Bunday Amusement in New Orleans.

FIGHT BETWEEN JACKS AND THREE BULLDOGS.—Yesterday at Gretna, opposite the Fourth district, was assembled, according to previous notice, one of the largest crowds of the season, to witness the extraordinary exhibition of a fight between a jacks and three bulldogs. All the avenues of approach to the field of combat, were crowded with thousands of spectators. A crowd of unwashed ruffians had ever been drawn together there for any purpose, either good or bad. The ferret-bait was crowded to overflowing, and plying backward with an extra head of steam, in order to make quick time and accommodate the rush. The cars of Lafayette went loaded each trip, with men and women, and snufflin juveniles, shedding tears of anxiety for fear of missing the fun. The omnibuses did a thriving business, and where they were unable to accommodate the number, the streets and thoroughfares were thronged with steaming pedestrians, moving with coats off and hats in hand—going it with a rush.

The vast arena, where the now Olympiad was to be enacted, and where four footed bestials were to emulate the ferocity of their instructor, man—was soon filled with its thousands. The staid and sober denizens paid their "quarter," and walked in right leisurely, with wives, sweethearts and daughters hanging on their stalwart arms, while "Young America," scoring the ordinary bars of gates and fences, and glowering in the progressive principle, clambered over the walls, and wormed through the openings—going it free. There was no lack of old men and women, youths and bright-eyed lasses, though a huge need, we wot well, of soap and water.

The combatants advertised to contend for the crown of victory were a live jacks from the crabgrass pastures in and around the rural Gretna—small and checked in growth—bearing the name of "Rough and Ready," and three butcher dogs of the most savage kind. Rough he was called—the jacks—as his coat indicated, and ready with hoof and heel, as the skins of his canine competitors afterwards abundantly testified. The dogs were a savage looking trio—two of the bull terrier kind, with jaws fit to crush the bones of giants, and the third—a blood-hound, strong and well built, with demonic eyes that glared out a fierce and lurid fire. The three had been bred in butcher stalls, and learned the taste of blood to lap it with a fierce delight.

The animals were placed in a circle two hundred feet in circumference—the dogs being leashed and held by biped comrades—while the jacks, unattached, grazed around the arena, wandering "at his own sweet will," after the fashion of his fathers from immemorial time. At a given signal the dogs were let loose, one at a time, and, in turn, dashed at the jacks, each one making passes at his nose. Simple and stupid, as jacks are supposed to be—and of a surety they are a generation much abused and little appreciated in this regard—the individual in question was "up to snuff," and quietly raising his prosaic to keep it out of harm's way, went to work with his fore foot and heels with a precision that argued science at every blow. In a little less than no time the first dog was "no whar," for the jacks, after sundry feints and dodges, and scientific manoeuvring, sent in a facer that took Boseat the root of the neck, knocking his shoulder out of joint, and rolling him over like a ball. Bose would have "battered" nuff," but singing out against the principal of his plucky breed, and he raised himself for another onset.

At this point a second dog was let loose, and then a third, and the three went it around the course—jacks with his head erect, and stirring up the canines with an energy that made them howl. At him they dashed, like wolves from the Apennines, biting at his throat, making the hairy fly and the blood to placidly "nuff," but at this point it was apparent that the jacks had it all his own way, and could lick up all his enemies like salt; when an interesting crowd of the spectators, fraternizing with the canines, broke into the enclosure, and laying violent hands on the jacks, so encumbered him in the free use of his heels that the blood-hound got him by the throat and brought him to the ground (as a red headed Hooster expressed it) "kerflop!" This was too much even for the stonion of the dog, and, imitating the example of a remote progenitor of him bestride by Balaam—"opened his mouth and spoke!" Jack "gave tongue," and brayed out a bray that startled the slumbering echoes! Then there was another rush of the mad crowd, and so filled was the arena by bipeds and quadrupeds that it was impossible to see. A minute afterwards, the crowd having cleared away, the dogs were again in leash, and the jacks stood erect in the midst of his enemies, unconcerned and stupid, torn in hair and hide, and bleeding at every pore.

What further transpired, we were unable to see, for the great majority of the crowd, disgusted to heart-sickness, left the ground.

