy. See advertisement in another column.

MARRIED:
At Ebsenburg, on Thursday afternoon, 11th inst., by Rev. L. Powell, Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS, to Miss MARY WILLIAMS, all of this place.

NOTICE
To the Creditors of the Huntington, Cambria, and Indiana Turnpike Road Company—
That the court of Huntington county on the 12th February, 1852, directed to be paid to creditors three and one half per cent on the amount of their claims on which former dividends have been declared, which I will pay on the presentation of their certificates of deposit by themselves or their agents.

This is not in fun!

We want money, particularly that which has been due for some time. Will those indebted to us please call and settle their accounts during this month and pay us all they can. Our books must be settled, and until they are, we must positively refuse to add any thing more to long standing accounts. Experience proves that in doing a credit business, if you leave accounts run over six months or a year, that there is difficulty in settling.

The books of the former firms of J. Ivory and J. Ivory & Co., will be left in the hands of an officer for collection by the 1st April, if those indebted do not call and pay their accounts by that time.

JOHN IVORY & SON,
Summit, March 11, 1852.—4t.

Adams & Co.'s Express.

Ivory & Son, agents at the Summit, Cambria county, Pa., will receive and forward packages for Philadelphia, Pittsburg, and all intermediate places. Money or valuable articles received for and sent to any point on the line of railroad. March 11, 1852.

Commission and Forwarding.

After the 16th inst., we will be obliged to pay Penna. Railroad Co. freights upon the delivery of merchandise; therefore, persons receiving goods by that line will pay us the freight before the goods are taken away. The same rule will be observed with canal freight when we have to pay on delivery. Bills lading should always be furnished us to avoid losses of packages. Hereafter we will charge the following commissions: 23 cents per 100 lbs. on all goods left in our care on side track, 5 cents per 100 lbs. when we handle or store goods, or check them off and receipt for them. Goods remaining in warehouse over ten days will pay extra storage. On all freight not paid when goods are taken away, we will charge three per cent. for collecting.

All outstanding amounts due us as freights we would like to have paid immediately.

Balsam of Wild Cherry

WISTAR'S
BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
THE BEST REMEDY EVER KNOWN
To man for Coughs, Asthma, Colds, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Bleeding of the Lungs, Difficulty of Breathing, Liver Affections, Pain or weakness of the Breast or Side, First stages of Consumption, &c. In short this Balsam is peculiarly adapted to every disease of the Lungs and Liver, which is produced in our ever-varying climate.
WILD CHERRY has long been known to possess important medicinal properties. This fact is familiar to every matron in our land, and physicians often prescribe it in different forms for a variety of complaints. Tar, also, has been equally noted for its virtues; and some physicians, whose names are familiar to the whole country, have gone so far as to declare that even CONSUMPTION could be cured by that alone. In other hands, again, it was nearly valueless, owing, no doubt, to their ignorance in preparing and administering it—a difficulty now entirely obviated by patient experiment and long experience.
The extraordinary medicinal powers of these two substances are now, for the first time combined and embodied in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. By a nice chemical process, every thing deleterious or useless is rejected, so that what remains is the most extraordinary and truly efficacious remedy for all kinds of pulmonary and liver diseases ever known to man. To convince all unbelievers that our theory is really true, we refer to a few cases of cures performed by this wonderful medicine:

ANOTHER ASTONISHING CURE!
E. Kalk, a highly respectable merchant of Rushville, Fairfield county, Ohio, sent us the following voluntary tribute to

"DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY."
Rushville, Fairfield co., O, April 6, 1851.
Mr. J. D. Park—Dear Sir:—I wish to state to you that my daughter, Amada, aged sixteen years, had, about a year since, a very severe attack of measles, which reduced her very much, and left her with a racking cough. I employed all of the physicians within our reach for the purpose of removing her cough, but without success. She appeared to be sinking into a decline, with every symptom of consumption.

I then tried Dr. "Rogers' Liverwort and Tar." But this aggravated her cough, and gave her symptoms of a still more malignant character. I was now most seriously alarmed, and it was with trembling fear that I from day to day, saw the progress of that insatiable disease, consumption. I really despaired of my daughter's recovery. But I provisionally saw the certificate of Jonathan Coulson, whose daughter, "Sarah Jane," was cured of consumption by "Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry." This created a faint hope that it might help my daughter, and I immediately commenced using it,
