

MOUNTAIN SENTINEL.

EBENSBURG, PA.

A Touching letter from a Murderer's Wife.

From the Mobile Tribune.
The following letter was written by the wife of the criminal Crist, shortly after he was arrested in Ohio, and brought to this city. It reached him in jail. It is a touching and womanly performance, and shows in every line that constant faith which, in the heart of a true wife—like the ivy to the oak in a storm—clings more closely as adversity falls around its object. We publish it literally, except a few changes in the punctuation. Guilty as Crist is, there must be in his nature some hidden source of gentleness. No perfectly evil thing could prompt such attachment as this affecting letter betrays.

CLEVELAND, April 7, 1862.
My Dearest Husband:—I have been very miserable since they took you away. When you were here, and I could have the happiness of seeing my own darling sometimes, I was better satisfied; but now my heart is almost crushed. They have torn you from me so suddenly and unexpectedly, that I can hardly realize my situation. Can it be possible that we are never to meet again upon earth? Oh, my darling, it has been but two short years since we stood at the altar, surrounded by our friends, and we the happiest of the happy—and since that, dearest, we have enjoyed each other's society so much! and now that this dreadful sorrow should descend upon our heads to crush our future hopes—Oh, my God! no wonder I cannot realize my miserable situation. But I must not give way in this manner. I promised you that I would not give up until they proved you guilty. I hope they will never do that. I cannot believe you would commit so horrible a crime as you are charged with. One who has always been so kind to his family and friends, and always so tender-hearted, could never raise his hand against his fellow man, unless in self-defense.—But the one who murdered "Nye" did not do that; so it cannot be my darling husband. No—never, never!

But dearest, if you did commit the crime, I beg of you as a husband and father, to tell me before you die, so I can be better satisfied; for, Oh, God, knows that if they hang an innocent man, and I should be convinced of the fact, my reason would depart forever, and they would have the blood of two innocent persons to answer for. But if you are hung, and confess that you are guilty, then I would be better satisfied, because I could not blame them for doing their duty—although I shall never feel any different towards you than I do at present; for you have always been to me a kind, beloved husband. I cannot feel aught towards you but love and respect, whether you live or die—but, as I said before, I can't believe you guilty until they prove you such; and I hope you will convince them of your innocence, so that we may meet again and continue to live happily together in this world—and when we die, that we may be joined together in heaven, is the prayer of your once happy, but now really afflicted wife.

I presume Andrew did not go with you, but I presume he will go down immediately and do his best towards having the matter thoroughly investigated. I had no idea that McGibbons would leave so suddenly. He promised to let father know when he was going, but instead of doing as he should have done, he went off without one article of clothing for you. I presume he was afraid they would mob him for shooting Fuller. I intended sending your clothes down that morning, when the word came you were gone. You left word to send them to Cincinnati, but McGibbons said he intended stopping at Cincinnati over Sunday, so there was no use in sending them there.

After Clarence had gone to sleep last night, he opened his eyes and called papa, as though he was dreaming of you. I told the dear little angel that papa had gone away. He went to sleep again, and presently he opened his eyes again, and called papa! papa! It made me feel sorrowful, I could not sleep. It almost kills me to think that perhaps we may never see you again. Dearest, I pray every night that God would forgive your sins, and receive you in heaven, if it is to be your fate to die—which I also pray that it may not be. I hope the jailer will be kind to you, and let you write to me often.—I have not heard one word from you yet, but I presume it is not your fault. I know you will write to me if you can.

We are all well, and I hope you are the same. Mother and Miranda do not believe you guilty. They send their love to you. Accept my whole love dearest. I am so overcome with sorrow, that I can write no more to day. Good bye.—May we meet again soon. God bless you, and keep you safe!

From your dearest, faithful wife,
LUCRETTIA CRIST.

TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF FRANK PIERCE.—Major Stevens, a gallant officer of the United States Army, recently published a spirited pamphlet, in reviews, with great ability, the military operations of the army during the eventful campaign against Mexico. His descriptions of the battles of Contreras and Churubusco, are particularly full and interesting. He thus speaks of the gallant Pierce:

"Simultaneously with the movement of Cadwalader, two regiments under P. Rice, at the request of Twiggs, were ordered to the front. They advanced with great spirit, and under the guidance of the engineer-officers, seized the ravine within four hundred yards of the camp. The hold demonstration in front, and particularly the daring and prompt movement of Pierce, distracting the attention of the enemy, was Riley's safety in his isolated position encountering the lanceers; it being remembered that Cadwalader was still struggling through the Pedregal."

The New York Day Book, (Webster Whig) says that New York will go Democratic by at least 16,000 majority.

CLOTHING!

Who wants bargains!
EVANS & HUGHES.

Have just received from Philadelphia at their Clothing store in Ebensburg, a large assortment of SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING.
Among which may be enumerated a fine lot of cassimere, alpaca, tweed and fine cloth coats, dress, sack and habit cloth coats of every variety and color; a very large stock of satin and cassimere pantaloons of every description, and a good assortment of silk, satin and cassimere vests, together with every kind of boys clothing.

Also, fine and coarse shirts, handkerchiefs, silk shirts, stocks, umbrellas, leghorn, palm leaf, straw and silk hats, caps, &c., all of which they will dispose of on the most reasonable terms. They have also on hand a large stock of cloths, cassimere and vestings, which they are prepared to make up in the most workmanlike manner, and on the most accommodating terms for cash or approved country produce. The entire stock of clothing is made up according to the latest fashions.

Having selected their goods with great care and purchased on the lowest cash terms, they are prepared to accommodate their friends and customers with clothing of a superior quality and at lower prices than goods of a similar quality were ever sold in this county.
The public are respectfully invited to call and examine their goods.
may 20, 1852.

This is not in fun!

We want money, particularly that which has been due for some time. Will those indebted to us please call and settle their accounts during this month and pay us all they can. Our books must be settled, and until they are, we must positively refuse to add anything more to long standing accounts. Experience proves that in doing a credit business, if you leave accounts run over six months or a year, there is difficulty in settling.
The books of the former firms of J. Ivory and J. Ivory & Co., will be left in the hands of an officer for collection by the 1st April, if those indebted do not call and pay their accounts by that time.
JOHN IVORY & SON.

Commission and Forwarding.

After the 16th inst., we will be obliged to pay Penna. Railroad Co. freight upon the delivery of merchandise; therefore, persons receiving goods by that line will pay us the freight before the goods are taken away. The same rule will be observed with canal freight when we have to pay on delivery. Bills lading should always be furnished us to avoid losses of packages. Hereafter we will charge the following commissions: 34 cents per 100 lbs., on all goods left in our care on side track; 5 cents per 100 lbs. when we handle or store goods, or check them off and receipt for them. Goods remaining in warehouse over ten days will pay extra storage. On all freight not paid when goods are taken away, we will charge three per cent. for collecting.
All outstanding amounts due for us as freights we would like to have paid immediately.

Youth and Manhood.—A vigorous life, or a PREMATURE DEATH.

Kinkelin on Self Preservation.

ONLY 25 CENTS.

This Book, just published, is filled with useful information, on the infirmities and diseases of the Generative Organs. It addresses itself alike to Youth, Manhood and Old Age. To all who apprehend or suffer under the dire consequences of early or prolonged indiscretions—to all who feel the exhaustive effects of sedentary and baneful habits—to all who in addition to declining physical energy, are the victims of nervous and mental debility, and of moping and melancholy despondency. Dr. K. would say—

READ THIS BOOK.

The valuable advice and impressive warning it gives, will prevent years of misery and suffering, and save annually Thousands of Lives. Parents by reading it, will learn how to prevent the destruction of their children.
A remittance of 25 cents, enclosed in a letter, prepaid, addressed to Dr. Kinkelin, N. W. corner of Third and Union Streets, between Spruce and Pine, Philadelphia, will ensure a book, under envelope, per return of mail.

He who places himself under the care of Dr. K., may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.
