

Scott's Nomination in Massachusetts.

The nomination of Gen. Scott has been received by the Whigs of Massachusetts with the coldness of an iceberg, as will be seen by the following despatch giving a synopsis of the opinions of the Whig press of Boston.

The Boston Journal endorses the nomination of Gen. Scott with a heavy heart.

The Atlas warmly sustains Scott, but say the people of Massachusetts will have Webster or nothing. They prefer defeat under his banner to success under one who does not command their confidence and respect.

The Advertiser is struck with hardly less surprise than regret, and fears the decision forebodes disastrous consequences to the welfare of the whig party and the country.

The Courier says "the nomination fell upon the inhabitants of the city like a funeral pall; what it said weeks ago it has no reason to unsay now. Its opinion cannot be whisked about at a moment's warning by the caprice of a few individuals, when the blood has been kept at fever heat for six days in a sort of black hole of Calcutta. It will wait the return of the delegates before deciding whether to sustain the nomination or not."

The Mail says the nomination of General Scott upon the crowd in State street, was like the appearance of a contribution box in church, only the scattering was more general and indiscriminate.

To show further the feeling of the Webster whigs of Boston, we give the following from the Boston Times a Democratic paper:

The meagre vote of Webster through so many ballots, disappointed many of the expounder's friends, and led them to utter threats of treachery, which, if carried out, cannot do the democratic candidate any harm. In case Scott is nominated, we have been presented with a list of the names of a number of highly respectable Webster whigs who express a determination to organize a Pierce Club and do battle during the campaign for the Young Eagle of the North. The democratic fold is open for all.

Nobody But a Printer Anyhow.

Such was the sneering remark of a person residing not a thousand miles from the door of our sanctum, in referring to the profession we follow in pride. "Nobody but a printer," in sooth it makes our blood run rampant through our veins to hear such expressions fall from the lips of those nursed on republican soil. "Nobody but a printer, anyhow!" Who was Benjamin Franklin? "Nobody but a printer!" Who was William Caxton, one of the fathers of literature? "Nobody but a printer!" Who was Earl Stanhope? "Nobody but a printer!" Who was Samuel Woodworth, the poet? "Nobody but a printer." Who was Gov. Armstrong, of Massachusetts? "Nobody but a printer!" George P. Morris, James Harper, Horace Greeley, Robert Sears, and Senators Dix, Cameron, and Niles! Who are they? "Nobody but Printers-an-yhow." One thing is evident; every person that chooses can't be a Printer. Brains are necessary.—Eastern Paper.

Webb, of the Courier and Enquirer, the man who stood sponsor for the whig party when it was christened, speaks thus of Scott's nomination: "The majority of the national whig convention have determined that Winfield Scott is more fit to be President of the United States than Daniel Webster. With all deference, gentlemen, we disagree with you. We have always believed the contrary; we still believe the contrary; and, so long as our reason is spared, we shall continue to believe the contrary. Daniel Webster is equal to Winfield Scott in patriotism and integrity, and is his superior—pardon us, gentlemen—almost immeasurably his superior in capacity, in attainments, in civil experience, in massiveness and staidness of character, in moral courage, in consideration and influence at home and abroad, and in every other great quality which gives efficiency and dignity to the head of State. This is our sober conviction. We undertake to say that it is the sober conviction of intelligent men all over the civilized world, and that it will be the sober conviction of posterity. There it stands, gentlemen, and there it will stand. The magic of your ballots has not dispelled it; the thunders of your cannon do not shake it; the smoke of your tar barrels cannot dim it; the high sounding echoes of your ratification meetings will not cause one particle of the stern stuff it is composed of to vibrate in union. Daniel Webster we repeat it, is more fit to be President of the United States than Gen. Scott.

But the nomination is made; the act is perpetrated beyond remedy; the rejection of Daniel Webster is as reversible as a decree of Alcott or either of the other three Furies. The mass of the whigs of this city have received the intelligence with sullen indignation. On every side we have heard determinations expressed not to support the Baltimore nominee."