Whether dog or jacks were declared victor we judge is of little importance to the public as to the parties concerned—the whole affair being a most savage and disgraceful exhibition, and getting no more credit from the stonion of the community.

Take it all in all, the whole affair was of a most revolting character, as cruel to the beasts that played therein their senseless and unwilling parts, as to its originators it was disgraceful.—Having to do with the affair only as a fact, we mention it—being responsible neither for the gross immortality of the exhibition nor for the consciences of the authorities who permit such scenes, and on such a day.

Any way, we would go our pile, at two to one, that turn the animals together and barring biped interference and biased sympathy, the jacks would "fan out" the crowd! Who'll bet?

Horrible Affair.

The Lawrenceburg, Indiana, Register says that on the evening of the 7th inst., a most horrible murder was committed in Logan township, of Dearborn county. Samuel Hodge and his wife had been in the habit of drinking very freely, and, as a matter of course, quarreling very fiercely. Blows and abuse had frequently passed between them, when, on the night of which we speak, they came to a crisis which ended the existence of the unfortunate husband. Every circumstance pointed out the wife as the murderer. The floor, the table and the bed upon which he lay—all were smeared with blood.—An iron wedge and a hatchet, thoroughly dyed in gore, were discovered in the room. There were eight or ten large wounds upon the victim's head, five of which penetrating the skull, would either of them have caused death. Beside these, a large number of small punctured wounds covered the face and head, showing a fiendish determination to complete the murder, for they must have been inflicted while the man was in a state of insensibility.

Two wounds were found upon the woman; one in each temple, which bore the appearance of having been inflicted by a hatchet. She stated that she knocked her down with the hatchet, and that she lay insensible for some time. When she awoke she found him upon the bed murdered.—Whether she killed him in self-defence, or taking advantage of him in his drunken slumber and then inflicted the fatal blows, remains with him who sees all things; but look at it as we will, everything points to her as the perpetrator of the deed.

$500 CHALLENGE.

WHATEVER concerns the health and happiness of a people is at all times of most valuable importance. I take it for granted that every person will do all in their power, to save the lives of their children, and that every person will endeavor to promote their own health at all sacrifices. I feel it to be my duty to solemnly assure you that worms, according to the opinions of the most celebrated Physicians, are the primary causes of a large majority of diseases to which children and adults are liable; if you have an appetite continually changeable from one kind of food to another, Bad Breath, Pain in the Stomach, Picking at the Nose, Hardness and Fullness of the Belly, Dry Cough, Slow Fever, Pulse Irregular—remember that all these denote worms, and you should at once apply the remedy:—

Hobensack's Worm Syrup.

An article founded upon Scientific Principles, compounded with purely vegetable substances, being perfectly safe when taken, and can be given to the most tender Infant with decided beneficial effect, where Bowel Complaints and Diarrhea have made them weak and debilitated. The Tonic properties of my Worm Syrup are such that it stands without an equal in the catalogue of medicines in giving tone and strength to the Stomach, which makes it an infallible remedy for those afflicted with Dyspepsia, the astonishing cures performed by this Syrup after Physicians have failed, is the best evidence of its superior efficacy over all others.

THE TAPE WORM!

This is the most difficult Worm to destroy of all that infest the human system, it grows to an almost indefinite length becoming so coiled and fastened in the Intestines and Stomach effecting the health so sadly as to cause St. Vitus Dance, Fits, &c., that those afflicted seldom if ever suspect that it is Tape Worm hastening them to an early grave. In order to destroy this Worm, a very energetic treatment must be pursued, it would therefore be proper to take 6 or 8 of my Liver Pills so as to remove all obstructions, that the Worm Syrup may act direct upon the Worm, which must be taken in doses of 2 Tablespoonfuls 3 times a day these directions followed have never been known to fail in curing the most obstinate case of Tape Worm.

Hobensack's Liver Pills.

