THE CLOCK IN THE CORNER.

BY H. DE COLSEK.

I thought in my school boy days foresooth,
That the clock was a living thing,
That it had a tongue that would speak the truth,
To tell its tales upon transient youth,
In the book-hiding days of spring.

And I peered with fear on its characterized face,
To watch the spirit within,
That was running its round with ceaseless race,
And beating the time with a miniature mace,
As if overjoyed at the din.

I marked its voice when the dear ones died,
As it ticked to their latest breath,
And when they passed to the bourne untrod,
It seemed to follow with unmeasured stride,
Their spirit after death.

How it rung and echoed my marriage chime,
On that merriest summer morn,
When the skies were brighter than eastern clime,
And hearts beat fast for the coming time,
And the future yet unborn!

And when 'mid storm and midnight wild,
On the dark and moaning earth,
There came to our love a fair-haired child—
Its monitor face beamed brightly and smiled,
To mark the moment of birth.

Thou art old, but I love thy very decay,
As thou stidest an ancient mine,
On the wooden seat near the kitchen way,
When, for many a year and many a day,
They have come to ask "the time."

Keep time old horologe till age
Shall close thy master's eye;
And when thou art left in the latest stage;
To tremble alone, 'mid the elements' rage,
Oh, then run down—and die.

Narrow Escape.

Mr. Charles P. Davis, (son of Capt. Charles M. Davis of this city,) recently returned from a voyage to the East Indies, met with a most remarkable adventure, while lying in the river Hoogly, last fall. He was attached to the ship John Merrick, Capt. Stevens, bound from Calcutta to London. The ship had dropped down the river to a large island not far from its mouth called Sagua, or Tiger Island—and having been informed that deer were to be found quite numerous on the island, Davis, with the ship's pilot, the skipper of the lighter, one other white man, and four natives, went ashore to hunt for them, each armed with a gun. After a half hour's ramble, they got sight of the heads and antlers of a number of deer, which were feeding on the opposite side of a hollow, behind a thicket or jungle of low brushwood. Concealed by this jungle, the hunters were creeping stealthily in single file, towards the game, when Davis was started by the cry of "tiger mass!" from one of the natives, and turned his head just in time to see the glaring eyes of a monstrous Bengal tiger, that with claws outspread and mouth wide open, was coming down upon him, having made a flying leap from contiguous jungle. Instantly the jaws of the fierce animal were closed upon his arm near the shoulder, but fortunately the stock of the gun was taken into its mouth in connection with the arm, whereby the limb was in a measure saved from harm.—The huge beast did not stand for trifles, but trotted away him gun and all, as easily as a cat would carry a mouse. Davis grasped the animal's throat with his left hand, but he might as well have seized the gambrel of an ox, or an iron bar, for all the harm he could do him, at the same time he shouted lustily for his companions to shoot at the tiger, but fearing the shots might take effect upon himself instead of the beast, they forebore. His own gun, however, proved his salvation, for the barrel which extended its whole length from one side of the tiger's mouth, occasionally digging into the ground, induced the animal at length to drop him, for the purpose, apparently of taking a better hold. At this instant a ball from the well aimed pipe of one of Davis's comrades struck the tiger, wounding him severely, and with a roar that made the echoes ring again, he darted into the thicket, and they saw no more of him. Davis's arm was lacerated severely, and it bled so profusely that before they could get him to the river he fainted. His comrades hurried with him on board the English ship Monarch, of London, which was lying in the stream, and which had a surgeon on board, where the proper remedies restored him to consciousness, and his wounds were dressed, so that in a few days he was able to attend to his duties on ship board.

The deep scars and blackened indentations on his arm still give evidence of the fearful grip of the tiger—and he will carry them to his grave.

Whig Remonstrations in the Interior of New York.

The Courtland Democrat publishes the following extract from a letter to an old citizen of that village, dated at Sheridan, New York, June 15. The writer, the Democrat says, has always been a whig of the strictest sect:

"I have made up my mind to come out fearlessly and boldly for the Democratic nominee—Gen. Franklin Pierce. * * * Give my compliments to—, and tell him I have abandoned whiggery and the woolly-headed party and sentiments, to all intents and purposes, and a good many in this section of country are doing the same. Hurrah for General Pierce!"

The following is an extract from a letter written by a leading and influential whig merchant of New York:

"I have this moment been informed of the nomination of Gen. Scott by the Whig Convention. This is a death-blow to the whig party, or, at least, to any hope of a whig administration for a long time to come. During our long acquaintance you have always known me a whig of the strongest kind, but I cannot now continue in the whig ranks. I therefore am desirous of enlisting under the banner of Pierce and King; and I pledge myself to give them my hearty support."

GREAT COUNTRY THIS.

The Maine Liquor Law Defeated.

The subscriber, thankful for past favors, would respectfully inform his friends and the public in general, that he has removed his store to the room formerly occupied by H. J. McDonald as a Catholic Book Store, where he has just received and is now opening, the largest and most fashionable assortment of ready made ever offered for sale in this vicinity. His stock consists in part of Coats of all kinds and sizes, from 1.50 up to 20 dollars; Pants from 1 to 7 dollars; Vests from 50 cents to 6 dollars; Drawers of all kinds, under-shirts, Sailor's blue shirts, hickory shirts, and a very fine article of white shirts with imported bosoms; standing collars, suspenders, gloves, men's cravats, and silk and linen pocket handkerchiefs; Men's and Boys' HATS AND CAPS.