The editor says he will support the platform, and as the candidate is upon it, he will support him; but he likes the substance better than the symbol; so he put the platform, not the candidate, at the head of his columns.

A lazy fellow lying down on the grass said, "Oh, how I wish this was called work and I paid accordingly."

CLOTHING!

Who wants bargains?

EVANS & HUGHES,

Have just received from Philadelphia at their Clothing store in Ebersburg, a large assortment of

among which may be enumerated a fine lot of cassimere, alpaca, tweed and fine cloth coats, dress, sack and habit cloth coats of every variety and color; a very large stock of satin and cassimere pantaloons of every description, and a good assortment of silk, satin and cassimere vests, together with every kind of boys clothing.

ALSO,

fine and coarse shirts, handkerchiefs, silk shirts, stocks, umbrellas, leghorn, palm leaf, straw and silk hats, caps, &c., all of which they will dispose of on the most reasonable terms. They have also on hand a large stock of cloths, cassimere and vestings, which they are prepared to make up in the most workmanlike manner, and on the most accommodating terms for cash or approved country produce. The entire stock of clothing is made up according to the latest fashions.

Having selected their goods with great care and purchased on the lowest cash terms, they are prepared to accommodate their friends and customers with clothing of a superior quality and at lower prices than goods of a similar quality were ever sold in this country. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine their goods.

This is not in fun!

We want money, particularly that which has been due for some time. Will those indebted to us please call and settle their accounts during this month, and pay us all they can. Our books must be settled, and until they are, we must positively refuse to add any thing more to long standing accounts. Experience proves that in doing a credit business, if you leave accounts run over six months or a year, that there is difficulty in getting paid. The books of the former firms of J. Ivory and J. Ivory & Co., will be left in the hands of an officer for collection by the 1st April, if those indebted do not call and pay their accounts by that time.

JOHN IVORY & SON, Summit, March 11, 1852.—tf.

Commission and Forwarding.

After the 16th inst., we will be obliged to pay Penna. Railroad Co. freights upon the delivery of merchandise; therefore, merchants, please to pay us by last line will pay us the freight before the goods are taken away. The same rule will be observed with canal freight when we have to pay on delivery. Bills lading should always be furnished us to avoid losses of packages. Hereafter we will charge the following commissions: 25 cents per 100 lbs., on all goods left in our care on side track; 5 cents per 100 lbs. when we handle or store goods, or check them off and receipt for them. Goods remaining in warehouse over ten days will pay extra storage. On all freight not paid when goods are taken away, we will charge three per cent. for collecting.

All outstanding amounts due us as freights we would like to have paid immediately.

J. IVORY & SON, Summit, March 11, 1852.

Youth and Manhood.—A vigorous life, or a PREMATURE DEATH.

Kinkelin on Self Preservation.

ONLY 25 CENTS.

This Book, just published, is filled with useful information, on the infirmities and diseases of the Generative Organs. It addresses itself alike to Youth, Manhood and Old Age. To all who apprehend or suffer under the dire consequences of early or prolonged indiscretions—to all who feel the exhaustive effects of sedentary and baneful habits—to all who in addition to declining physical energy, are the victims of nervous and mental debility, and of moping and melancholy despondency. Dr. K. would say—

READ THIS BOOK.

The valuable advice and impressive warning it gives, will prevent years of misery and suffering, and save annually Thousands of Lives. Parents by reading it, will learn how to prevent the destruction of their children.

A remittance of 25 cents, enclosed in a letter, prepaid, addressed to Dr. Kinkelin, N. W. corner of Third and Union Streets, between Spruce and Pine, Philadelphia, will ensure a book, under envelope, per return of mail.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. K., may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

Persons at a distance may address Dr. K. by letter, (post paid) and be cured at home. Packages of medicines, directions, &c., forwarded, by sending a remittance, and put up secure from damage or curiosity.