No part of the system is more liable to disease than the Liver, it serving as a filterer to purify the blood, or giving the proper secretion to the bile; so that any wrong action of the Liver effects the other important parts of the system, and results variously, in Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, &c. We should, therefore, watch every symptom that might indicate a wrong action of the Liver. These Pills being composed of Acacia & Planta furnished by nature to heal the sick. Namely, 1st. An Expectorant, which augments the secretion from the Pulmonary mucus membrane, or promotes the discharge of secreted matter. 2nd. An Alterative, which changes in some inexplicable and insensible manner the certain morbid action of the system. 3rd. A Tonic, which gives tone and strength to the nervous system, renewing health and vigor to all parts of the body. 4th. A Cathartic, which acts in perfect harmony with the other ingredients, and operating on the Bowels, and expelling the whole mass of corrupt and vitiated matter, and purifying the Blood, which destroys disease and restores health.

TO FEMALES.

You will find these Pills an invaluable medicine in many complaints to which you are subject.—In obstructions either total or partial, they have been found of estimable benefit, restoring their functional arrangements to a healthy action, purifying the blood and other fluids so effectually to put to flight all complaints which may arise from female irregularities, as headache, giddiness, dimness of sight, pain in the side back, &c.

CONSUMPTION DISMISSED OF ITS TERRORS!!

HASTINGS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF NAPHTHA.

A quick and positive Cure for Consumption, decline, asthma, spitting of blood, night sweats, husky throat, wasting of the flesh, bronchitis, coughs, colds, and all diseases of the chest and lungs.

This celebrated preparation is pleasant to the taste, and is so speedy in its operations that patients plainly feel its good effects in a few minutes after taking the first dose.

Hastings' Compound Syrup of Naphtha

Is now acknowledged by all the ablest physicians of both hemispheres to be a quick and positive remedy for arresting the formation of tubercles on the lungs; and removing those already formed; and also to be the speediest and most effective of all medicinal agents in the cure of all other diseases of the throat, chest and lungs. Language cannot express the value of Hastings' Naphtha Syrup in these diseases. It not only cures them effectually, but it gives immediate evidence of its ability to do so; for in a few minutes after the first dose has been taken, the patient feels that a powerful agent is in the system, strongly working for his good. Its operations are never delayed;—it at once flies to, and attacks the root of the disease with an energy unknown to other medicines; and that disease must be deeply seated indeed which can resist its unrivalled influence. Hence it has frequently cured a painful cough in a day, which had defied other popular remedies for a month; and has removed difficulty of breathing and pain in the throat and chest, in a few minutes, by the surprising energy of its action in clearing the passages of bile and phlegm. It is believed that no person has given Hastings' Naphtha Syrup a trial, who has not felt benefit from it, and acknowledged its virtues. And this conviction is further established by the opinions of the London Lancet, London Medical Times, and most other responsible publications, devoted to the same interests. Until the appearance of the Naphtha Syrup, the medical faculty had always regarded Consumption as an incurable disease, and the records of medical science exhibited no authenticated case that weighed seriously against that opinion. Since Dr. Hastings' discovery, however, of the new and greatest property of Naphtha, when united with other ingredients, nearly a thousand cases of absolute phthisis positively cured through its agency, have been substantiated; and this well established fact, in connection with a mass of experiments successfully made of its virtues by the ablest physicians of Europe, clearly prove that Hastings' Compound Syrup of Naphtha is a positive cure for Consumption, even in its worst stages. Three of the main causes of this disease of Naphtha have been discovered. They are its extraordinary sublimity, strength, and pervasiveness; for the moment it is received into the system, it extends itself throughout, making a passage of every pore, no matter how much clogged up; they may have previously been by foreign substances. Hence it operates on the diseased lungs by dislodging the particles of corruption in the strength of its ascent to the upper regions of the frame and thus producing through ventilation; and hence it is a never failing remedy in oppression of the chest and difficulty in breathing; person thus affected, feeling after taking it, as if it had forced a passage through some channel which their disease had stopped up, and the re-opening of which was the only result necessary to the restoration of health. Such indeed, are the promptness of action and energy of Hastings' Naphtha Syrup, in all the diseases for which it is recommended, that from the time they commence taking it patients know an effect nearly the reverse of that which attends the earlier use of every other known medicinal remedy. For Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Night Sweats, Pains in the Breast, Back, &c., spitting of blood, bilious and asthmatic Affections, it is also admitted to be the speediest and most vigorous and effective remedy extant; and its effect in all Asthmatic complaints is equally decisive and remarkable. Lassitude of the mind; flatulency and wasting of the flesh; and all disposition to inactivity and melancholy forebodings, are also quickly corrected by the Naphtha Syrup; which, in a wonderful manner revives the spirits, corrected by the flesh and muscles—braces the nerves and increases the weight. Thus, those who use it according to directions, generally increase its weight about a pound a week; and who may take it for no other purpose than the dissipation of melancholy, or the increase of bodily strength. In fine, a single trial of Hastings' Compound Syrup of Naphtha, is all that is required to secure the confidence of patients, and cause them to forego all other remedies in its favor. The syrup is made up in six ounce bottles, each accompanied with a pamphlet, containing directions, certificates, &c. Price one dollar each, or six bottles packed up in a box, and ready for transportation to any part of the world, can be had for five dollars.