Boots and Shoes. A superior article of Ladies Morocco Shoes, and seal and kid slippers; carpet bags, and in fact everything that is necessary for taste or comfort. Also, a small sprinkling of Groceries, a little too cheap. All of the above stock was purchased in the eastern cities, from the largest and best made goods to be found and selected with great care.

Believing that quick sales and small profits is the surest and best way to do business, I am determined to sell all my goods at lower prices than any other establishment in these "diggins." My terms are and the balance before the goods are taken away. I will charge nothing for showing my goods, and only ask persons to give me a call, and they cannot fail to be pleased. COME ON ONE AND ALL!

J. MOORE.
Ebensburg, April 28, 1851.

This is not in fun!
We want money, particularly that which has been idle for some time. Will those indebted to us please call and settle their accounts during this month and pay us all they can. Our books must be settled, and until they are, we must positively refuse to add any thing more to long standing accounts. Experience proves that in doing a credit business, if you leave accounts run over six months or a year, that there is difficulty in settling.

The books of the former firms of J. Ivory and J. Ivory & Co., will be left in the hands of an officer for collection by the 1st April, if those indebted do not call and pay their accounts by that time.

$500 CHALLENGE.

WHATEVER concerns the health and happiness of a people is at all times of most valuable importance. I take it for granted that every person will do all in their power, to save the lives of their children, and that every person will endeavor to promote their own health at all sacrifices. I feel it to be my duty to solemnly assure you that worms, according to the opinions of the most celebrated Physicians, are the primary causes of a large majority of diseases to which children and adults are liable; if you have an appetite continually changeable from one kind of food to another, Bad Breath, Pain in the Stomach, Picking at the Nose, Hardness and Fullness of the Belly, Dry Cough, Slow Fever, Pulse Irregular—remember that all these denote worms, and you should at once apply the remedy:—

Hobensack's Worm Syrup.
An article founded upon Scientific Principles, compounded with purely vegetable substances, being perfectly safe when taken, and can be given to the most tender Infant with decided beneficial effect, whereas Emetic Complaints and Diarrhoea have made them weak and debilitated. The Tonic properties of my Worm Syrup are such that it stands without an equal in the catalogue of medicines in giving tone and strength to the Stomach, which makes it an infallible remedy for those afflicted with Diarrhoea, the astonishing cures performed by this Syrup after Physicians have failed, is the best evidence of its superior efficacy over all others.

THE TAPE WORM!
This is the most difficult Worm to destroy, all that infests the human system, grows to an almost indefinite length, becoming so coiled and fastened in the Intestines and Stomach, effecting the health so sadly as to cause St. Vitus Dance, Fits, &c., that those afflicted seldom if ever succeed in its eradication. In order to destroy this Worm, a very energetic treatment must be pursued, it would therefore be proper to take 6 or 8 of my Liver Pills so as to remove all obstructions, that the Worm Syrup may act direct upon the Worm, which must be taken in doses of 2 Tablespoonfuls 3 times a day these directions followed have never been known to fail in curing the most obstinate case of Tape Worm.

Hobensack's Liver Pills.
No part of the system is more liable to disease than the Liver, it serving as a filter to purify the blood, or giving the proper secretion to the bile; so that any wrong action of the Liver effects the other important parts of the system, and results variously, in Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, &c. We should, therefore, watch every symptom that might indicate a wrong action of the Liver. These Pills being composed of Rhosa & Ficus, furnished by nature to heal the sick; namely, 1st, An Emetic, which augments the secretion from the Pulmonary mucous membrane, or promotes the discharge of secreted matter. 2nd, An Alternative, which changes in some inexplicable and insensible manner the certain morbid action of the system. 3rd, A Tonic, which gives tone and strength to the nervous system, renewing health and vigor to all parts of the body. 4th, A Cathartic, which acts in perfect harmony with the other ingredients, and operating on the Bowels, and expelling the whole mass of corrupt and vitiated matter, and purifying the Blood, which destroys disease and restores health.

TO FEMALES.
You will find these Pills an invaluable medicine in many complaints to which you are subject.—In obstruction either total or partial, they have been found of estimable benefit, restoring their natural arrangements to a healthy action, purifying the blood and other fluids so effectually to put to flight all complaints which may arise from female irregularities, as headache, giddiness, dimness of sight, pain in the side back, &c.

None genuine unless signed J. N. Hobensack, all others being base imitation.

Agents wishing new supplies, and Store Keepers desirous of becoming Agents must address the Proprietor, J. N. Hobensack, Philadelphia, Pa.

For sale by Murray, Zahm & Co., and E. Hughes, Ebensburg; A. Durbin, Munster; Johnson, Johnstown; McCloskey, Summitville; Enoch Rees, six miles west of Ebensburg; and by every respectable dealer in the State.

Keyser & McDowell, wholesale agents, No. 140 Wood Street, Pittsburg, who will supply agents at the Price of 25 cents per 100.

Price, each 25 cents per 100.