N. B.—Hastings' Naphtha Syrup, being a very expensive preparation, cannot be left with Agents on sale, or return, as is the case with the majority of the quack nostrums of the day, which cost little more than the price of the bottles. Persons who want it to sell again must pay cash for it, with the usual commission off. Therefore patients who cannot obtain it in the places where they reside, should write to us direct for a supply, and we will forward it to them without delay (packed up in a manner to secure its safe delivery) provided they can be reached by Express. Route, or any other mode of conveyance. In fine, all letters must be post paid—contain the price, of the number of bottles ordered, and be directed to C. V. CLICKENER & CO., No. 81 Barclay Street, New York, who are Dr. Hastings' general Agents for America.

Read the following Letters:

New York, October 1, 1850.

I have made a chemical examination of the Vegetable Powder prepared by Mr. Emanuel Lyon for the purpose of destroying insects. I do not find it to contain anything deleterious to health, or that might be considered poisonous to the human species; but it is very destructive to insects, whenever they are forced to inhale the fine particles of dust occasioned by throwing the Powder, forcibly in places where they frequent.

JAMES B. CHILTON, M. D. Chemist.

New York, Hospital, June 9, 1850.

I have analyzed Emanuel Lyon's Magnetic Powders for the destruction of insects, and certify that it is entirely free from mineral or other corrosive poison. As the result of my examination I would say that is a combination of various vegetable substances having a peculiar influence on the insect kingdom, and that it may be used with perfect safety. In reference to its utility, its effects are astonishing. I believe it to be a skillfully prepared substance by which a valuable result is obtained, which does effect what Mr. Lyon says, and is well deserving of public patronage.

LAWRENCE REID, Professor of Chemistry.

New York Hospital, June 1, 1850.

Dear Sir:—It affords me great pleasure in stating that I have extensively used your Powder for the destruction of insects of all kinds, (especially Bed Bugs and Roaches) and unhesitatingly pronounce it the best and only article so effectual in its operation. I have also experimented with your Pills, and find them equal in all respects with your statements. Hoping that you may prosper, I remain your friend.

JOHN L. ROOMIE, Sup't. N. Y. Hospital.

CINCINNATI, October 9, 1850.

We procured from Mr. B. H. Meakings, some of Lyon's Magnetic Powder and Pills and cheerfully certify as to its perfect efficacy in destroying Roaches and Rats within a few minutes after its application. It is the most simple, yet perfect remedy we have ever seen.

VAYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For the Cure of
COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS,
BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

To cure a cold, sore throat and soreness of the body, take the Cherry Pectoral on going to bed, and wrap up warm, to sweat during the night.

For a cold and cough, take it morning, noon, and evening, according to directions on the bottle, and the difficulty will soon be removed.—None will long suffer from this trouble when they find it can be so readily cured. Persons afflicted with a seated cough, which breaks them of their rest at night, will find, by taking the Cherry Pectoral on going to bed, they may be sure of sound, unbroken sleep, and consequently refreshing rest. Great relief from suffering, and an ultimate cure, is afforded to thousands who are thus afflicted, by this invaluable remedy.

From its agreeable effect in these cases, many find themselves unwilling to forego its use when the necessity for it has ceased.

From two eminent Physicians in FAVETTESVILLE, TENN., April, 16th, 1851.

Sr:—We have given your Cherry Pectoral an extensive trial in our practice, and find it to surpass every other remedy we have for curing affections of the respiratory organs.

DRS. DIEMER & HAMPTON.

T. Singers and public speakers this remedy is invaluable, as by its action on the throat and lungs, when taken in small quantities, it removes all hoarseness in a few hours, and wonderfully increases the power and flexibility of the voice. Asthma is generally much relieved, and often wholly cured by Cherry Pectoral. But there are some cases so obstinate as to yield entirely to no medicine. Cherry Pectoral will cure them, if they can be cured.

Bronchitis, or irritation of the throat and upper portion of the lungs, may cured by taking Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.—The uncomfortable oppression is soon relieved.

Rev. Doct. Lansing, of Brooklyn, New York, states:—

"I have seen the Cherry Pectoral cure such cases of Asthma and Bronchitis as leads me to believe it can rarely fail to cure those diseases."

For Croup. Give an emetic of antimony, to be followed by large and frequent doses of the Cherry Pectoral, until subsides the disease. If taken in season, it will not fail to cure.

Whooping cough may be broken up and soon cured by the use of Cherry Pectoral.

The influenza is speedily removed by this remedy. Numerous instances have been noticed where whole families were protected from any serious consequences, while their neighbors, without the Cherry Pectoral, were suffering from the disease.

SALEM, Oo., 11th, June 1851.
Doct. J. C. Ayer:—

I write to inform you of the truly remarkable effect of your Cherry Pectoral in this place, and in my own family. One of my daughters was completely cured in three days of a dreadful Whooping Cough, by taking it. Dr. Means, one of our very best physicians freely states that he considers it the best remedy we have for pulmonary diseases, and that he has cured more cases of Croup with it than any other medicine he ever administered.

Our clergyman of the Baptist Church says that during the run of Influenza here this season, he has seen cures from your medicine he could scarcely have believed without seeing it.

Yours respectfully,
J. D. SINGLAIR,
Deputy Postmaster.

From the distinguished Professor of Chemistry and Materia Medica Bowdoin College.

I have found the Cherry Pectoral, as its ingredients show, a powerful remedy for colds, and coughs, and pulmonary diseases.

PARKER CLEVELAND, M. D.
Brunswick, Me., Feb. 6, 1847.

THE widely celebrated Professor of Surgery in the Medical College, New York City, says:—

"It gives me pleasure to certify the value and efficacy of 'Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,' which I consider peculiarly adapted to cure diseases of the Throat and Lungs."

Cures of severe diseases upon the Lungs have been effected by Cherry Pectoral in such extreme cases as warrant the belief that a remedy has at length been found that can be depended on to cure the Coughs, Colds and Consumption which carry off so many thousands every year. It is indeed a medicine to which the afflicted can look with confidence for relief, and they should not fail to avail themselves of it.

STORR'S CHEMICAL HAIR INVIGORATOR.

This delightful and popular article in the best preparation for the hair which long experience and scientific research has produced, either as an article for the toilet, or its beneficial effects in all the diseases to which the human hair is liable. It will impart to the roughest and coarsest hair the most beautiful appearance, entirely cleansing it from all impurities.

But still we assert that it is the best article for the toilet of those who wish to retain the hair in all its youthful

it must not be forgotten that in all diseases of the hair or scalp, such as the falling of the hair, dandruff, pimples, or sores on the scalp, &c., it is, perhaps the article which has given decided satisfaction in every instance where it has been used.

Its operation in case of baldness is peculiarly active, so that, in numerous, where other remedies have been tried in vain, STORR'S CHEMICAL INVIGORATOR has superseded the ornaments of art, by reinstating, in full plenitude, the permanent gifts and graces of nature. It is possessed of a character wholly differing from the Oils, Grease, Restoratives, &c., which are now so numerously foisted on the public, under the pretence of being newly discovered for baldness, gray hair, &c.

Storr's Invigorator has now been tested for years, and its efficacy has been proved by thousands. Every year its reputation and sales have increased, until more of it is consumed annually than of any other preparation for the hair ever offered to the American public. It is compounded on strictly scientific principles, and the proprietor will stake his reputation on its efficacy.

Its extraordinary cheapness places it within the reach of the humblest family, and its conceded value insures it a place on the most luxurious toilet.
